STANZAS. Why are springs enthroned on high, Where the mountains kiss the sky? 'Tis that thence their streams may flow Fertilizing all below.

Why have clouds such lofty flight, Basking in the golden light? 'Tis to send down genial showers On this lower world of ours.

Why does God exait the great? Tis that they may prop the State So that toil its sweets may yield, And the sower reap the field.

Riches why doth He confer ⁹ That the rich may minister, In the hour of their distress, To the poor and fatherless.

Does He light a Newton's mind? 'Tis to shine on all mankind. Does he give to virtue birth? 'Tis the salt of this poor earth.

Reader, whose'er then art, What thy God hath given, impart Hide it not within the ground; Send the cup of blessing round.

Hast thon power ?--the weak defend : Light ?--give light : thy knowledge lend : Rich ?--remember Him who gave : Free ?--be brother to the slave.

Called a blessing to inherit, Bless—and richer blessings merit ; Give—and more shall yet be given ; Love, and serve—and look for heaven.

 TO PROFESSOR HOLLOWAY.
 Sin,—I have the gratification to announce to you a most wonderlil cure wrought upon myself, so the second tack of Erysipelas in my right foot, which extended along my ancle, and was attended with severe attack of Erysipelas in my right foot, which is swelling and inflammation to an alarming degree, insomuch that I was unable to move without the use of oraches. I consulted a very eminent Physician, besides other Medical men, but to no purpose. At last I tried your Ointment and Pills, when, strange to say, in less than two weeks they swelling and inflammation subside to such a degree that I was enabled to pursue my daily avocation, to the utter surprise and smazement of those who were acquainted with my case, seeing that I was cured so quickly. I and my family are well known here, as my father holds his farm under the Rev. J. Spence, Rector of our Parish.
