GERMANS FAVOR COOK; CRITICIZE PEARY'S WORDS

Hamburg, Sept. 16.—Commenting on the last interview with Commander Peary, sent out from Battle Harbor, Labrador, the Hamburger Nachrichten says: "These high sounding words have made an extremely unpleasant impression, and they will scarcely draw new friends to Commander Peary."

This exemplifies the general tone of the German press, which leans in this Polar controversy strongly to Dr. Cook, who is supported by the Hamburg Geographical society.

GERMAN AIRSHIP IN ACTION; KAISER PLEASSED

Emperor and Distinguished Guests, Including Winston Churchill at German Army Manoeuvres—Enemy's Position Studied From Airship and Wireless Report Sent to Earth

Mergentheim, Wurttemberg, Sept. 16.—Surrounded by a brilliant company, including the King of Wurttemberg, the Grand Duke of Baden and Hesse, Archduke Francis Ferdinand, Winston Spencer Churchill, and the Earl of Londale, Emperor William yesterday witnessed the dramatic appearance of the military dirigible Gross I, which emerged from the clouds overhanging the valley of the Tauber. Those on board of the dirigible saw the positions of the red army and transmitting their observations by wireless back to headquarters many miles in the rear.

The emperor was intensely interested, and watched with his field glasses every turn of the airship, which answered the helm gracefully. He spent several hours on a hill top after the development of the first decisive engagement between the red and blue armies. He partook with his guests of the hot lunch served from the cuisiniers' travelling kitchen as the imperial automobile kitchen was unable to climb the steep hill. Thousands of spectators who had gathered, were entertained by the sight of the brilliantly uniformed lieutenants opening meat cans and stirring soup.

The troops are responding excellently to the demands made on them. There have been few casualties. In spite of the wet weather, the emperor was so delighted with the performance of the Gross I, that he sent a message to Count Zeppelin to come to the manoeuvres from Frankfurt with the Zeppelin III.

It is SUGAR REFINERY HE SEEKS TO START HERE

F. C. Durant Confirms Report—Has Conference With Mayor and Board of Trade President Today.

The proposition laid before the mayor and common council a few weeks ago by Frederick C. Durant, of New York, for the establishment of a big industrial plant in this city, is likely to be taken up in earnest by the council.

Mr. Durant is here, accompanied by his wife, and this morning he had a lengthy conference in the mayor's office with the mayor and President W. E. Foster, of the board of trade.

Mr. Durant was more communicative than on his last visit. He said that he was desirous of establishing a sugar refinery, as the Times said some time ago, and that at least 300 hands would be employed. He was very favorably impressed with St. John as a location, and a Times man he said he hoped the project would go through.

Asked to give some details of the proposition, the extent of the plant and what he would expect from the city, he preferred not to make any statement just at present, as the matter was in the hands of the mayor and until he took some action he did not think it would be courteous to discuss the matter. Later on he will be pleased to give all the information desired.

It is learned that Mr. Durant had referred himself as was at the meeting of the immediate relatives, high school teachers and a few intimate lady friends. The home was beautifully decorated with flowers and pot plants.

Mr. and Mrs. Forsythe left on the C. P. R. for New York, where they will spend a few days before proceeding to their home in Havana. On their departure, a large number of friends were at the depot, and showers of rice and abundance of good wishes, sorceries on the track, and other tokens of good will were given.

The bride, who is a graduate of Dalhousie College, Halifax, is one of the most accomplished young ladies of Sussex. She was a teacher in the Sussex high school for the past two years, and at the close of last term, she handed in her resignation, and was held out every inducement for her to remain on the staff, thus showing that her services were much appreciated. She was also a member of the Presbyterian choir, and connected with several social functions. It is needless to say that she was greatly missed by her many friends.

The groom, who is a popular young man, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. MacIntyre, of St. John. He is a graduate of the University of Toronto, and is now employed as an accountant in the bank of Nova Scotia, remaining here for two years, when he was transferred to Halifax. In 1908 he was transferred back to Sussex as manager, and in January, 1909, he was transferred to St. John as assistant manager. While in Sussex Mr. Forsythe made many warm friends both in business circles and among the general public.

The groom's gift to his bride was a diamond crescent brooch, and to the bridesmaid a pearl brooch, and to the best man gold cuff links. The bride was the recipient of many valuable gifts, among them being a beautiful etching, presented by the teachers of the high school, a box of bon-bons by the members of the Mission Band, and a dozen sterling spoons from the "Younger Set Whist Club."

As to Libel

Mr. Hazen: "Are you saying they are not libelous?"

Mr. Ritchie: "Certainly."

Mr. Baxter: "I don't propose to have my learned friend come to me from Nova Scotia and lecture me as to how to conduct a case."

Mr. Ritchie: "Oh, you don't?"

Mr. Hazen: "No, I don't."

Mr. Ritchie: "I have no knowledge of the attorney general's repeatedly criticised my methods."

Mr. Hazen: "My learned friend of the defence had better guard his statements a little more closely."

His honor ended the cross-examination of Mr. Ritchie by the paper in evidence, subject to Mr. Ritchie's objection.

The same was done with other copies of the paper dated July 31st, containing an article about Dr. MacRae and Magistrate Kay, a challenge against Shannon and Burns was also offered under objection of the defence.

Mr. Baxter said he offered the entire paper as evidence for the benefit of the jury.

Mr. Ritchie: "I don't think the whole paper can be put in."

His Honor: "I will admit the articles were specially mentioned, but would instruct the jury to take no notice of other paragraphs."

The MacRae, Frink, Bullock and Mullin articles were admitted as evidence.

C. M. Lingley

At this stage Mirreiss was stood aside and Chas. M. Lingley, printer, was sworn. He had been printing for 30 years, he said. The Greek had a written order with him when he came to the witness' office. It called for 2,000 envelopes to be printed. Those envelopes were exactly the same as the one in court. It was offered in evidence.

Mr. Ritchie: "I am objecting to it."

The witness said that the type in the Petition for Kay Investigation to Be Produced—Western Union Manager Protests Against Telegrams Being Made Public, But Agrees to Counsel Reading Them

When the case of the King vs. C. Bruce McDougall was resumed in the circuit court this morning, on the question of Mr. Ritchie, the attorney general informed the court that the petition asking for an order that the stamped name of Mr. McDougall be in the hands of M. G. Teed, of this city and would be produced.

Mr. Hazen: "I don't think the whole paper can be put in."

His Honor: "I will admit the articles were specially mentioned, but would instruct the jury to take no notice of other paragraphs."

The witness said that the type in the rubber stamp was made from the regular lead type. He thought that the impressions made on the paper in court were from the stamped apparatus in evidence. Mirreiss had paid about $6 or $8 for the envelopes.

Four large bundles of Free Speech, containing in all about 500 copies, were marked for identification by Justice White. The bundles contained the stamped name of Mr. Baxter offered the stamped impression on four copies as evidence, and it was admitted, subject to objection.

Lucas Again on Stand

Night Detective Lucas was once more placed in the witness box, and told of purchasing Free Speech from Mirreiss on July 31.

The impression which he would take from the paragraph relating to Daniel Mullin, he said, was that the latter, as a lawyer, seduced his clients. Concerning Mayor Bullock, the article would impress the witness in the light of making the mayor a hypocrite. From the article concerning Ald. Frink, he would infer that the latter was a "grafter."

To Mr. Ritchie the witness said he laid the information in the case at the instigation of the attorney-general. He also thought Free Speech should be stopped, and he entertained a good opinion of Dr. MacRae.

Mr. Ritchie: "Apart from hearsay, have you any knowledge of what the Sydney House is?"

Mr. Ritchie: "I understand."

"Answer my question."

"Answer my question."

"No I have not."

"Have you the pleasure of the acquaintance of Miss Gertrude MacRae?"

"Yes, I know her. I don't know anything about her from personal knowledge except that she is a street walker. I have seen her at all hours of the night picking up men about the streets. I saw her go into the Metropolitan Hotel with a man a late hour."

"Name the man and the date."
