THE FARMERSVILLE REPORTER.

General News.

Potatoes are rotting in some places. Henry Ward Beecher, who was reported as dangerously ill, at his home on the Hudson, is slightly better.

An exchange says a man begins to occupy half a seat when he gets married. This is true, and after the first baby comes he begins to occupy half of the outside bed rail. And sometimes, when the baby is particularly restless, he is glad to grab a quilt and sleep on the floor.

The latest novelty in the shape of a house is being built by Church Brown, at 720 Jefferson avenue, Detroit. The first story is of gray sandstone; the second of brick, and projects two feet over the first. The third is also of brick, plastered over and sanded, and projects two feet over the second story.

A gentle breeze that was wafted over Dakota the other day swept away churches, schoolhouses, stores, dwellings and warehouses, blew away horses and cattle and killed many people. Ontario farmers who contemplate migrating to Dakota had better take another look around the farm and decide to stay at home.

On September 15, 1883, a trichinosis pig was slaughtered in a little town of Saxony. The meat was sold in that and surrounding villages. It was eaten in a raw state as mince meat. From this 361 cases of trichinosis are known to have occurred, fifty-seven of which proved fatal. Surely this pig was more ferocious in death than in life.

An old negro woman, who was at one time a dark ginger-cake color, has turned white with the exception of a few liver-colored spots on her face and arms. "Aunt Kitty" says that the remaining spots are disappearing very fast, and if the old negress is spared to live a few years longer it will be one instance to be recorded where a negress was born black and turned white. Her age, and the fact that she now has great-grandchildren, is an evidence of her health.

A number of Maine girls have formed a protective union and adopted these resolutions:—That we receive the attention of no self-styled young gentleman who has not learned some business or some steady employment; for it is apprehended that after the bird is caught it may starve in the cage. That we will promise to marry no young man unless he is a patron of his local newspaper, for it is not only a strong evidence of his want of intelligence, but that he will prove too stingy to provide for a home or encourage institutions of learning in his community.

At a picnic between Fairfax and Clifton stations, Virginia Midland railroad, on the 4th of July, Charles Jackson, colored, shot a colored man named Gaskins in the forehead. The weapon used was a revolver, and the ball split in two when it struck Gaskins' head, the pieces passing around his head and meeting at the back, where they were cut out by a physician. The first remark elicited from Gaskins was: "Dat ain't nuffin. I wa' blown 100 feet in the air by a steamboat 'slosion, and was not hurt much," and a large scar on the back of his neck seemed to give color to his claim.

L. L. L.

The following is a sample of the many letters we receive for our Lamb's Lubricating Liniment, and shows to the public its fame is fast becoming known abroad as well as home. One bottle will convince the most incredulous of its wonderful curative powers:

LANCASTER, June 20th 1884.

Mr. J. P. Lamb,

DEAR SIR:—Please send me one dozen of your L. L. Liniment as soon as possible, as I intend going away soon and I want to take some with me, it is such a good medicine to keep in the house for almost every complaint or accident. We think it will cure almost anything, and have, as you know, used it a long time, always giving the best satisfaction.

Mother is troubled with the rheumatism and it always helps her and the only thing she ever got to give her relief. We would not be without it for a good deal and hope it may become widely known that it may give relief to many sufferers.

Yours truly,
ANNIE J. NICHOLSON.
