The Foster vein is a belt and vein

Foster of from six to twenty feet. Fine showings of gold occur, and its clean cut character an dextensive horizontal dimensions, suggest that it may have an equally strong vertical extension. From the above it will be seen that there are some grounds for the hope-fulness regarding the future of this baby camp. Of course, there are properties here which will furnish specimens but never anything more, and lots that will not do even this. There are some that will be "teasers" with just enough quartz with values to attract money for their development, but not enough in one place or not enough continuity to the bodies to be exploited profitably. But there are some really promising prospects which even if they should not prove altogether satisfactory with depth, yet will on their present R. W. Brock of the department of showings, have quite a tidy output of Chances of Future. The development during the next few months, which will furnish some clue as to the deeper conditions will be followed with much interest. The history of gold mining in Ontario has to be remembered that gold mining in Ontario is to-day in exactly the same position as was silver mining seven years ago, and the chances of finding a notable gold camp are to-day quit as good as were the chances of locating a Cobalt at that time. Porcupine is as yet in the prospect stage. But it has some of the essential qualities of a gold camp, sufficient to have induced experienced mining men to take up options at high figures, and to undertake large expenditures to determine if it possesses all the essential factors. Access to the district for travellers is now comparatively easy. Most go in via Kelso, at mile post 222, on the T. & N. O. railway. From the railway a stage line runs twelve miles to the inlet of Frederickhouse lake. From here gasoline launches run fourteen miles up the river to Nighthawk lake, across the end of the latter and for some miles up the Porcupine river to Hill's. From located are in the township of Tisdale, this point it is eight miles by trail to Porcupine, including two may be covered by canoe ferry. The trip from Kelso to Porcupine takes eight or nine hours. From Hill's there is also a canoe route up the river with a gasoline service, but the distance is twenty-eight miles. A service is also being established for freight and passengers from the Canadian Pacific railway at Biscoo, down the Matagani river to a point near Tinnine mine. This trip is stated to be made in two days.
