SWEEPING UP MINES New British Naval Base in Norway. (By H. C. Forsyth, Daily Express Naval Correspondent.) One of the most interesting after-effects of the war is the establishment of a British naval base in Norway. This has been done with the full consent of the Norwegian Government, and a Norwegian navy will be attached to the base as liaison officer. The base has been established for anti-aircraft purposes; from it our minesweepers are working to remove some of the 60,000 mines that were laid in war time to keep the U boats penned up.

Now and again in the tumbled moments of British warships you will see an item like this: "Tonbridge and Maresfield arrived Lerwick. This is the base, a small harbor on the west coast of Norway, about ninety miles from Bergen, and there the depot ship 'Type' flies the White Ensign, and acts as mother to a flotilla consisting of twelve minesweepers, eight drifters, and a dozen motor launches. There are 1,300 officers and men working from the base, and they have for their leisure moments an above a football field and a recreation room in the Good Templars' Hall.

URGE COMPULSORY ARBITRATION IN ALL RAILWAY DISPUTES Charles Piez of Chicago and Alfred P. Thom Want it in Bill. Washington, D. C., Aug. 25.—Compulsory arbitration in all railroad labor disputes was urged on the House Interstate Commerce Committee today by Charles Piez, of Chicago, former general manager of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, one of the cornerstones of future railroad policy in this country. Appearing on behalf of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, Mr. Piez suggested that this feature be embodied in the Esch-Pomerene Railroad Regulation Bill now under consideration by the committee.

Alfred P. Thom, counsel for the Association of Railroad Executives, who also appeared before the committee today in support of the plan of the railway executives, stressed the advantages to be obtained from a federal transportation bill, composed of three commissioners appointed by the President, as the general supervising authority over the privately managed railroads. Placing himself strongly on record against government ownership and operation of transportation means, Mr. Piez made the following recommendations: "That in order to protect the public by preventing the interruption of essential transportation by strikes or lockout, the bill be amended to empower and instruct the Interstate Commerce Commission to appoint and provide the necessary organization for an arbitration board consisting of six persons, two representing the public, two the railroad management and two the employees, who, upon appeal to from either side of a controversy, shall investigate and make a final and conclusive finding.

"That, as part of the machinery thus created, the employees of common carriers upon being employed shall as a part of the hiring contract accept the provisions of this act, agree to abide by the findings of the body of six, and waive their rights to strike. The right of an employee to resign would not be denied.

"That existing rail rates remain in force after the return of the roads to private ownership until they may be changed by a duly constituted authority, because otherwise discrimination and commercial chaos would result about the carriers find that interstate rates would revert automatically to the status existing prior to June 28, 1915. "That the control over waterborne traffic, both river, lake and ocean; coastwise, be not left to the Interstate Commerce Commission, but remain as now under control of the U. S. Shipping Board in order to maintain elasticity in charters and rates, which is essential to this sort of traffic. "That in reaching conclusions as to the reasonableness of freight rate charges, the Interstate Commerce Commission shall not only take into consideration the cost of labor and other operating costs, but also the cost of capital to be raised by carriers for new lines, extensions and improvements and capital which must be raised to refund maturing obligations."

MASS. POLICE WANT MINIMUM WAGES OF $5 PER DAY Boston, Aug. 25.—The police of the 39 cities in Massachusetts, outside of Boston, and the 33 towns that are under Civil Service rules have decided to present demands for a minimum wage of $5 a day and one day off in eight.

The demand will come through the Massachusetts Police Association, which includes in its membership the police of these cities and towns as well as the Metropolitan Police and those in the criminal department of the District Police—in all about 2500 men. The matter has been under consideration for some time by the association, and a circular embodying the reasons for the raise was sent out a month ago. The circular was also in the nature of a ballot.

At a meeting of the executive board of the association yesterday afternoon in the American House it was learned that replies had been received from 90 per cent of the membership favoring the proposition to demand a minimum of $5 a day and one day off in eight. The committee consisted of Charles W. Allen, W. J. Armitage and J. H. Shaughnessy.

HOW TO STOP BEING NERVOUS

Nothing Like Plain Bifro-Phosphate to Strengthen Weak Nerves and Increase Strength and Vigor. According to a noted French scientist, the most effective remedy for nervousness, insomnia and ailments due to depleted nerve force, is a form of organic phosphate known among druggists in this country as Bifro-Phosphate. It is described as a substance which is similar in composition to the phosphorus naturally found in brain and nerve cells and, being easily and quickly assimilated, the work of creating nerve force, strength and vigor begins immediately it is taken into the human system. There are many reports of astonishing results from its use, some showing remarkable improvement even in stubborn cases of long standing nerve weakness. As there are many kinds of phosphates, care should be exercised to procure the genuine Bifro-Phosphate as sold by Ross Drug Co., in St. John and all good druggists.

NEW YORK EAGER TO BUY IN FIGHT TO CUT PRICES Wealthy as Well as Poor Take Advantage of the Government Sale. New York, Aug. 25.—Forty carloads of surplus army food was purchased quickly and eagerly yesterday by thousands of women in all boroughs in the first day's sale, at fifty-eight school buildings, conducted by federal and city governments in the fight against the high cost of living.

Estimate made last evening by officials were that one million pounds of foodstuffs had been distributed. The average receipt at each school were about $1,000 and the average of the purchases was about $250 for each customer. The day's receipts were about $60,000. One thing shown clearly was that the high cost of living is felt in the homes of wealthy and poor. Women who were gowned expensively arrived in automobiles and stood in the waiting lines, with their poorer sisters. Baby carriages, coats and linens were lined the curbs to carry away the supplies. The poor women bought a few cans and carefully stored their goods in the improvised wagons; chauffeurs carried out case lots for those who could afford to buy in larger quantities.

Demand by the Well-to-Do. The demands were largest in the well-to-do sections. In the poor districts, the tenement house dwellers apparently did not understand the sale. But in all quarters the demand greatly exceeded the supply. Hundreds of persons stood patiently in line for hours. They carried away baskets and bundles of canned peas, beans, tomatoes and other commodities. At many of the schools the crowds became so large that extra police reserves were called to keep order. The sale was a tremendous success.

There were many delays and some confusion as the quiet and somewhat elaborate machinery was slowly working into operation. The public did not complain, being fully rewarded if allowed to purchase a few days' supplies at reasonable cost. Every possible precaution was taken to prevent error. Services at the schools were volunteered, mostly by women. While this elaborate system was being set in motion officials in other fields were working hard to combat the problem of soaring prices. Slight hope was held out for cheaper meat when Arthur Williams, Food Administrator, met the representatives of the Master Butchers' Association, in which there are 350 members. They voted unanimously to lend their assistance to the Food Administrator and then demurred against the margin of profits presented. The butchers said they could not live under that. They demanded a substantial increase in the margin and it was left to a committee to work out. Under the terms proposed, it would be possible to reduce the price of most meat cuts from one to three cents a pound under the cash and carry system, but that is all.

U. S. ACTS TO BAR NEW DICTATION AS COSTA RICAN HEAD American Consul is Instructed Not to Recognize Quiros, Successor to Tinoco. Washington, D. C., Aug. 25.—The United States government has moved to bring about the establishment of a constitutional government in Costa Rica by issuing instructions to the American Consul at San Jose, Benjamin F. Chase, that Juan Bautista Quiros, the successor of Tinoco, who fled the country, will not be recognized by this country. The attempt to set up a provisional government in Costa Rica in accordance with the so-called Tinoco constitution probably will fail. Quiros, hoping to remain his hold up on the country, has sought to bring about a compromise with the old constitutionalists who supported President Gonzalez by wading former President Rafael Yglesias to Nicaragua to propose political amnesty and bring about an armistice. From this it is assumed that his career as Provisional President will be short lived. Steps already have been taken to provide for the holding of a election in accordance with the old constitution. Aguilas Barquet, who for many years has held the honorary office of Second Vice President, has consented to act as President, until the elections are over and a new President chosen. One-time President Gonzalez is now in Washington and probably will return to his own country in the near future to take up the prosecution of the men connected with the Tinoco revolution, who are alleged to have looted the Costa Rican treasury.
