IT'S OVER NOW.

It's over now, the shouting's past, It's over now, the shouting's past,
And we can sleep in peace at last. [ing,
Hands that shook have stopped their shakHearts that hoped have started aching. The shouts, the yells, the deafening cheers The hoots, the groans, desisive jeers, The men who vote and do not pray, The men who prayed and stayed away; Those who won and those lost,
Those who bear the brunt of cost;
The torch that made the evening day
Then flickered out in dark decay; Then flickered out in dark decay;
The rocket, hissing eye of light,
That searched the darkness of the night;
The band that got on the biggest toot,
The rooter who did the loudest root;
The man who won and had his say,
The man who lost and hid away—
It's over now, the yowling's past,
And we can sleep in peace at last.
And those who have a tale of woe,
The chap who says "I told you so"
The man who won, the man who's glad
The chap who's licked most awful bad—
Soon we'll all be friends again,
And we'll never think of the might-have-

RETURNS TO BROCKVILLE.

After an absence from home for over 30 years the Brockville and Elizabethtown Agricultural Fair has decided to do as the prodigal, whose history is given in the great book, when he arrived at the wise conclusion to arise in his manhood and return to his father's house where there was plenty to guarantee comfert. The public vote was taken on the question of Unionville or Brockville on Monday last. The statutes define the qualification of voters to be two years standing as a member. Under it the possible vote was 122. Of this number only 50 embraced the golden privilege and of that number 49 voted Brockville, only one vote being cast for Unionville. But little interest was manifested as to holding it when it was Forth brothers would all vote Brock-

On Wednesday last, E. A. Geiger and Marsh Ripley lett Newboro in a skiff to mark out the course for the canoe route on the Rideau, Beverley and Charleston lases, by putting compass points and white paint spots to mark the course more clear along hose points and outlets where tourists are most puzzeled and sometimes ge lost alt gether in the maze of islands and bays. They spent a most enjoy. able time sailing on the lakes, reaching Lyndhurst at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening and Calar Park hotel Thurs lay afternoon at 4 o'clock, remaining there untill Frider morning when they drove to Athens and ok the train, Mr. Geiger going to Brockville and Mr. Ripley to Elgin. The route is cor ectly described on the margin of the folder sent on application. Sup't Goiger, of the B. & W. Ry. is receiving man applications daily for his new guide of the lakes, and with the im over hotel accomplation at Portland, Newboro Chaffee's Locks, Jones' Falls and Charleston Lake, the oute is becoming very popular.

The Giant's Organ. One of the most interesting features of the Giant's causeway is "the giant's Spring organ." This huge "instrument" consists of a group of pillars of various lengths set apart on the side of the main cliff. The larger columns being in the center and the smaller ones tapering off on either side after the fashion of organ pipes admirably sustain the idea which the name "giant's organ"
