The public has regarded the note as a diplomatic document of probably greater importance of any incidental to the war. The first comment onit in the newspaper officer tonight. however, was that the note was less specific in stating the American complaints than had been expected.

It had been generally assumed that it contained details of various causes on which complaints were based.

The American protest continues to be the foremost feature in the European press. The British foreign secretary and Ambassador Page had a conference concerning it today. It is understood that Great Britain will make a reply to the note in a few days, probably next week.
