RIVERSIDES HELD

Western Team Showed Marvelous Speed in Exhibition Game at Arena.

Riversides held the Winnipeg Monarchs to a 3 all draw at the Arena last night. The westerners were without the services of Dick Irvin, the man who scored nine goals on his last appearance here, but Dick could hardly have showed more speed than that displayed by his team mates. The Monarchs showed more speed in last night's game than the Toronto fans have been treated to all year.

The western team played the puck at all times, and were hardly able to get the hang of things in the first period under O.H.A. rules. Riversides held them safe by using the body to good effect, but the Monarchs ran away from the local ice plot this year. It was even up in the third round.

up in the third round.

Riversides used a pretty combination in the first period and bored right in to the net. This style had Winnipeg baffled, and the locals ran in two counters from the sticks of Crane and Applegath. Winnipeg left it to individual effort in the first round with D. Hay showing a marvelous turn of speed.

It was all Monarchs in the second. They simply ran away from Riversides here. They used some combination and their shots were true and hard. Collett did some clever work, but two got by him. Marples and D. Hay were the scorers.

Each club scored a goal in the final period and play was even. Farquhar did some pretty saving from close quarters. Referee Sproule was hit over the heart in this period and laid out cold. The teams: 3)—Collett, goal; Merrick, Smith, defence; Noble, rover; Crane, centre; Applegath, right; Dopp, left.

Canadien supporters made quite a clean-up on the game at Ottawa, one man, F. V. Short, making $500. He dined Canadiens at the Chateau after the match. SATURDAY'S GAME.

Seats for Saturday's closing N.H.A. game at the Arena went briskly yesterday and prospects are for a big crowd when the new champions, Canadiens, and Torontos clash in the farewell championship battle of the season. A win for Toronto will put them up in fourth place. Holmes and Foyston, the Coast League stars and ex-Toronto players, will play tomorrow. Both are keen to win and will present their strongest line-ups, and it will be a true test of their respective merits.

Soccer Clubs in U.S. Also Have Troubles

BOSTON, March 16.-There is a big fight impending in soccer circles. The coming annual meeting of the United States Football Association is likely to prove the occasion of a bitter contest in which the Massachusetts and New part.

Massachusetts has long been agitating for additional representation on the council of the national organization. It has been contended that either the Bay State should have another delegate, or that the number of delegates allotted to other sections should be reduced from to other sections should be reduced fro two to one in each case. The rul provide that state associations she have delegates, and, in addition, "and cup competition in existence previous the formation of the United Stat Football Association."

This would allow Massachusetts to more delegates in the council, as to Williamson Cup competition of Bost and the Massachusell Cup competition.

Canadiens will now play Portland at Montreal next week in the world's series and Stanley Cup games. The Ottawa, following a brilliant showing at Quebec Monday night, made every possible effort to stay in the fight by vanquishing Newsy Lalonde and his team, they were again outplayed by the visitors, Canadiens finally skating off victorious by a score of 5 goals to 1.

The Monarchs, against the Hamilton sections and districts of the country are given double representation in the council. In Chicago, for example, there is a governing body which was given recognition in February, the Chicago and District Association Football League. Also, that city has the Peel Challenge Cup commission, which has a representative on the council. Both of these organizations have the same clubs as tative on the council. Both of these organizations have the same clubs as members, and hence these clubs and that section have double voting power.

Then there is the American Football Association, which is only a cup competition. Its headquarters are in Newark, N.J., while there is the New Jersey State Football Association in the same lows: '3 p.m.—Kew Beach v. St. Pauls, senior group final. 4 p.m.—Kew Beach v. Dufferins, intermediate championship.

There will no doubt, be strenuous opposition from the sections mentioned when the Massachusetts proposals are made; but as this district has always been able to take care of itself, it is likely that the associations in this state will get another representative, or there will be only one voting representative for each section of the country where there is a governing body.

Japanese Ball Team Coming to America

eam of Waseda University of Tokio, Japan, which will visit this country durcoming spring at the invitation of the University of Chicago, leaves for the United States within the next two weeks. Reports from the orient are to the effect that the Japanese players are already in training and expect to demonstrate the strides that baseball has made in Japan in recent years by winning a number of games from the college nines of the Pacific coast and middle west. It is thought that the Waseda team will play its first game in this country late in April or early in May. The details of the itinerary are now being arranged by P. R. Des Jardien, former All-American football centre and star pitcher of the University of Chicago. Des Jardien will meet the Japanese players on their arrival at San Francisco and accompany them contracts. dien will meet the Japanese players on their arrival at San Francisco and accompany them eastward on the trip, which will end at Chicago, where a final series will be played with the University of Chicago team early in June.

During the invesion of Japan by the Maroon nine last year the teams of Chicago and Waseda met in a series of seven games, all of which were won by the Chicago collegians. A majority of the contests were hard fought, however, and the American players were forced to play high class ball in order to defeat their oriental opponents. During the series Chicago scored 30 runs to Waseda's seven, shutting out the Japs in four of the seven games. Because of these shutouts Chicago's average of 42-7 runs per game against Waseda's one run per game, gave the series a one-sided appearance, which was not borne out in the play.

Soldiers as Athletes Their Amateur Status

BELLEVILLE FAILED TO PROVE THE CHARGE

Hillman Eligible Under O.H.A. Residence Rule-Stephenson Reinstated.

The Ontario Hockey Association executive gave several hours to the hearing and consideration of the Belleville protest against Sarnia yesterday for the purpose of bringing out all the facts, tho the matter alleged in the protest was not of itself a violation of the rules at all. In the end it was found that the protest failed because of that fact, and because even the incident alleged was not sustained by the evidence. It was charged that, Hillman of the Sarnia team, who hails from Ottawa, was in the latter city one day during August, and the O.H.A. was asked to hold that this broke his right to play as a resident of Sarnia, where he had taken up residence and employment before the first of August, the limit date under the residence rule: The evidence of the Belleville trainer was the only thing offered in support of the charge, and this was denied on oath by Hillman, whose declaration and personel statement were that he had not hear there is a trainer to the charge of the belleville that he had not hear there is a trainer to the statement were that he had not hear there is a trainer to the statement were that he had not hear there is a trainer to the statement were that he had not hear there is a trainer to the statement were that he had not hear there is a trainer to the statement were that he had not hear there is a trainer to the statement were that he had not hear there is a trainer to the statement were that he had not hear the statement were that he had not hear there is the statement were of bringing out all the facts, tho the city one day during August, and the O.H.A. was asked to hold that this broke his right to play as a resident of Sarnia, where he had taken up residence and employment before the first of August, the limit date under the residence rule: The evidence of the Belleville trainer was the only thing offered in support of the charge, and this was denied on oath by Hillman, whose declaration and personel statement were that he had not been there in August or at any other time after going to Sarnia. A lot of hearsay evidence was received from persons, who would say nothing of their own knowledge, and the Belleville side was given every opportunity, but failed to produce anything worthy of consideration on that point. It would not have been any infraction of the rule if it were true that Hillman had been in Ottawa on the date alleged, unless he were there under such circumstances and for such a period of time as to give reason to believe that he had given up residence in Sarnia. The protest was accordingly dismissed, and the Belleville deposit forfeited.
