The story is a good one, full of pathos, wit and humor, and the situation is clever and well worked out. ## KEEP TO THE RIGHT

John Piggott Has Something to say to Pedestrians and Drivers

Tells of Experiences in Other Places—Something Worthy of Serious Consideration

"I saw an article in last night's Planet that I thought was very commendable, but it didn't go half far enough."

John Piggott was the speaker. Continuing he said: "It dealt with the necessity of pedestrians keeping to the right when entering or leaving the post office, and also of vehicles doing the same on the streets. Now I think it is time that the people were educated to this in all its stages. I think Chatham is about the worst place I ever saw for that. People on the streets stand and talk, blocking up the entire sidewalk passage way and pay no heed to other pedestrians."

"Of all places, I think London, England, is the easiest to get about in. With its thronged thoroughfares there is not as much trouble as here in Chatham. The larger the place the easier it is for people to get about. Why is this? Because the people are educated to it and because they are compelled by city ordinances."

"In the little country village, it is customary for the people to congregate about the village store or blacksmith shop to while away an idle hour, but as the place becomes larger and adopts metropolitan ways so should the people conform to the evolution of things."

Chatham is no longer a country village, yet many of the detrimental features of a small town still cling. It is time the Council passed a by-law for vehicle traffic. But this is not where the training should be begun.

"It is in our Public and High schools that the first lessons should be given. Then it would grow up with the rising generations. The children from our schools flock along the street and the majority of them pay little heed to other pedestrians. In driving, much the same careless, haphazard way is followed. In France the vehicles pass as they do here—to the right, but in London, England, the more sensible method of passing to the left is adopted. By this method the drivers can see where they are driving and use inches where we use feet. Then again it is time that some steps were taken to stop this practice of blocking King street with vehicles. Surely there is plenty of room in the city to fit horses without lining them all along the main street. When the electric line is running the street will be completely blocked unless something is done."

INCHES AVENUE

The Matter of a Walk on this Street is not Yet Settled, So Says Mr. Fitzsimmons

The Inches avenue sidewalk matter is not settled yet, although at present Mayor Cowan is on top. This is the statement given out by Harry Fitzsimmons, who is working against Mayor Cowan to get the sidewalk widened inside the trees.

Mr. Fitzsimmons presented a petition sufficiently signed to put the walk inside the trees and it was decided to prepare a by-law to grant the prayer of the petition. A meeting was made out after the first petition was received. Mr. Fitzsimmons thinks this man's name should be ruled off Mayor Cowan's petition. The work is not going on owing to the wet weather, but if it were gone on with it is said in his mind would be issued to stop the work.

It is understood a meeting of the Council will be held to-night or to-morrow to decide where the walk will go and see if some amicable arrangement can be made.

The Letter-Box

RALEIGH STREET AGAIN.

To the Editor of The Planet: Dear Sir,—Kindly allow me to draw the attention of the "powers that be" to the disgraceful state of Raleigh street.

Near the C. P. R. track the street is nothing but a sheet of mud, and the state of the street railway track has for over a month been such that some of the residents cannot get in a supply of coal. One resident says he would move out but cannot get a wagon near his lot.

Now that the moving company has started work, have our Council no power to force the electric railway to complete their section of the road and let us have our street put in shape this fall? Or are we to submit to a mud bath of mud with no sewer intake in proper condition. If the electric road do not intend to use Raleigh St. past the C. P. R., why not cancel their franchise for that section and let the pavement go down?

Yours truly,
A RALEIGH ST. RESIDENT.

WREATH FROM CANADA

Sent to London For the Nelson Centennial Celebration.

Especially Requested by St. Catharines Victory and Britannia Lodges of the Sons and Daughters of England That It Be Sent to Prince Edward of Wales in Name of Boys and Girls of Canada.

London, Oct. 19.—(C. A. P.)—In connection with the Nelson centennial a wreath has just arrived from St. Catharines, from the Victory and Britannia Lodges of the Sons and Daughters of England. It is to be given to Lord Strathcona at the Nelson centennial dinner to be given by the Fishmongers' Co. on the eve of Trafalgar Day, and will be handed over to the prime warden. It will then be taken on Saturday to the Royal Albert Hall demonstration. It is especially requested that it be sent to Prince Edward of Wales in name of the boys and girls of Canada.

KING OPENS "KINGSWAY."

Ceremonial Recognition of London's Costly and Improved Thoroughfare.

London, Oct. 19.—The fine new thoroughfare formed by Kingsway and Aldwych, connecting the Strand and Holborn, through the heart of congested London, was opened yesterday by King Edward with considerable ceremonial. Queen Alexandra and other members of the royal family were present. The route was lined with troops, the decorations were on a pretentious scale and immense crowds gathered to participate in the event.

The new street is considered to be the most important improvement carried out in the metropolis since the construction of Regent street in 1820. The work occupied six years and cost over $30,000,000, of which it is estimated that two-thirds will be recovered by the sale of building sites.

The thoroughfare is three-quarters of a mile in length and a hundred yards wide. The notorious slums of the neighborhood have been eradicated. Underground trolley cars run beneath the new street.

RHODES' SCHOLARSHIPS VACANT.

Several Communities Fail to Send Candidates to Oxford.

London, Oct. 19.—Sixty-seven names have been added to the Rhodes' scholarship list at Oxford, bringing the number up to 150 for the present year. Several of the communities concerned have failed in the last two years to send qualified candidates.

In 1904 five states and territories in the United States failed to qualify candidates, and this year ten failed, namely, Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Montana, Nevada, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah and Wyoming.

Fifteen American and two Colonial scholarships are now vacant through the lack of duly qualified scholars. When the scholarships lapse through failure of this kind they are not filled up in the succeeding year, but only in the regular cycle of appointment.

THE ENTOMOLOGISTS.

Ontario Society Meets at Guelph and Discusses Various Pests.

Guelph, Oct. 19.—The 42nd annual meeting of the Entomological Society of Ontario opened at the Ontario Agricultural College yesterday, and will continue for a couple of days. The attendance is the largest yet, and includes some of the most prominent entomologists on the American Continent. In the absence of the president, J. D. Evans of Trenton, N. J., the chair was filled by Dr. James Fletcher, C. E. F., of Ottawa.

J. B. Williams discussed insects prevalent in Toronto district. C. J. Young of Ottawa spoke of the alder plant louse, and Dr. Bethune of London and others discussed the cottony maple scale, tussock moth, white grub, wireworms, twelve-spotted asparagus beetle, Hessian fly, and pea weevil. An address on the tussock moth in Quebec was given by Rev. Dr. Fyles of Quebec, who pointed out that its favored food plant was the white willow. The moth was given credit for doing more harm than it really did. The food plant for the moth in Toronto and Guelph was the horse chestnut. In Ottawa it was the maple. A remedy was the spraying of trees with Paris green. The evening session included addresses of welcome from President Creelman of the O. A. C. and B. Barlow, president of the Wellington Field Naturalists' Club; an inaugural address by Dr. Fletcher, and an illustrated address by Dr. J. B. Smith on "The Mosquito Extirpation in New Jersey."
