O. J. Osman, Speaker of the local legislature, said that the representative friendship barred partnership to a certain extent, still if he could not speak on behalf of his friend, Mr. Emerson, then good-bye to the speakership. (Applause.)

Senator Donville gave an eloquent address, in which he ridiculed the charges made against Mr. Emerson.

Who were they made by? asked Senator Donville. The representatives from Albert only, for we repudiated him in Kings. He said the senate would sustain Emerson and so too would every member from New Brunswick of this house of commons, accepting, perhaps, the member who made the charge.

Previous to the meeting Mr. Emerson and other visitors were escorted by the hand down Main street from the hotel. Hundreds of cheering spectators lined the route.

BIRRELL BILL IN DEATH THROES

Obsequies Likely to be Performed on June 3rd.

Measure Continues to be Uppermost Topic of Discussion in Political Circles in United Kingdom

LONDON, May 29.—The situation resulting from the rejection of Mr. Birrell's Irish council bill by the Dublin convention continues to be the uppermost topic of discussion in political circles in the United Kingdom.

Bound up with the fate of Mr. Birrell's bill is the future of Sir Antony Patrick McDonnell, under secretary to the lord lieutenant of Ireland, whom the Nationalists consider responsible for the non-fulfillment of many of the government's Irish promises and whom they are determined to oust from office by every means in their power.

The Irish Reform Association, of which Lord Dunraven is president, is the latest organization to criticize adversely this unhappy bill.

At a meeting today, a resolution was passed declaring that the measure ignored legislative functions altogether, that it did not take into account the question of financial relations or pretend to deal with great public works, and that it was generally absolutely inadequate.

THOUSANDS ARE IDLE IN SAN FRANCISCO

Streets Tied up all Lines of Industry—Streets Crowded With People Seeking Employment.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 30.—Harbor Commission W. W. Stafford has submitted this report to Governor Gillette: "The San Francisco seamen's strike has a membership of nine hundred. At this time but fifty are working regularly. The majority of the members in the union are taking turn about for this employment."

Of about 600 clerks and salesmen in retail stores, 2,000 are out of employment and those that are working get two days off weekly, some with, and some without pay.

There are 12,000 ironworkers, 2,000 carmen, 500 telephone girls and 1,500 laundry workers out on strike.

Ten thousand men of the building trades are out of work through strikes. Up to a month ago architects took draftsmen who could not speak English and were glad to get them. Now there are four or five applications in every office and no work to be had.

Four thousand laborers on street railway work are laid off. They walk the street in droves looking for work and congest the employment offices.

RUMOR CAUSED UNEASINESS

Great Precautions Taken at Mrs. McKinley's Funeral

Was Reported That Brother of Assassin of President McKinley Would be Present to Seek Revenge.

CANTON, Ohio, May 29.—Despite a rumor of doubtful origin that Michael Czolgosz, a brother of the assassin of President McKinley would be in Canton today, the funeral of Mrs. McKinley and the contingent visit of President Roosevelt passed off without incident of sinister note.

Taking precaution against the one chance in a thousand that the rumor of Czolgosz's presence here was true, the local police, assisted by secret service men from Washington and Cleveland for the same reason tomorrow, during the president's stay in the city.

No trace whatsoever was found of Czolgosz, nor any anarchist, although three strangers to the city were held in the jail during the president's stay.

There was nothing against them, however, and they were released this evening. That the police were taking no chances was made evident by the quick shift in the arrangements made at the McKinley home. All friends and relatives of the McKinley family left by the front door to go to their carriages.

Crowds had gathered in front of the place including a number of men with cameras who wished to catch snapshots of the president.

A large crowd had gathered and asked for a speech, but the president lifted his hat and wished them "good luck."

At Akron, Ohio, May 29.—It was half an hour after the president boarded his car at Canton before it left for Akron Junction. A large crowd assembled in the vicinity and the president several times appeared on the platform and wished the people "good luck," to which they responded with rousing cheers.

Incidentally, on one occasion, he took advantage of the opportunity to say a word about his visit and of the beautiful home life of Mr. and Mrs. McKinley. He said as follows:

"We have come here today to attend the funeral of Mrs. McKinley. President McKinley rendered very great services to this nation as a public man, but no greater than he and Mrs. McKinley rendered by a home life which could well be an example to all our nation. The essential things after all are the homely things. President McKinley served his country as an American citizen should serve his country in time of war and in time of peace. But it was in his own home, perhaps, that he was in the devotion to the loving woman we have just buried. He gave the best example to us all."

President Roosevelt introduced Vice-President Fairbanks to the crowd, and the vice-president bowed his acknowledgments. Mr. Fairbanks is travelling with the president to Indianapolis, where the dedication of the Lawton monument.

At Akron Junction the president's car was connected with a train for Greenwich, Ohio, where a stop was made for the night.

MR. EMMERSON ON THE WITNESS STAND TODAY IN HIS OWN DEFENCE

Proof of Publication of the Alleged Libel is First Procedure

Explains at Some Length the St. Lawrence Hall Incident—He Was Never Ejected from a Montreal Hotel But Left There in Company With Ladies, Who Had Been Insulted by an Ignorant Porter—St. Lawrence Hall Clerk Gives Evidence.

FREDERICTON, N. B., May 29.—Hon. H. R. Emmerson has taken the first step in the law courts of the country by which he intends to punish the authors of the alleged libellous article which appeared in the Gleaner editorial, entitled "In Parliament," in March last.

Today's proceedings with two essences did not last an hour, adjournment being made until tomorrow morning. Today only two witnesses were examined, and these only to show publication. Others will be put on the stand for the same reason tomorrow, and possibly important witnesses will be put on to prove the falsity of the article before witnesses for the defence will be heard.

Premier Pugsley and Hon. Mr. Emmerson arrived this afternoon on the Montreal train, being over an hour late. Both gentlemen are registered at the Queen. During the evening, Mr. Emmerson was the centre of a group of friends and well-wishers.

Mr. Emmerson, speaking tonight about the future conduct of the prosecution, said that he did not wish to anticipate his case, but that he thought that there would be surprises in store for the defence.

The case tonight makes no editorial mention of the trial, but concludes its news story with the following paragraph:

"Hon. Mr. Emmerson, who was in court, displayed much nervousness and was continually tearing up paper."

Friends of Mr. Emmerson say that this is but a continuation of a campaign of dirt that during the trial Mr. Emmerson received a telegram announcing the death at Portland, Maine, of an uncle whom he had always held in the highest regard.

Mr. Emmerson upon opening the telegram placed it in his pocket and tore the envelope in pieces.

The preliminary examination of Jas. P. Pugsley, managing director of the Gleaner on a charge of criminal libel, was begun this morning before Colonel Marsh, the veteran police magistrate of the city.

Mr. McLeod—My learned friend then cut this sentence out and put it alone in evidence.

O. S. Crockett asked whether the copy was submitted as evidence.

Mr. Pugsley—If my learned friend will listen to the proceedings he has probably had the intelligence to know what is taking place.

The magistrate ruled that the sentence could be admitted alone.

J. D. Black, editor of the Gleaner was next called in showing publication and provided evidence which did not amount to anything. He was very uncommunicative.

When questioned whether the Gleaner circulated in the United States or Quebec, "In Quebec," he replied, "it did and also out to the Pacific coast."

Questioned further, he said that he did not know who was the editor of his paper, although he admitted that he had heard Mr. Crockett called by this term on the street. His own office was "upstairs," and he had nothing to do with the editorials. He did not know who wrote the article in question. He did not know whether the Gleaner was published on March 27 last, but he supposed it was, if it were not a holiday or Sunday. He did not know who was the Mr. Emmerson referred to in the article, but from the whole article he had an idea that "H. R. Emmerson, ex-minister of railways," was meant. Asked who set up the editorial matter in the composing room, he replied that no one knew.

Black was then dismissed. A discussion followed between the opposing counsel as to who could be called to prove publication, the defence again expressing their desire to assign the account of important business, which Colonel Marsh said he would grant.

Mr. Hazen said that he was much opposed to any additional adjournment of the trial, but that he had been a distance and they were being kept here at considerable expense.

Mr. Pugsley said that if Colonel Marsh so desired his colleagues could (Continued on Page 11.)

THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS TAKEN IN; ONLY $20, OR LESS, REFUNDED

IT IS A TRIBUTE TO OUR FAIR DEALING, and demonstrates the confidence reposed in our way of doing business that at our great Trade Extension Sale just ended less than $20 was handed back to people who could not be exactly suited, or who had misunderstood our advertisements, which we think were quite plain and unexceptional. Most of this money was refunded because of inability to furnish sizes, etc., the rush was so great. And mind you, good friends, we said continually that we would cheerfully refund money when goods were not up to expectations. Only $20 in thousands—an almost clean sheet. What's the moral?

JAPAN IS STILL SORE OVER FRISCO'S POLICY

Papers are Urging an Appeal to Washington.

For the Removal of Grievances Which Must Prevent the Existence of Friendly Feelings

TOKYO, May 30.—The Asahi, this morning in its leader emphasizes in carefully guarded words, its opinion of the absence of sincerity on the part of the San Francisco municipal officials in protecting the treaty rights of Japanese residents and insists on the necessity of approaching the Washington Government with a demand that decided measures be taken to exterminate the course of persecution against Japanese citizens.

The Asahi also refers with appreciation to the warm reception of General Kuroki in America and regrets that the recurrence of the San Francisco incident has blurred the cordial relations of both nations.

For the sake of humanity and civilization and the perpetuation of friendly relations, the Asahi recommends the complete removal of all sources of a trouble which endangers the traditional friendship of the United States and Japan.

TOKYO, May 30.—A leading newspaper here referring to the recent attack upon Japanese in San Francisco, expresses the hope that they themselves at one time, in obedience to anti-foreign sentiment, committed outrages on Americans, but that the last work of counting the ballots began in the general offices here last Monday and was concluded tonight. Considerable interest was taken in the result, which was made known late in the evening.

HUNDREDS ARE STILL STARVING IN CHINA

SHANGHAI, May 30.—The famine which has prevailed for many weeks causing hundreds of deaths and great suffering, has been broken. The crops are still thin, but the hot weather of the past month has been favorable to a good crop.

American gifts have supplied milk regularly to 100 babes in one of the temples while 200 more have been nursed occasionally. The children are left with their parents or relations, as the Chinese dread foreign nurses. What is left of the gift will be turned over to the Red Cross Society to relieve individual cases of need and to grapple with the next crisis.
