

study in France and Italy, and in 1887 entered upon the work of practical architecture in Edinburgh. For 10 yrs. he carried out numerous works, among which may be mentioned, Whiteinch Orphanage, Glasgow; Univ. Hall Buildings, Edinburgh; Model Workmen's Dwellings, Edinburgh, Blainhoyle, Perthshire, etc. He is an Associate of the Royal Inst. of Brit. Architects. In 1891, he was admitted a Univ. Extension Lecturer in connection with Edinburgh Univ., and, in 1896, he was apptd. additional Exam. in Archaeology and Art for the M. A. degree. In July, 1896, he was apptd. to the newly founded McDonald chair of Architecture, in McGill Univ., and in Nov., delivered the annual McGill Univ. lecture on "Architecture in the University." Prof. C.'s elder brother is assist. ed. of The Times, (London); his younger bro. is Prof. of Mech. Engineering at King's Coll., London (England). He is unm.—McGill University, Montreal.

"A gentleman inspired by high ideals and a determination to impart, as far as possible, those ideals to his students."—Can. Architect.

CAPPON, James, educationist, is the s. of T. Cappon, formerly a ship-owner at Dundee, Scot., and was b. there, Mch. 8, 1855. Ed. at Dundee High sch., and at Glasgow Univ., where he chiefly distinguished himself in phil. studies under Prof. Caird (M. A., 1881), he went to Italy, where he spent two yrs. studying modern languages and lecturing on Eng. writers. Returning to Scot., he was for some yrs. a tutor exam. and extra-mural lecturer in connection with Glasgow Univ. Besides various essays on literary and educational subjects, Prof. C. is the author of a work on Victor Hugo (1885), containing an account of that author's life and writings, a work which an English reviewer declares, "proves him a master of Eng. style as well as a vigorous and instructive critic." Apptd. to the chair of Eng. Literature and Language in Queen's Univ., Kingston, 1888, he came to

Can. the same year, and has since established for himself a high reputation as a lecturer, both at the Univ., and in different cities in Ont. in connection with the Univ. Extension Soc. Prof. C. is ed. of the literary section of Queen's Quarterly Mag. He m. May, 1895, Mary Elizabeth, eld. dau. of the late Jas. Macnee, Kingston.—Kingston, Ont.

CARRAY, Felix, merchant and legislator, is the s. of the late Niall Carbray, a native of Tyrone, Irel., by his wife, Catharine Connolly. B. at Holland Farm, St. Foye, Quebec, Dec. 23, 1835, he was ed. at the local schs., and devoted himself to a mercantile life. He is now, and has been for many yrs., senior partner in the firm of Carbray, Routh & Co., genl. comm. merchants, Quebec and Montreal. He is also Consul for Portugal at the port of Quebec, and was until recently a mem. of the Bd. of Harbour Comrs. A R. C. in religion, he is a trustee of St. Patrick's Ch., and of St. Bridget's Asylum, Quebec, and enjoys, very largely, the esteem and confidence of all classes of the population in Quebec. He sat for Quebec West in the Quebec Assembly, 1881-86, when defeated on the Riel question, but was again returned without opposition at g.e. 1892, and again returned at g.e. 1897. While previously in the Legislature, he moved a resolution favouring Home Rule for Irel., which was adopted. In 1896 he was apptd. a del. to the Irish National Convention, at Dublin. Mr. C. m. May, 1864, Margt., dau. of Wm. Carbery, formerly of Carrick-on-Suir, Irel. (she d. May, 1895). His 3rd s., the Rev. Paul Carbray, is a distinguished mem. of the Redemptorist Order, at present stationed at Brooklyn, N. Y.—1 Hamel St., Quebec.

"His whole career has been one of fruitful and useful labour."—Cath. Reg.

CAREY, David A., labour leader, was b. in Dublin, Irel., Jan. 2, 1859. Coming to Quebec with his parents, 1861, he attended one of the separate schs. in that city. By