THE RAILROAD OSTRICHES! To meet the competition of thou-sands of miles of new interurban electric lines the railroads of the middle west are adding to their steam rolling stock many mile-aminute gasoline motor cars for "lo-cal service." These have the sharply pointed prows of a racing motor boat and their windows are like portholes. The doors are at the sides. Each one has seats for the sides. Each one has seats for fifty-six passengers.

The installation of these cars has put new business life into many towns that formers had the benefit of only one or two passenger trains a day, and has gladdened the heart of many a suburbanite who had been denying himself the pleasure of theatres because he couldn't afford to sit up until 2 a.m. to get a train for until 2 a.m. to get a train for

The above extract is from The New York Herald. It describes a kind of do not want any kind of local sub-

The same attitude was not so long ago taken by the railroads in the trolley cars take the great bulk of biles take a lot more of it, and at last they have sat down and come to the conclusion that their best policy is to go after it; and nothing is so available to this end as the gascline motor cars, which are simply big automobiles on steam car wheels and steam branches leading into Toronto as well. Instead of fighting and discrediting and disowning the local or suburban passenger business the big railroads ought to be cultivating it as one of their available assets. In Canada, however, up to date this is the policy that the railroads have pursued name—

Commons, Mr. Buxton, speaking on labor exchanges, stated that the question of opening up communication that the railroads have pursued name—

We want to tell Mr. Hays and Sir Toronto city rails when the gauge is changed just the same as the electric radials will get on these rails as soon as the arrangement can be completed under the new franchise; and the Grand Trunk's gasoline cars, say from Oshawa, would come up on the Grand Trunk to the Queen-street crossing over the Don, would then get on the Queen-street line, come to Sherbournestreet and then circle the Belt Line, street and then circle the Belt Line, on Dec. 11 last "asked the magistrate or what would be better still, the passenger would get a transfer to any portion of the city, say for an addi-portion of the city, say for an addi-portion of the proceedings till the day portion. Street and then circle the Belt Line, on Dec. 11 last "asked the magistrate ington, Wellington Higgins, Catherine Methods, Florence Ushannon, Mabel Stewart, Florence L Shannon, Mabel Stewart, Florence L Shannon, Mabel Stewart, Orca Which resulted in the lynching of Carl Etherington, the "dry" detective. kind. In the same way the return car would start to go round the Belt Line, picking up passengers, and when they came to the main line of the railway would shoot out on it to the originating town.

The biggest ostriches yet in Canada are the railroad ostriches that have let and are letting the radials, the electrics and the automobiles take the bulk of the passenger business! The express business, and the mailcarrying, business will go next: then the smaller freight. Oh you ostriches!

We believed that the keeping qualities of beer sealed with corks was superior to that sealed with crown caps. To-day we positively know that retains its brilliancy, effervescence and flavor better when sealed with crown caps. We know this because we have tested thousands of bottles both ways. and these tests compel us to render a verdict in favor of crown caps. Besides, the crowns are infinitely more convenient to both the consumer, and the trade, Budweiser is always the same in quality no matter whether sealed with corks or crowns and is bottled only at our home plant in St. Louis.
