

CANADIAN PUBLIC HEALTH CONGRESS OPENED YESTERDAY

Large Number of Delegates Registered at Opening Session — Joint Meetings Held in Afternoon — Interesting Papers Were Read and Discussed — Ladies in Attendance Entertained at Reception.

With prospects for a most successful series of sessions the Canadian Public Health Congress opened yesterday morning in the armories, most of the morning being taken up with the registration of delegates and the showing of a three film depicting the beginning of life in plants and animals. When the day's sessions closed, nearly one hundred delegates from all over the Dominion, including doctors and nurses, had registered for attendance at the congress, and great enthusiasm is being manifested in the programme. More meetings are expected today, and this is the most successful ever held in Canada.

At the afternoon session, two joint meetings were held, one section being devoted to a discussion of the problems relating to social hygiene, and the combining of venereal diseases, and the other being conducted under the auspices of the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, and the Child Welfare section of the C.P.H.A.

The first meeting was presided over by Dr. Desloges, director of the province of Quebec of the division for combating venereal diseases. Dr. N. Fourrier, head of the venereal disease clinic of the Notre Dame Hospital, Montreal, delivered an interesting address on "Some of the Results of the Campaign Against Venereal Diseases in Montreal." He spoke of the types of venereal disease, namely, gonorrhea, and explained that the results obtained from its use had been very good, this drug being referred to the old form of salvarsan.

This topic was discussed at length by Dr. Haggerty, Dr. Bates, Dr. Hutchinson and Dr. Desloges. These speakers, each of whom delivered an address to which of the two types of venereal disease should be used, both having their several advantages.

Dr. Gordon Bates, secretary of the Canadian National Council for Combating Venereal Diseases, gave an interesting paper on some of the results of the campaign against venereal diseases in Montreal. Dr. Bates is the pioneer in this campaign in Canada, and his paper was a masterly exposition of the various methods which might be used in bringing cases of this disease under treatment.

The discussion of this paper was led by Dr. H. R. McClellan of Toronto, Dr. H. Hutchinson, and Miss Forshaw. The question of the place taken by alcohol in the incidents of venereal disease was thoroughly discussed, and a general opinion seemed to be that before any definite decision could be arrived at in this regard, more time would be necessary to study the question, the laws relating to prohibition not having been in force long enough to permit of a thorough test in the matter.

Dr. J. J. Haggerty of Ottawa read an interesting paper on the work accomplished by the Dominion Department of Public Health in the various provinces of Canada in regard to venereal diseases. Discussion of the paper was led by Dr. Desloges, several others taking part, and some very interesting phases of the question dealt with.

"The tuberculosis and child welfare section of the congress was presided over by Sheriff A. B. Cook of Regina, president of the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis. The first paper was read by Dr. A. F. Miller, superintendent of the Kentville Sanatorium, on "The Place of the Clinic in the Tuberculosis Campaign." He said that, in all the plans of campaign, there should be three aims, namely, the improvement of public health conditions; early discovery of the disease; and effective treatment. Everything planned required money, and intelligence to carry it through successfully, and education by person to person, and demonstration was needed. Large infrequent clinics were less useful than small frequent clinics. A successful clinic almost entirely depends on the personality of the doctors and nurses. Dr. Miller produced figures to show that reductions had been made in disease incidence from tuberculosis as well as deaths in communities where a health program had been properly developed.

The paper was discussed at length by Doctors Craig, Holbrook, Hattie,

Bell and President Cook and Dr. Helen McMurphy.

Dr. W. M. Hart of Ottawa gave a paper on "Sheltered Employment for the Tuberculous in Canada." Dr. Hart is the tuberculosis specialist attached to the D.S.C.H. in that city, and his paper was an exhaustive study of this subject. He dealt with his subject under four heads, viz: individual assistance, including employment in the patient's own home; sub-standard shops; agricultural or industrial colonies; and combined agricultural and industrial colonies; and the permanent village.

The discussion was led by Dr. Holbrook, who emphasized that the provisions to be made for the tuberculous before and after entering the sanatorium. He said that the output from the workshops had previously been such a product as would appeal to the sentiment of the buyer, but that it was necessary to revise this programme to make the product a marketable one because of its usefulness. He said that up to date the vocational training of tuberculous soldiers, under the plan of the Federal authorities, had proved a failure and that it was expected that the Government would take some steps immediately to revise the system.

Dr. Bernard Wyatt discussed the bar which the tuberculous experienced in obtaining life or accident insurance. He said that they were not, however, barred from taking group or corporation insurance, and this plan worked with the result that if the man afflicted with tuberculosis was working for a corporation and insured under the group plan, he could, if he took sick after six months, draw money in proportion to his insurance, the principal being in the nature of a pension.

The last paper of the afternoon was given by Dr. George Smith of Toronto on the subject "Breast Feeding." The discussion on this was led by Dr. W. J. Bell, several others taking part.

The ladies, in attendance at the congress, were entertained at a reception, given in the Church of England institute, by the Red Cross branch under the co-operation of Mrs. F. B. White.

MILDRED PALMER'S BODY RECOVERED

The body of little Mildred Evelyn Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Beverly E. Palmer, of Palmer's Point, the victim of Monday night's sad drowning accident at that place, was recovered shortly before midnight Monday, by her father and her cousin Walter Wesson, of Hampton.

Although grappling operations were begun shortly after the child had fallen into the water from the Palmer Point wharf, after part of the structure had given way under her weight, the searchers were only successful in the efforts after nearly five hours' work. This was due to the fact that the water is thirty feet deep at that part of the river, and the current strong.

She is survived by two brothers, Cecil W. and Jerome E., four sisters, Margaret E., Sadie W., Florence M. and Edith B. The funeral services will be held at the home on Wednesday at 1:30 p.m., and burial will take place at Palmer's cemetery, Central Hampton.
