South Bend Chilled Plough.

To the Farmers of Middlesex

GENTLEMEN,—Having the agency for the sale of the Celebrated South Bend Chilled Iron and Fine Tempered Steel Plough, both walking and riding, in different sizes, suitable for all kinds of soil, farmers can now be supplied with the very best plow now in use in the United States or Canada, which is plainly shown by reports of trials recently held in the United States—that the draft of this plough is about one-third less than any other. Although competing with all what are called first-class ploughs, our castings are superior to what is used in any other. One thousand recommends can be furnished from farmers in the counties of Kent, Elgin and Middlesex, who have used them in all conditions of ploughing, some of whom say they have ploughed even as high as 100 acres with one point, which shows the exceeding hardness of the material used, also the very small expense necessary to keep them in order. A two days' trial given if desired. A full stock of ploughs and all repairs constantly on hand—A. WESTMAN, dealer in general hardware. (This Company has no connection with the Oliver Plough Co., of South Bend, Ind.) 111 Dundas street, London, and 42 McCormick's Block, London East. Agents wanted. 189-c
