

ANGRY JAPANESE DENY INVASION OF CHINA

Assassination of Morihiro Abe Has Inflamed Tokio Citizens.

MASS MEETING DECLARES FOR MILITARY ACTION

Outburst of Popular Resentment Against Ministry for Treatment of Chinese and California Questions Culminates in Wild Scenes.

Tokio, Sept. 7.—The assassination of Morihiro Abe, director of the Political Bureau of the Japanese Foreign Office, has inflamed the masses and today a dramatic chapter in the history of the New Japan was written.

Fifteen thousand persons gathered in a mass meeting in Hibuya Park, calling for military action against China. A majority of these marched to the Foreign Office and clamored for admission. They demanded the despatch of troops to China to take such measures as were necessary to get satisfaction for the killing of Japanese at Nanking, or failing this, the resignation of the Minister of Foreign Affairs, Baron Nobuaki Makino.

The speakers denounced the emptiness of Japanese diplomacy in connection with California and China, and insisted that the insult to the Japanese flag at Nanking should be wiped out. The manifestation was clearly an explosion of popular resentment against the ministry in its treatment of the California and Chinese questions.

Profiting by the lesson of the riot which followed the conclusion of peace between Russia and Japan, the government reduced the risk of violence today by refusing to allow a single soldier or policeman to be present. The demonstrators, many of whom were students, were orderly during the early part of the proceedings. A score of agitators, including a girl, decorated Japanese diplomacy and declared that it had never contributed to the upbuilding of the empire and had ended in failure. The incidents in China were unbearable.

Suddenly the cry to march on the Foreign Office was raised and there was a general stampede, many persons barely escaping being crushed. The crowds surged through the streets, headed by the agitators, and reached the Foreign Office to find that the high iron gates were locked.

Scores of the demonstrators pounded on the gates and called for them to be opened, but in vain. The under officials refused. A delegation was appointed, the members of which climbed the gates, and then ensued a long parley.

Meanwhile the crowd was cheerful but determined. The agitators' comments on a beautiful Geisha girl struggling by in a rickshaw, but angrily stoned a photographer seeking to take snapshots of the chief agitator, who, having returned, mounted the portals to report progress.

Ferched untidily on the pickets he made a fantastic picture, and in a harsh harangue declared that the committee demanded either the dispatch of troops or the retirement of the foreign minister.

"We told the officials," he shouted, "that the voice of the people speaks, and that agitation will never end until our demands are granted."

The extraordinary situation continued for five hours, the delegates censuring periodically to pacify the crowd. Finally, when the discussion ended, they reported that Baron Makino had promised to receive them on September 15. This was greeted with howls of derision, and the march to the foreign minister's residence, three miles distance. A cordon of police, however, prevented their near approach.

Another mass meeting was called for Sunday night at the Young Men's Christian Association hall.

SENATE HAS TARIFF BILL IN HAND NOW

Reported Saturday Night from Committee of the Whole— Expect It Will Be Passed on Monday.

Washington, Sept. 8.—The Democratic Tariff Revision Bill late tonight was reported to the Senate from the committee of the whole. The Senate then adjourned until 10 o'clock Monday, when consideration of deferred features will begin. Passage of the bill Monday night or early Tuesday was predicted by senators on both sides.

Among matters still to be presented by minority members are amendments to the wool, cotton and metal schedules and the income tax. Senator La Follette on Monday will discuss his amendments to the textile schedule. Senators Jones, of Washington, and Norris, of Nebraska, will offer inheritance tax amendments, and Senator Norris also proposes to press a coffee valuation amendment.

Tonight the Senate agreed to the income tax section as amended by the Democratic caucus and the finance committee, and the tax on cotton futures with the date for its operation extended to September 1, 1914.

Senator Cummins called up his amendment providing for a tax of ten per cent on all sales of stock exchanges or boards of trade, wherein the seller is not the owner of the stock at the time of the transaction. He said he believed it would restrict, if not abolish, short sales or "speculative gambling," one of the great evils of our modern commercial system.

Senator Clarke declared he would gladly co-operate in the enactment of such legislation at some future time, but that the present was not the time.

Senator Norris, of Nebraska, made a vigorous appeal for the Cummins amendment, but it was rejected by a vote of 16 to 35. Senator Sherman, of Illinois, being the only Republican to vote against it.

OPPOSE IDEA OF GOVERNMENT BANK

Bankers Committee at Wash- ington Discuss Questions of Government Issuance of Circulating Medium.

Washington, Sept. 6.—The most important topic on currency reform discussed by the committee of bankers today was the issuance of circulating medium by the government. All those appearing before the Senate finance committee agreed that, if the government should undertake this function, it would be a useless and dangerous task. The opinions expressed were that a government note would not be as good as a bank note.

The only new witness today was O. M. W. Sprague, professor of finance at Harvard university. He began explaining in detail the fundamental principles of banking. He favored the general tenor of the administration bill, but said he would like suggest some changes that he regarded as necessary to perfect it.

It developed this afternoon that every complaint against the pending bill has run into the idea of a central bank, owned by the government. All witnesses contended that every civilized nation gave up the banking business years ago.

An effort was made by Senator Hitchcock to demonstrate that the Aldrich-Vreeland emergency bill would be ample protection for the immediate future. In replying to the Senator's questions along that line, Mr. Wexler, of New Orleans, said it would be much easier to re-write the Aldrich-Vreeland act than to amend it in the manner proposed by Senator Lee and others.

He said the act never had been in effect. It was merely the emergency measure of a party not now in power. He did not believe it could be amended to prove of value.

CLEARING THE WRECK AWAY
criticism has been aroused because of the fact that despite an order issued from Washington to officials of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad not to clear away evidence of the recent wreck of the White Mountain Express, almost every vestige of the horrible catastrophe was cleared away with the least possible delay. MILITIA COMPANIES ACTING AS POLICE

Total Loss $6,000,000 and Insurance is $2,000,000— Most of the Sufferers Are Cared For.

Hot Springs, Ark., Sept. 7.—Hot Springs, fire-swept, six million dollars of its property destroyed, and 2,500 of its people homeless, yesterday issued an appeal for outside aid.

The appeal was authorized by a committee composed of city officials and citizens. M. A. Eisle, a prominent citizen, was chosen treasurer. The city, exhausted in fighting the conflagration, which originated Friday afternoon in an area of 200 acres, nevertheless devoted the day to relief measures for the homeless. Three thousand dollars, subscribed at a mass meeting yesterday, was devoted to their pressing needs. In the afternoon citizens and the city council canvassed the situation and decided to issue an appeal for aid.

With two companies of militia patrolling the burned district, the citizens devoted themselves today to systematic relief measures and planning for the rehabilitation of the fire-swept eastern section of the city. Tonight's checking up shows that all of those made homeless by the fire have been housed temporarily and their immediate needs provided for.

Against the monetary loss, estimated at $6,000,000, it is authoritatively stated that approximately $2,000,000 in insurance was carried.

The inquest of Coroner Mix who has accused Engineer Miller and Flagman Murray of the Bar Harbor train of having been "criminally" responsible for the death of one of the twenty-one victims of the wreck, was continued today.

A great parade that had been planned was prohibited by the police on account of threatened reprisals by the anti-clericals. Notwithstanding the strictest measures to ensure order, a few scuffles occurred amid cries from the Catholics of "Long Live the Pope," to which the anti-clericals responded by shouting, "Long live free thinking."

Four hours were occupied by the athletes in reaching St. Peter's, where they unfurled flags and passed into the court of San Damaso. They knelt when the Pope appeared on the balcony surrounded by the Pontifical court. The Pope's sister, Maria, his niece, Glida, and his brother, Angelo, were present in the special tribunal.

When towed in shore it was too late to sink it last night, but it may be done tomorrow.

Jerome Confident He Will Take Prisoner Back to Matteawan.

HELD AT COATCOOK UNTIL HIS TRIAL.

Defence Will Attack Constitu- tionality of Immigration Act —When Moved to Montreal He Will Be Able to Receive Friends.

Montreal, Sept. 7.—No move in the matter of seeking the liberation of Harry K. Thaw, on being made before the local courts, according to well-informed circles here tonight. The friends of the slayer of Stanford White, now that they have brought the whole question to the attention of the court of the King's Bench, will content themselves with awaiting developments in the ordinary course of justice.

Thaw may be brought here the early part of this week, or he may be detained at Coatcook until the 15th. This is a matter entirely in the hands of the Dominion immigration authorities. Once landed in the city, he will be kept in the detention house of the Immigration Department, not lodged in the city jail.

While awaiting a decision in his case, he will be provided with comfortable quarters, will be able to receive friends, and will be afforded any luxuries he may care to pay for. He will be in no wise a prisoner except in the sense that he will be detained as any ordinary immigrant concerning the advisability of whose entry into the country the immigration authorities entertain any doubt. The whole litigation will resolve itself into a discussion of the question as to whether the Canadian Immigration Act is or is not constitutional.

Parliament May Intervene.

The Thaw attorneys will contend that the Act, in its present form, contains an infringement of the right of the individual to free locomotion. They will also represent the enactment as embodying an infringement of the habeas corpus act, as well as the Magna Charta. Thus it is seen that the scope of the case is widened to such an extent that the Dominion parliament, the constitutionality of whose enactment is placed in jeopardy, will be directly interested.

Thus far it is only the Immigration Department which has been embroiled in the litigation, but it is not unlikely that parliament will have to intervene directly to back up the constitutionality of the act which it passed.

When the matter finally comes before the Court of King's Bench, it will be heard by the full bench, which consists of Chief Justice Archibald, Justices Trounhaire, Cross, Laverne, Carroll and Gervais. Of these, five constitute a full bench for an actual sitting. The attack on the constitutionality of the Immigration Act, it will be recalled, is no new proceeding, for when the Act was before the House of Commons, one of the leading members of the Liberal party, who now occupies a position on the Bench, took a prominent part in denouncing the provisions of the measure; such denunciation being based on arguments which are advanced in the Thaw side of the fight in the present case.
