Mearly all the characters in this story are taken from real life. Mr. Morgan's eight years of missionary experience in Boston, among the poor, have furnished him with the facts of which he writes. Of these facts he has made good use, and produced a story of much worth. one in which we see a great deal of life as it, sand as it is likely to remain for some time; though under the wise and benevolent habors of Mr. Morgan, and other good and able men, improvement must steadily take place.

"A Drive to Clifton" crowded out this issue—will appear next week.
