MISS E. HENNIGAR IS FATALLY HURT

Sister Also Injured as Horse
Bolts in Leinster
Street.

The Misses Hennigar met with an accident last evening at 5.40, resulting in the death of Miss Emma Hennigar, about one hour and 20 minutes after she was taken to the General Public Hospital suffering from internal injuries and shock. The ladies were on the sidewalk, in front of Leinster Hall, 40 Leinster street, about to enter the house when a horse sprang forward and swung a well-filled grocery express against them with such force that both were knocked down.

The horse and wagon which belonged to Robinson's grocery, had been left in front of Manchester Robertson Allison, Ltd.'s stables and the horse had its foot strap securely fastened. While the driver was inside the stable, the horse managed to wander across the street, and the projecting wheel of the wagon was struck by the automobile of P. H. Deering, manager of the Colonial Hide Company, as he was proceeding home to Carnarvon street. This frightened the animal so that it started to run away up the sidewalk, and in its mad rush, the ladies were injured.

Miss Julia Hennigar was able to remain in her apartment at Leinster Hall and was resting fairly well last evening at 10.30. She was not advised about her sister's death, but said that she felt that she could not survive such a shock. Miss Hennigar was injured in the left leg, it being found that some of the arteries were affected, the nervous shock being also naturally severe. She was given some quieting medicine, which gave her rest from extreme pain and worry over her long time companion, her sister, who has been taken away so tragically. After all the excitement had subsided the frightened horse was found free from the middle of the street, completely free from the express and all harness. It allowed itself to be led quietly into the stables of Manchester Robertson Allison, Ltd., and was uninjured.

The groceries were a total loss, as the express was turned upside down in the middle of the dusty street. The late Miss Emma Hennigar was born in St. John, and had resided here all her life. She was the daughter of the late Thomas C. Hennigar, clerk in the Waterworks department of the city and Mrs. Hennigar. The former died 15 years ago, and his wife 13 years earlier. Miss Hennigar was married to the General Public Hospital after the accident, and was accompanied by her cousin, Mrs. E. T. C. Knowles, and her pastor, Rev. Robert G. Fulton. They were with her when she passed away, without much apparent suffering, about 7 o'clock, one hour and twenty minutes after the accident occurred. J. J. Lefferts, county treasurer, and Stephen S. Thorne, of the Customs House are also cousins.

The evangelistic meeting being conducted by Rev. Dr. H. D. Crossley and J. H. Leonard in the Exmouth street Methodist church are being splendidly sustained. Last evening there was the largest work-night gathering with the exception of that attending the special lecture on Monday evening. A large place was given to the song service and special selections were rendered. The duet, "O My Soul, Bless Thou Jehovah" was sung by Miss Edith Magee and Mr. Leonard. Mr. Leonard sang effectively the solo,

"The Christian's Good Morning" and during the sermon Dr. Crossley and Mr. Leonard sang several very appropriate duets. The choir also added very materially to the song worship. Dr. Crossley gave one of his popular song sermons, entitled "From Guilt to Glory." In the course of his sermon the speaker mentioned that on this road to glory the Christian lived a life of rejoicing in assurance of Heaven's joy. At the end there was a peaceful and triumphant death, and when the soul came to glory there would be a royal welcome home. The service was characterized by a thoughtful reverent spirit and a number came in response to the appeal to give themselves to the Saviour.

BARTHELMSS AND GISH TO PLAY ROMEO AND JULIET

News comes that Dick Barthelmess and Lillian Gish are to play Romeo and Juliet. No actress before the camera today is so qualified to play Juliet as Lillian Gish. And Barthelmess should prove a good Romeo. So that the news is welcome news.

A few days ago Barthelmess was discussing the picture, and Barthelmess clearly showed his delight at the prospect of again appearing with Miss Gish.

"Especially in Romeo and Juliet," added "Dick." He is counting the minutes that separate him from the time he will sail for Italy, where Miss Gish now is, and where the picture will be made. This he will do as soon as he completes "The Enchanted Cottage," now under production at Fort Lee, N. J.
