

exceptions, have been performed at both stations every Sunday. The congregations at Milton and Rustico average 50 and 60 each, but at Rustico not many of these are church people. During the summer, a series of week-day services was held, with much apparent benefit. The Sunday schools for the same period were also well sustained. The Parsonage has been improved, and a contract entered into for its completion by the 1st June next; towards the expense of which he hopes this Society will give its liberal aid. The collections amount to £5 1s. 6d.

CASCUMPEC, KILDARE, &c.

This mission, during the last few months, has been filled by the Rev. Mr. Dyer, lately from Newfoundland, who has not yet had time to urge upon his people the claims of this Society. Many, however, have expressed their willingness to subscribe, and, with praiseworthy punctuality, have already paid in advance half the annual sum promised towards Mr. Dyer's salary. The church at Kildare Capes is in progress, and it is the intention of the people to build a Parsonage at Cascumpec as soon as possible. Mr. Dyer holds services at Cascumpec Village and Cross Roads, at Tignish, and Kildare Cape and Bridge; and considering the distances many have to travel, they have always been well attended. Collections amount to £3 6s. 3d.

IN CONCLUSION,

Your Committee would remind you that as life,—active, stirring life, distinguishes the actions of the Church of England in every part of the earth, we must show ourselves worthy of our relation to her, by like zeal and faithfulness. Our Church, in her missionary efforts, spans the globe, and her influence mighty in the affections of the English people, is effecting much to elevate the tone of society, and to spread true religion throughout the world; let us who have so long been fostered by her generosity when young and feeble, now earnestly endeavor ourselves to follow her steps, and place the endowment of the Church on a firm basis.

The Church is a light set on a hill, the sober spirituality of our prayer book, the Scriptural character of our articles
