PLAYFELLOWS AT HOME.

Countess of Minto and Her Children—Where the Governor-General Also Joins in Their Ramps.

People who complain of the so-called American method of dealing with the rising generation may be interested to know that it is the one pursued by the Countess of Minto, whose husband is the Governor-General of Canada, says a writer in the New York Times. Time was when it was almost impossible to see the children of a Governor-General, if he had any, but Lord Minto's children are always in evidence, they and their parents are the jolliest kind of comrades, and are constantly together. The children share in all the pleasures of their elders, and with the exception of functions of state are present at all social affairs at Government House. They are prominent figures in the private theatricals, which are a favorite form of entertainment under the present regime, and the older ones appear with their parents at the theatre, at skating carnivals, and at various other places.

The Earl and Countess seem, indeed, more like an elder brother and sister with their children than like father and mother. The Governor-General can't be like a school-boy, it is said in the privacy of his family, and Lady Minto, so far from being characterized by that severity which is often associated with the English mother, is the most sympathetic of confidantes for childish troubles.

"I have no doubt you did very well," she is reported to have said once to a small daughter who was complaining of the zeal of her governess, "but you know Froy—a family abbreviation for Fraulein—is never satisfied."

Lady Minto thinks that nothing is too good for her children, and in spite of her numerous social duties and the burdens of public work which she has voluntarily assumed, she finds time to attend personally to their dress and education and everything pertaining to their welfare.

Three of the best and pleasantest rooms at Government House have been set apart for their use, and all sorts of pleasant affairs, which the other children of the Canadian capital often get the benefit, are constantly being planned for them.

Christmas, though celebrated quietly, with only the household and house party, is a great occasion, and much trouble is taken to make the advent of Santa Claus interesting.

One year the great ball-room was converted into a winter garden, with trees that bore the presents, real socks and any quantity of frost and snow. On another occasion the good ship Santa Claus, ablaze with lights from stem to stern, cast anchor at Port Elliott and proved to have all sorts of wonderful things in her hold.

Whatever may be the effect of this system of education on American children, it has certainly produced none but the most desirable results in the case of the young Elliots.

They are absolutely simple and unassuming young people, and appear to be quite unconscious that their position in life is any different from that of ordinary mortals.

Lady Eileen, who came out only last winter, and is now eighteen years of age, is immensely popular in Canadian society, and of Lord Selkirk, the eldest son, who is about twelve, many pretty stories are told. One of these dates back to the great Ottawa fire, when his small lordship attracted much attention by giving his boots to a little fire sufferer who had the misfortune to be without footwear.

"I didn't need them," he explained to the hundreds of admirers of his party, from whom he had strayed for a few minutes, "as I am going to drive home, and the other boys hadn't any."

There is one other son, the Hon. Edmund Elliot, a fascinating little fellow of six or seven, and two daughters, who are between Lord Selkirk and Lady Eileen. Lady Ruby is just a little younger than the eldest sister, and will probably be introduced with her to English society next year.

Lady Violet is a jolly little girl in her earliest teens, who is generally regarded as her father's favorite.

As a housewife Lady Minto can scarcely be said to have any American characteristics, for she gives careful attention to the prosaic details of housekeeping, and is an excellent manager.

Lady Minto's public work has not attracted so much attention as that of her predecessor, the Countess of Aberdeen, but it is perhaps not less important. She does things in a different way, but she works very nearly as hard and to quite as much purpose. Her chief public interest in Canada has been the Victorian Order of Nurses, and the organization owes much to her untiring exertions.

Through her efforts numerous cottage hospitals which cannot fail to have an important effect on immigration have been established in the sparsely settled districts of Canada, and she is now engaged in getting the order endowed at an expense of $125,000.

For education, particularly manual training and domestic science, Lady Minto also does much, and it is mainly through her efforts that the graves of the Canadian soldiers who fell in South Africa are now being located and marked.

In appearance Lady Minto is strikingly youthful and so like her eldest daughter that they are often taken for one another. She is a tall, slight woman, dresses very artistically, and always wears and has flowers about her. Her manner has a charm which is not easily defined, but which has combined with her rare and more serious qualities to make her one of the most popular of British Vice-Queens.

Warning for Young People. Woebeaden intends to warn young persons from plays that are not suited to them. The theatre management has decided to advertise plays that they may see with white posters, while those they should keep away from are printed on red paper.

NEW FASHIONS.

Walking Suits Most Popular—Eton Suits.

A walking suit, ankle length, will be found indispensable this summer. Black or navy blue, either in mixed or plain goods, is the most serviceable. The jacket should be blouse and the skirt strapped or plaited.

For afternoon wear nothing can be prettier than an etamine, either in white, cream or pale gray with touches of satin or panne and a little white about the neck and front.

Light crushed strawberry is admirable with black and pale blue and lends itself admirably to touches of ecru lace.

For cool days there are very effective flannel shirt waists with bands of embroidery which transform them, and for warm weather very smart linens and batiste embroidered in white. There is besides, of course, a full line of dainty sheer waists.

Skirts with yokes are just now very fashionable, and this is a very becoming style for the woman whose hips incline to plumpness.

The hat in the illustration is of red straw, trimmed with poppies.

DRESS TRIMMINGS.

Artistic Bits of Lace and Fringe Which "Make" a Gown.

Lace collars are greatly improved by touches of embroidery, and it is quite easy to find some large wheel or scroll which can be removed or altered to admit an embroidered medallion.

wear and will appear on all the new coats and boleros and on evening coats and carriage wraps. Everything will be done to give an air of novelty to these collars, and velvet tabs of various designs will be used and ribbons run in and out of the more open designs.

Fringe is used to give a good effect on smart wraps, and it is seen on dressy gowns of all kinds. It is dyed to match the gown with which it is used.

Dresses with the trimmings, even to the lace, dyed to match are a fad of the hour. Utility dresses of black and white figured and checked foulards will be much seen this year. These gowns are made without any lace as trimming, and they are decorated simply with strappings, tiny pipings and fancy buttons.

The all black gown is, as a rule, very effective, particularly if the bodice be embroidered with really good jet or silver. Black lace robes with many ruffles around the bottom are trimmed with jet stripes or detached figures.

The picture shows an evening gown of cream mull over green silk. It is trimmed with medallions of black and white lace.

KIDNEY TROUBLE

CURED BY DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS FOR PALE PEOPLE.

Sufferers from this Disease are in Great Peril and Should Not Experiment with Other Medicines.

From the Sun, Seaford, Ont.

The kidneys are the most important organs. They must filter every drop of blood in the body. If the blood is weak the kidneys cannot do their work, so the blood is left unfiltered and foul, and the kidneys are left clogged with poisonous impurities. Then come the backaches that mean fatal kidney disease. Don't neglect that backache for a moment. Strike at the root of the very first symptoms of kidney trouble by enriching the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—the only medicine that makes the blood rich, red and healthy.

Mr. William Holland, of Seaford, Ont., has proved that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure the most obstinate case of kidney trouble. To a reporter of the Sun he freely gave the particulars of his case: "I have suffered from kidney trouble for about two years," said Mr. Holland.

"Sometimes the backache which accompanied the trouble would be so severe that I would be unable to work, and I have often suffered severely for weeks at a time. I tried a number of medicines said to be a cure for kidney trouble, but I found nothing to help me until on the advice of a friend I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills soon began to make their good work felt, and after using them for about a month every vestige of the trouble had disappeared, and I have not since had a single symptom of the disease. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have proved a great blessing to me and I am always glad to say a good word in their favor."

As a curative medicine Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have never yet been equalled. They build up the blood and nerves, give new strength and enable the body to resist disease. Among the complaints cured by these pills are rheumatism, nervous disorder, paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, indigestion, anaemia, lung troubles, and the troubles that make the lives of so many women miserable. Sold by all medicine dealers, or sent post paid at 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50, by writing direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. Don't take a substitute at any price—only the genuine pills can cure.

An Excellent Reason. "Why do you call it a feminine complaint?" "Because there is a sting in it." Minneapolis Tribune.

Correct. "The plural, then, of 'wife' is what?" The teacher asked. Said Boss, "A most precocious little tot, 'It's bigamy, I vee.'"
