RAIN YESTERDAY IS CAUSE OF TWIN BILL

(Hamilton Spectator)

London Free Press: Yesterday's ain up till noon caused the postonement of the third game of the Brantford series here, as the field of play was too heavy to play upon. However,if Jupiter Pluvius withholds another drenching to-day the two clubs will engage in a double-header at Tecumseh Park this afternoon. Hammond and Caesar will hurl for the locals, while Walker and Rynearson will do duty on the hill for Man-

Some contend that there has been dissension among the players. This is a fact, but Cy Reidy is the only player on the team at the present time who is not giving the club his best ability to his team and his actions on the field and off towards some of his team mates is reason

+----Sporting Comment

Rain yesterday spoiled everything in the Canadian League circuit except the Guelph-Ottawa fixture and the Senators lost after winning seven straight. It was another of those mysterious games in which Ottawa was just hosed out although they were outhit almost 2 to 1 and made five errors. It is simply wonderful how the Champions accumulate runs on very few hits, and how few runs their opponents make no matter how they hit. There is some luck about it and also good playing. It will be worth while to study their tactics while here next week.

Merlin Kopp started off in Washington by dropping an easy fly ball, making a hit and scoring a run. Kopp rarely drops fly balls so evidently must have been nervous as yesterday he accepted two chances and made a three-bagger. It is some jump from this league to the American League some of his team mates is reason and if Kopp makes good it will take sufficient to account to some extent him a couple of weeks to get upon his feet. Then the patrons of that lea-gue will see a very fair imitation of Ty Cobb going around the bases.
