

No. 10, is a statement of the Receiver General's receipts and payments, from the 1st January to the 5th October, 1839.

This account exhibits a condensed view of what the preceding accounts are the detail—any further remark under this head is therefore unnecessary.

No. 11, is an estimate of the Civil Expenditure of the Province, for the year 1840, exclusive of the appropriations by statute 1st Wm. IV. ch. 14, and 7th Wm. IV. ch. 1, and 109.

The first of these Estimates, is for the support of the Government Office, and the second, that of the office of the Provincial Secretary and Registrar. In noticing those Estimates, your Committee will beg to call the attention of your Honourable House to the change that has been effected in these Departments, by which a part of the duties of the Private Secretary, is performed by the Provincial Secretary—a change that, in the opinion of your Committee, cannot fail to give satisfaction to the public, by greatly facilitating the duties of those two offices. By the Estimate now under consideration, this change is effected without an increased expense to the Province, although the duties of these offices must naturally increase from year to year.

EXPENSE OF THOSE DEPARTMENTS, FOR 1839.

Grant for Government Office,	£2,168
Ditto Office of Provincial Secretary and Registrar,	500
Excess of Contingencies of Government Office, for 1839, ...	1,572

For the Receiver General's Office is £20 additional in clerk's salaries over the grant of last year.

For the Inspector General's Office, one additional Clerk at £170 is charged, and £100 additional for contingencies.

For the Surveyor General's Office, one additional Clerk at £170 additional, and £25 less for contingencies.

For the Adjutant General's Office, £20 additional salary to the Clerk provided for last year, and £200 additional for contingencies: as also £379 15s. 6d. to cover an excess for contingencies for 1838 and 1839, is charged in the Estimates for the current year.
