thope, however, as he believed that in its present position, and with such favorable connections as it now possessed, the road would secure a good portion of the great trade which the demand for American products in England and the activity of business along the line seemed to promise. The Company, he believed, had reason to anticipate a bright future.

Dublik, Nov. 4.—A meeting of the Central Executive of the Ladies' Land League yesterday was attended by Helen Taylor, a member of the London School Board, who came over to throw in herlot with Miss Parnell and assistants. She said every Englishman or Englishwoman who had the smallest respect for constitutional liberty was morally bound to enter the strongest protest against the iniquities now disgracing the English in Ireland. Miss Taylor was appointed a member of the Political Prisoners' Aid Society. Miss Taylor was appointed a member of the Political Prisoners' Aid Society. There is a good deal of jubilation existing in the League quarters at the result of the municipal elections in the great lirish centres, in England, on Tuesday.
