

POOR DOCUMENT

MARCH 11, 1903

LOCAL AND PROVINCIAL

P. Nave & Sons have bought the business of the MacLary Manufacturing Co., Ltd., Indianapolis.

Alexander J. Adams, of Allandale, York county, was married at that place March 3, by Rev. Mr. Ross, to Miss Maud Howard, of Upper Kingsdale.

Misses Troop & Sons' barquentine, Sunny South, Captain McDonald, bound from Bridgewater, is reported arrived at Buenos Ayres Saturday last.

Prices of raw and refined sugar have advanced, the latter five cents per 100 pounds. Montreal refiners have advanced their price for refined sugar 10 cents per 100 pounds.

A. C. Storor, of Richibucto, died at that place Thursday, aged 32 years. Deceased left a wife, who was a daughter of the late C. J. Sayre, barrister, of Rimouski, and two children.

Robert Lister, of Harvey, York county, was married at that place on March 4 to Miss Sarah Graham, of Blaney Ridge. Wm. Ross and Joseph McLean officiated.

W. W. Hubbard left for York and Carleton counties Friday afternoon, to take orders for shorthorn cattle. He will then go to Ottawa and Ontario to buy a carload of shorthorn stock for the station at Woodstock, the last of this month.

Doctor Collier, post office inspector, has gone to Dalhousie in connection with the arrest of the postmaster, J. A. Johnson, charged with being implicated in the theft of $300. Monday, inspector Collier, as assistant inspector Whitaker, and Detective Chamberlain were investigating matters.

The schooner Andromeda, which was bound from Jacksonville a short time ago, encountered very heavy weather, and was forced to put into Charlottetown (S. C.) making. It was thought the leak would be in the upper works of the vessel, for when the deck was reached the leak ceased. Part of the deck was removed and the damage repaired.

In his report to the common council, R. Wisely, director of public safety, recommends that the water and sewerage works be extended to the city limits in Lancashire through Fairville for this purpose. Also that the part of the Lancaster lands known as the Gypsy Settlement be laid out in building lots.

The death of Allan Price, aged 84, occurred at Springfield, Kings county, on Thursday. Deceased, who was of loyal descent, was one of the most respected residents of the county. He leaves one son, Dr. Byron S. Price, of this city, and three daughters: Mrs. C. M. Price, of Hampton; Mrs. C. M. Price, of Springfield; and Miss Price, at home. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning, after a service in the Midland P. R. church.

A large property of Charles White, of Whitehead, Kings county, was burned to the ground last Thursday evening. The building contained several tons of hay, farm wagons, ploughs, mowing machine, and general farm equipment, all of which was destroyed. There was no insurance. Mr. White was feeding his cattle and accidentally started the fire in the barn.

Professor Robertson, of Ottawa, met a committee of the local government, consisting of Premier Tupper, Hon. H. A. McCreery, and Hon. A. T. Dunn, Friday afternoon, and presented the advantages of extension of technical education and manual training in New Brunswick. He also pointed out to the government the advantages which had come to other provinces from the establishment of agricultural colleges and the extension of education along agricultural lines. These are matters which the government will take into consideration.

A dispatch from Halifax announces that the board of management of the Presbyterian College there has decided to present to the next general assembly the measure of the Rev. J. C. MacLennan, M. A., B. D., D. D., distinguished minister of the Irish Presbyterian church, for appointment to the theological chair made vacant by the late Rev. Dr. D. M. Gordon. The Rev. Dr. MacLennan is now in the principality of Queen's University, Kingston. The board's first choice was the Rev. Alfred Gaudier, minister of St. James' square church, Toronto, but he would not consent to leaving his present position for appointment. Mr. Gaudier was minister in Halifax before coming to Toronto—Toronto Globe.

Mrs. Jane Giggie Dies in Roxbury.
Mrs. Jane Giggie, of North End, aged 74 years, died at the home of her son, Geo. Giggie, in Roxbury (Mass.), early Tuesday morning after an illness of about six weeks. The deceased lady left St. John less than two months ago to visit her son, as was her annual custom, but during the trip she contracted a heavy cold from which she failed to rally. By today's train the body will arrive, accompanied by Mr. Giggie. The funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon from the home of Mrs. Giggie, corner of Adelaide street and Bedford street. The deceased was an old resident of St. John. She was the daughter of the late Charles Carless and sister of the late Hon. Oliver Carless. Henry Harper was her first husband and by that union there were three children—Charles Harper, Adelaide street; Mrs. Jarvis, Victoria street; and Mrs. Geo. A. Whippley, Lower Metcalfe street. Mrs. Jane Giggie, of Roxbury, are children of the second marriage.

A large portion of the remains of criminal removed at Newgate were on Friday re-interred at the new cemetery and re-interred there.

The bark Mary A. Tracy, now at Barbados, is to sail for Rio Janeiro.

There were 13 births in the city last week, 11 of the children being males. Ten burial permits and three marriage licenses were issued.

The John E. Moore mill at Pleasant Point and Charles Miller's mill at Pokok commenced operations Saturday morning with large crews of men.

Fire caused about $5,000 damages to the buildings and stock owned by H. P. Robertson, fish dealer, at 28 and 30 Britain street, early Sunday morning.

The market was fairly well supplied on Saturday, and prices in all departments fairly reasonable. Chickens still kept up in price and sold from 80 cents to $1.30 a pair.

Asked last evening respecting the Union Point mill strike, Theo. Cushing said: "There is no change in the situation. We are waiting for the men to return to work."

Walter Campbell, of the City Road, had two fingers badly mangled and one severed in a car coupling accident on Friday. He had been at work in the I. C. R. yard but a few days.

Tenders for the erection of T. H. Estabrook's tea warehouse on Mill street are being received. The building will have a frontage of about 100 feet and be five stories high. G. E. Fairweather is the architect.

An illustrated lecture on Canada entitled Halifax to Victoria, given by Rev. J. John Robinson, formerly of Gloucester (Ont.) and Truro (N. S.), was listened to by a good audience at University College, London, Thursday afternoon last.

Rev. F. H. Beale, of Digby, has been engaged to occupy the vacant pulpit of Brunswick street church for a time. Mr. Beale is an excellent speaker and greatly pleased two congregations at the church on Sunday.

Letters of administration of the estate of the late Owen McDowall have been granted to John McGowan and Sarah Doherty. The estate consists of $4,800 personal property; John L. Carleton, executor.

Some changes have been made in the staff of the Western Union Telegraph consequent upon the removal to Sydney of the local manager, B. S. Black. The new manager of the St. John office is George M. Robertson, who has been in charge of the business office since the death of the operating manager, Fred M. Bailey.

In referring to the 90th birthday of Senator Work, the St. James Gazette of February 21 says that few men living have seen a more wonderful transformation of spirit than that of the late Senator Work, who died on Thursday, and will attend the session of the House of Commons in London on Saturday.

There were three Scott Act cases at the Probation Court Friday before Judge MacLennan. The cases were: McLennan v. The Queen, McLennan v. The Queen, and McLennan v. The Queen. The cases were all dismissed.

Rev. Charles Hannigan, of St. Stephen, was married to the daughter of the priest in the cathedral during next week. Rev. Mr. Hannigan is now deacon, having been advanced at the seminary, where he has been completing his studies. He has been in the city for a few days, and left yesterday to visit his home in St. Stephen. After ordination as priest he will be attached to St. Stephen's church, but just where is not yet known.

Attention is directed to a new ad. in this issue, that of Morrell & Sutherland, St. John. This firm opened a dry goods store four years ago in a portion of the first floor of No. 25 Charlotte street, and the rapid increase of their business has necessitated increased space each year, until they now occupy the whole of the three-story brick building in which they are situated. It is their intention to make their main order department a special feature of this year's business, and with a view of bringing the same permanently before the readers of this paper, are offering about 200 excellent frieze walking suits, fresh from the hands of the manufacturer, at the very low price of $1.98 each. See their ad. page five.

Property Sales Saturday.
At Chubb's corner Saturday Auctioneer Gerow withdrew the Joseph Reddick homestead in Douglas avenue at $800. He sold several Wm. Parks & Son, Ltd. properties under equity court order. He sold a leasehold lot with house near the Cornwell mill to W. J. Harris for $400; a freehold lot, Rockland Road, for $315; and another lot on Rockland Road with house for $375, both to H. J. Garson; a freehold lot, Paradise Row, to C. N. Slinco for $1,400.

Auctioneer Potts sold the F. C. McLean property, Port Hope, to A. C. Wilton, for $23 over a mortgage claim of $235, water rates, etc. The sold the following Mont. McDonald properties: Day homestead at Wickham to Capt. Albert Day for $5 over a claim of $2,800; 50 acres at Long Reach to John B. McBay for $80; G. H. V. Belyea protested this sale. He sold another lot at Long Reach to J. B. McBay for $20. There was a dispute as to the amount of claim against this property. He sold the McDonald summer house at Woodman's Point to C. H. McDonald for $275; a 20-acre property at Long Reach to A. A. Wilson for $180. C. T. Bailey protested this sale on behalf of Thos. M. Belyea. Mr. Potts withdrew the property 77 Brunswick street at $2,800.

Page Metal Gates.
Single or double, with or without, durable, economical, and fireproof. They open either by hand or by foot, and are made of the best material. Best for fire and burglar proofing. See page 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

TEACHERS SAY "THANK YOU."

Acknowledge Receipt of Salary Increase—Estimates Brought Forward and May Mean a Bigger Assessment.

The board of school trustees met last Monday. An increase of $50 each in the salaries of Miss Catherine Barton and Miss Mary Knowlton, brought an acknowledgment of thanks from the recipients.

An increase of $5,000 in the insurance of the Elm street school was ordered. This will raise the amount to $10,000. A number of bills were passed, and tenders for the printing of the school reports for the past year were taken from Messrs. Barnes & Co., G. E. Day, E. J. Armstrong, and C. M. Lingley. Mr. Armstrong's tender of $1 per page was accepted.

It was agreed to pay $30 yearly additional for a room that has been taken for school purposes, in St. Peter's Girls' school.

The estimates for the year were produced, but this matter will remain over until next meeting. The estimate may bring up the matter of an increase of assessment. The secretary's report showed the number of pupils enrolled 6,891, and the daily average attendance, 5,613.

The Donaldson line steamer Indrani, Captain Gillies, after buffering with the sea and gales for 23 days, arrived, on Saturday afternoon, from Glasgow, Scotland. She had a very rough experience.

The Indrani sailed from Glasgow Friday, Feb. 13, and docked at the I. C. R. pier Saturday afternoon about 4 o'clock. From the time the steamer with her general cargo sailed from the other side she has been tossed about by mountainous waves, driven about by gales and hurricanes and more or less damage was done to the ship. Captain Gillies has had the worst experience on a voyage for years.

From the time he started, there was a succession of heavy westerly gales and when the ship was in 30 W. on Friday, Feb. 20, she encountered a hurricane from the westward. The wind blew the sea into great masses of water. The ship was unable to stem the tempest and instead of making headway on this day, she went westward 40 miles.

One by one the great walls of water crashed down on the ship which, like something human, was doing her utmost to escape. The sea was so high that it was an effort to make through the storm.

Instead of decreasing, the sea became worse and Captain Gillies found it necessary to enclose the ship in a protective net. The wind blew the sea into great masses of water. The ship was unable to stem the tempest and instead of making headway on this day, she went westward 40 miles.

Another large sea caused great destruction on the cattle deck, and it was found that the deck had been carried away as it was being something unfastened.

Another sea took charge of the life boat, which was supposed to have been secured against any possible damage on the starboard quarter. The waves simply tore it off the side of the ship and it was found that the life boat was carried away as it was being something unfastened.

The third officer, Mr. Stewart, while attending to duties on the life boat, was knocked about and had one of his legs severely injured. He was yesterday sent to hospital for treatment.

Captain Gillies says he had a very rough voyage. He has experienced since 1897, during which winter a number of ships were lost in the Atlantic, and it was found that the Indrani was the last of a long line of ships lost.

The Indrani sailed from Glasgow Friday, Feb. 13, and docked at the I. C. R. pier Saturday afternoon about 4 o'clock. From the time the steamer with her general cargo sailed from the other side she has been tossed about by mountainous waves, driven about by gales and hurricanes and more or less damage was done to the ship. Captain Gillies has had the worst experience on a voyage for years.

From the time he started, there was a succession of heavy westerly gales and when the ship was in 30 W. on Friday, Feb. 20, she encountered a hurricane from the westward. The wind blew the sea into great masses of water. The ship was unable to stem the tempest and instead of making headway on this day, she went westward 40 miles.

One by one the great walls of water crashed down on the ship which, like something human, was doing her utmost to escape. The sea was so high that it was an effort to make through the storm.

Instead of decreasing, the sea became worse and Captain Gillies found it necessary to enclose the ship in a protective net. The wind blew the sea into great masses of water. The ship was unable to stem the tempest and instead of making headway on this day, she went westward 40 miles.

Another large sea caused great destruction on the cattle deck, and it was found that the deck had been carried away as it was being something unfastened.

Another sea took charge of the life boat, which was supposed to have been secured against any possible damage on the starboard quarter. The waves simply tore it off the side of the ship and it was found that the life boat was carried away as it was being something unfastened.

The third officer, Mr. Stewart, while attending to duties on the life boat, was knocked about and had one of his legs severely injured. He was yesterday sent to hospital for treatment.

Captain Gillies says he had a very rough voyage. He has experienced since 1897, during which winter a number of ships were lost in the Atlantic, and it was found that the Indrani was the last of a long line of ships lost.

The Indrani sailed from Glasgow Friday, Feb. 13, and docked at the I. C. R. pier Saturday afternoon about 4 o'clock. From the time the steamer with her general cargo sailed from the other side she has been tossed about by mountainous waves, driven about by gales and hurricanes and more or less damage was done to the ship. Captain Gillies has had the worst experience on a voyage for years.

From the time he started, there was a succession of heavy westerly gales and when the ship was in 30 W. on Friday, Feb. 20, she encountered a hurricane from the westward. The wind blew the sea into great masses of water. The ship was unable to stem the tempest and instead of making headway on this day, she went westward 40 miles.

One by one the great walls of water crashed down on the ship which, like something human, was doing her utmost to escape. The sea was so high that it was an effort to make through the storm.

Instead of decreasing, the sea became worse and Captain Gillies found it necessary to enclose the ship in a protective net. The wind blew the sea into great masses of water. The ship was unable to stem the tempest and instead of making headway on this day, she went westward 40 miles.

Another large sea caused great destruction on the cattle deck, and it was found that the deck had been carried away as it was being something unfastened.

Another sea took charge of the life boat, which was supposed to have been secured against any possible damage on the starboard quarter. The waves simply tore it off the side of the ship and it was found that the life boat was carried away as it was being something unfastened.

The third officer, Mr. Stewart, while attending to duties on the life boat, was knocked about and had one of his legs severely injured. He was yesterday sent to hospital for treatment.

Captain Gillies says he had a very rough voyage. He has experienced since 1897, during which winter a number of ships were lost in the Atlantic, and it was found that the Indrani was the last of a long line of ships lost.

THE INDRANI

IN PORT AFTER A TOUGH VOYAGE.

Huge Waves Ripped Up Cattle Deck, Carried Away Boat and Did Other Damage.

Chart Room Door Smashed In by Mountain of Water—Third Officer Thrown About and Injured—Was Taken to the Hospital.

The Donaldson line steamer Indrani, Captain Gillies, after buffering with the sea and gales for 23 days, arrived, on Saturday afternoon, from Glasgow, Scotland. She had a very rough experience.

The Indrani sailed from Glasgow Friday, Feb. 13, and docked at the I. C. R. pier Saturday afternoon about 4 o'clock. From the time the steamer with her general cargo sailed from the other side she has been tossed about by mountainous waves, driven about by gales and hurricanes and more or less damage was done to the ship. Captain Gillies has had the worst experience on a voyage for years.

From the time he started, there was a succession of heavy westerly gales and when the ship was in 30 W. on Friday, Feb. 20, she encountered a hurricane from the westward. The wind blew the sea into great masses of water. The ship was unable to stem the tempest and instead of making headway on this day, she went westward 40 miles.

One by one the great walls of water crashed down on the ship which, like something human, was doing her utmost to escape. The sea was so high that it was an effort to make through the storm.

Instead of decreasing, the sea became worse and Captain Gillies found it necessary to enclose the ship in a protective net. The wind blew the sea into great masses of water. The ship was unable to stem the tempest and instead of making headway on this day, she went westward 40 miles.

Another large sea caused great destruction on the cattle deck, and it was found that the deck had been carried away as it was being something unfastened.

Another sea took charge of the life boat, which was supposed to have been secured against any possible damage on the starboard quarter. The waves simply tore it off the side of the ship and it was found that the life boat was carried away as it was being something unfastened.

The third officer, Mr. Stewart, while attending to duties on the life boat, was knocked about and had one of his legs severely injured. He was yesterday sent to hospital for treatment.

Captain Gillies says he had a very rough voyage. He has experienced since 1897, during which winter a number of ships were lost in the Atlantic, and it was found that the Indrani was the last of a long line of ships lost.

The Indrani sailed from Glasgow Friday, Feb. 13, and docked at the I. C. R. pier Saturday afternoon about 4 o'clock. From the time the steamer with her general cargo sailed from the other side she has been tossed about by mountainous waves, driven about by gales and hurricanes and more or less damage was done to the ship. Captain Gillies has had the worst experience on a voyage for years.

From the time he started, there was a succession of heavy westerly gales and when the ship was in 30 W. on Friday, Feb. 20, she encountered a hurricane from the westward. The wind blew the sea into great masses of water. The ship was unable to stem the tempest and instead of making headway on this day, she went westward 40 miles.

One by one the great walls of water crashed down on the ship which, like something human, was doing her utmost to escape. The sea was so high that it was an effort to make through the storm.

Instead of decreasing, the sea became worse and Captain Gillies found it necessary to enclose the ship in a protective net. The wind blew the sea into great masses of water. The ship was unable to stem the tempest and instead of making headway on this day, she went westward 40 miles.

Another large sea caused great destruction on the cattle deck, and it was found that the deck had been carried away as it was being something unfastened.

Another sea took charge of the life boat, which was supposed to have been secured against any possible damage on the starboard quarter. The waves simply tore it off the side of the ship and it was found that the life boat was carried away as it was being something unfastened.

The third officer, Mr. Stewart, while attending to duties on the life boat, was knocked about and had one of his legs severely injured. He was yesterday sent to hospital for treatment.

Captain Gillies says he had a very rough voyage. He has experienced since 1897, during which winter a number of ships were lost in the Atlantic, and it was found that the Indrani was the last of a long line of ships lost.

The Indrani sailed from Glasgow Friday, Feb. 13, and docked at the I. C. R. pier Saturday afternoon about 4 o'clock. From the time the steamer with her general cargo sailed from the other side she has been tossed about by mountainous waves, driven about by gales and hurricanes and more or less damage was done to the ship. Captain Gillies has had the worst experience on a voyage for years.

From the time he started, there was a succession of heavy westerly gales and when the ship was in 30 W. on Friday, Feb. 20, she encountered a hurricane from the westward. The wind blew the sea into great masses of water. The ship was unable to stem the tempest and instead of making headway on this day, she went westward 40 miles.

One by one the great walls of water crashed down on the ship which, like something human, was doing her utmost to escape. The sea was so high that it was an effort to make through the storm.

Instead of decreasing, the sea became worse and Captain Gillies found it necessary to enclose the ship in a protective net. The wind blew the sea into great masses of water. The ship was unable to stem the tempest and instead of making headway on this day, she went westward 40 miles.

Another large sea caused great destruction on the cattle deck, and it was found that the deck had been carried away as it was being something unfastened.

Another sea took charge of the life boat, which was supposed to have been secured against any possible damage on the starboard quarter. The waves simply tore it off the side of the ship and it was found that the life boat was carried away as it was being something unfastened.

The third officer, Mr. Stewart, while attending to duties on the life boat, was knocked about and had one of his legs severely injured. He was yesterday sent to hospital for treatment.

Captain Gillies says he had a very rough voyage. He has experienced since 1897, during which winter a number of ships were lost in the Atlantic, and it was found that the Indrani was the last of a long line of ships lost.

The Indrani sailed from Glasgow Friday, Feb. 13, and docked at the I. C. R. pier Saturday afternoon about 4 o'clock. From the time the steamer with her general cargo sailed from the other side she has been tossed about by mountainous waves, driven about by gales and hurricanes and more or less damage was done to the ship. Captain Gillies has had the worst experience on a voyage for years.

From the time he started, there was a succession of heavy westerly gales and when the ship was in 30 W. on Friday, Feb. 20, she encountered a hurricane from the westward. The wind blew the sea into great masses of water. The ship was unable to stem the tempest and instead of making headway on this day, she went westward 40 miles.

St. John's Fastest Growing Store.

General Dry Goods, Women's and Children's Garments, Men's Furnishings, Millinery and Dress-making. Write for samples and quotations of anything you need in Dry Goods. Mail orders always receive prompt attention.

Here's a Bonanza in Women's Walking Skirts, Only $1.98 Each.

This picture represents one of the best styles of walking or dress skirts for spring and summer, 1903. Seven goes with decided flare at the bottom. They are made from a good quality of very dark blue grey Finesse Cheviot. Just the right weight to hang nicely.

Perfect fitting and rightly colored skirt that will win the admiration of any woman (or man). Regular value $9.50. For this special sale only $1.98. Sizes—Length from 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42. Waist measure, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28.

PLEASE NOTE—This lot of skirts are marked at this special price to further introduce our mail order department. If you want one we would advise sending the order at once, as all that are here of this lot next Saturday will be advertised in the St. John daily papers to go on sale Monday morning, March 16. There are about two hundred skirts in this lot but they will only last a few hours after the St. John women hear of them. Please mention this paper when writing.

Write for Samples of our New Dress Goods. They Mean Dollars to You.

Morrell & Sutherland, 29 Charlotte Street, ST. JOHN, N.B. (Opp. Y. M. C. A. Bldg.)

SLAUGHTER HOUSE FOR SAND POINT.

Commissioners to See C. P. R. About Place and Facilities for Killing Diseased or Injured Cattle.

At the monthly meeting of the slaughterhouse commissioners, Friday afternoon, the chair was taken by Commissioner Drake, in the absence of Chairman Hay. The others present were Secretary Shaw, Inspector Simon, Commissioner Berryman, Frink and O'Neil.

The schedule of killing for the month was as follows:

Cattle, Sheep, Calves.

John Doherty... 121
John McCarthy... 18
John McCreery... 29
M. J. Collins... 12
P. O'Connor... 12

The condition of the houses is about the same as usual. Inspector Simon told of a difficulty he had in condemning carcasses unfit for public consumption. He was sent to board in a Scotch family. Being more familiar with the ways and speech of Erin than of Scotia, he failed to catch the significance of "ye mean guine to skul" and, thinking his fate nothing to be trifled with, he protested vigorously, when the frosty but kindly Scot carried the little fellow on his back.

I grieve to relate that somewhat like the ungrateful soldier of fortune, the embryo medic who had been to the aid of the doctor's first college year was spent at Bordeaux, which was then quite a seat of culture, many prominent American men of letters, especially from New England, having studied, and not a few holding a professorship in the medical faculty. One who had the chair of "Belles Lettres" and I think Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Doctor Doherty's uncle, Dr. David McLellan, whom he studied in St. John, had taken a course at Bowdoin. While there young McLellan was kept rather short of funds and on improving his father (Doctor Doherty's grandfather) who had great mills in Londonderry, N. S. McLellan, the elder, did not give his son a stone for bread, but the profits on as many stone of oatmeal as he might find able for.

Commissioner Frink believed it best that the tag system should be introduced as to whether or not the inspector would be acting within his authority. Reference was made to the rules and regulations, and it was found that the inspector would be acting within his authority. Reference was made to the rules and regulations, and it was found that the inspector would be acting within his authority.

He recommended a place of detention and facilities for slaughtering them should be provided on the west side.

It was agreed that Commissioner Frink, acting on behalf of the board, should introduce the matter to the C. P. R.

WANT A WEEKLY SERVICE TO ST. JOHN.

Delegation Asks N. S. Government for Increased Subsidy from Cobeguid Bay Ports to Here.

A delegation from Colchester, including F. A. Laurence, of Truro; T. D. Crowe and Oscar Fulton, of Port-au-Pique, and Edward Fulton, of Bass River, waited on Premier Murray on Thursday in the interests of the weekly steamer connection of the different ports of the Colbeguid Bay with St. John.

The steamer Bruswick, owned by Foster Bros., of Gannock, last season made fortnightly trips, but the increased export and import trade necessitates a more frequent call of the boat. E. C. Dicks was present at the meeting in the interests of the Minas Basin Steamship Company, which is asking for a very much larger subsidy to make the weekly trips. The delegation also asked for a wharf to be built at Port-au-Pique. The government has the matter in consideration—Halifax Herald.

HUSBAND'S DEATH CAUSED WIDOW'S SUICIDE.

Glenn Falls, N. Y., March 9.—Mrs. Fred Foran, wife of the man interpreter, drowned in the disaster at Spiera Falls on Saturday, committed suicide at Warrensburg today, shooting herself. It is thought grief unbalanced her mind.

No more bodies of those drowned have been recovered. The list of missing includes 14 beside those known dead.

The Fredrick Kensington estate, belonging to Lord Kensington, was sold by auction in London on the last inst. for £235,000.

St. John, March 9, 1903.

St. John, March 9, 1903.

St. John, March 9, 1903.

THE INDRANI

IN PORT AFTER A TOUGH VOYAGE.

Huge Waves Ripped Up Cattle Deck, Carried Away Boat and Did Other Damage.

Chart Room Door Smashed In by Mountain of Water—Third Officer Thrown About and Injured—Was Taken to the Hospital.

The Donaldson line steamer Indrani, Captain Gillies, after buffering with the sea and gales for 23 days, arrived, on Saturday afternoon, from Glasgow, Scotland. She had a very rough experience.

The Indrani sailed from Glasgow Friday, Feb. 13, and docked at the I. C. R. pier Saturday afternoon about 4 o'clock. From the time the steamer with her general cargo sailed from the other side she has been tossed about by mountainous waves, driven about by gales and hurricanes and more or less damage was done to the ship. Captain Gillies has had the worst experience on a voyage for years.

From the time he started, there was a succession of heavy westerly gales and when the ship was in 30 W. on Friday, Feb. 20, she encountered a hurricane from the westward. The wind blew the sea into great masses of water. The ship was unable to stem the tempest and instead of making headway on this day, she went westward