of any election trial. We don't wish to be considered an apologist or defender of Mr. Willis or Mr. any-body else, but we cannot see why the Attorney General's Candidate more than any common man, can claim exemption from the Purity of Election Act. Attorney General King made the Act; can he object to its operation? The Telegraph thought it was good—very good law; why should it not experience its benefits? It has been reported that Mr. Marshall's election was tainted with bribery and corruption; that Mr. King and his lieutenants had determined at all risks and all hazards to secure Mr. Marshall's return and his return was secured, but at a cost. Such a report if not disproved is highly damaging to the reputation of not only Mr. Marshall, and the cancing of the community—where with an interest of our legislature, prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors to minore and the enactment in question as such as the police. Such a report if not disproved is highly damaging to the reputation of not only Mr. Marshall, reputation of hot only ... but also to that of Mr. King and Mr. Elder, and we imagine if the report is false, and the Election was pure and honest and honestle, that these gentlemen would court investigation, would defy their opponents to prove their charges, and would afford them every encouragement to proceed with the trial. Innocent men are always glad of an opportunity to clear their names of a stigma. We are sorry to say that the Telegraph and Watchman are not taking this course, but by hounding the ory of malicious persecution, etc., and by holding up the gentlemen engaged in it to public reprobation, are endeavoring to stifle enquiry. We don't say that Mr. King is guilty of corrupt practices; we hope the high character he has borne will come through the trial perfectly spotless; but we do say that the course adopted by his organs is calculated to excite suspicion.

The Election law was passed to secure the perfect independence of the Electors, and completely pure Elections, sad it must be evident. but also to that of Mr. King and Mr. Elder, and we imagine if the report is false, and the Election was pure and honest and honorable, that these gentlemen would court investigation, would defy their opponents to prove their charges, and would afford them every encouragement to proceed with the trial. The Election law was passed to secure the perfect independence of the Electors, and completely pure Elections, and it must be evident that upon the popularity of the Act rests its power to purify constituencies, for if petitioners and then backers are systematically exhibited in the public prints as malicious creatures, bent on gratifying their private spite, and are pictured as men to be despised and shunned in respectable circles, it is grident that few men would care to act as men would care to act as tioners. The License Question

A decision of the Supreme Cour of Nova Scotia affirming the con stitutionality of the Nova Scotia License Law, and sustaining a conviction of the Clerk of Incenses, at Sydney (where Licenses have been refused by the Sessions), was made on 12th, and it may be a matter of interest to show the points wherein this decision diverges from the deci-Light" has proved totally inadequate sion of our Supreme Court.

Our readers will recollect that a company composed of some of our leading men was formed three years ago to build the Cape Tormentine Railway; that the local Government subsidy of $5000 per mile was secured; that a survey was made, and responsible contractors offered to build it on terms within the means of the government, which is the property of the company. Mr. Smith said the Dominion Government were in fact only waiting to see the result of the Winter Boat experiment—and if a failure they intended at once to commence and construct Railway immediately. Mr. Smith's pledges were clear and distinct on this point, and the time has now arrived when they are to be redeemed or repudiated. We hope the Hon. Mr. Smith will allow no time to clapse in informing the people of his intentions, as this is a public work respecting which the people of Sackville, Westmorland and Botsford will not be trifled.
