

each other a little better before I die. I know the fault is not all ours, but we must lead the way—I must lead the way. Go to sleep, old man. I've work to do.'"