THE DEMON ABROAD.

On our dear little Island, surrounded by sea,
We have comfort and plenty—from war we are free;
We have laws to protect us—the Bible to read,
We have friends to direct us, and all that we need—
But there is a serpent, that ranges our land,
And scatters contention through our social band,
Turns man into monster—brings woman to shame—
He dreads not our censure—he seeks for no fame—
Just go to our prisons, and you may behold,
An object of pity, whom rum made so bold;
He took up a knife, and did make his friend bleed—
It was not the man, it was rum, did the deed—
But for that behavior, he dearly must pay
For Eighteen long months, he in prison must stay;
But what is still worse, which his poor back well knew,
That Thirty-nine lashes will make the blood flow.
Now friends of humanity, pity his case;
He and his poor children are brought to disgrace!
Likewise his companion, ah! what must she feel;
Our hearts must ache for her, if not made of steel.
But many will say, 'twas a terrible deed—
To stop such behaviour, there surely is need.
O yes! Let us banish all whisky and rum,
That all may be free from that horrible doom.
On our dear little Isle, give the monster no place,
It will save many persons from shame and disgrace!
From criminal cases, it will save our cash:
Likewise save our Sheriff from raising the lash.
It will save us from weeping o'er many a friend—
It will save many man from an untimely end—
On our dear little Isle give the serpent no room—
Oh! shun gin and brandy, all whisky and rum.
And now to my writing, I will put an end,
I hope that my rhyming will no man offend—
I censure no person—I censure the rum,
Which brings many men to a horrible doom.

THE LATE SULTANA.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 5. The deceased princess was of Christian origin, and in 1811 was kidnapped by Circassian free-booters from a village near Annour, in Georgia. Her father was a wealthy peasant, and was killed fighting valiantly for the protection of his daughter. The girl, Mariam by name, was embarked at Sotcha, for Trebizonde, and from thence was conducted to Constantinople and sold for £150 to the celebrated Kosref Pacha, who gave her the romantice name of Bezur-Aalem (assembly of the world), and on account of her beauty gave her an education to fit her for the imperial seraglio. She learned to read and write, to play the tambourine, to sing, and to dance, and she acquire these accomplishments with astonishing facility. At the age of 14 she was presented by the Pacha to Heibetullah Sultana, Sultan Mahmoud's eldest sister, with whom she remained until she attained the age of 17, when, on account of her capacity and beauty, she was given to Sultan Mehmoud, who at once acknowledged her as one of his wives. She had but one son, the present sovereign, Abdul-Mejid, but she always maintained a superiority over all the other women, and was the preferred favourite. The monotonous life of the harem is easily imagined. It is a focus of intrigue and jealousy, and the princess had no occasion to display the talent and benevolence that has since rendered her so popular. When, in June, 1836, Sultan Mahmoud died, and his eldest son, Abdul-Medjid, at the age of 16, buckled on the sword of Osman, the Princess Bezur-Aalem became valid Sultantana, and took the reins of the state in hand. Things went on thus for many years. The son consulted his mother for every affair, and the mother's injunctions were religiously obeyed. We must shut over the intrigues of the sultana with Riza Pacha, they are of too notorious a character; but up to the last week she was engaged in the public business. She was naturally parsimonious, but her acts of benevolence are innumerable. She never forgot her Christian origin, and protected the followers of her former faith on all possible occasions. She was often to be seen incognito at the lonkaf (tribunal), inquiring if justice was done to cases she had decreed and more than one judge has been dismissed for acts of intolerance. She often visited the poorer quarters of this city, and gave aid to the sick and needy, without making known her quality. The treasury allowed her a monthly stipend of £7737, but she expended double that sum, chiefly in acts of charity. She built and endowed the only Turkish civil hospital in Constantinople, and gave her name to it. She built and endowed the free school on the Lancasterian principle, under the direction of Kemal Effendi. She has also contributed towards the building and repairing of many public fountains. The Turkish Steam Company was established by her influence and interest in the concern. The coal mines of Heraske are worked for her account. In fine, most of the enterprising commercial transactions have seen her among the chief shareholders with a view to encouragement. It is strange that she has not endowed a single mosque or Mussulman institution, and it is universally believed here that she still adhered to her Christian faith. She had repeated inquiries and researches made for the members of her family, but they were ineffectual. It is probable that the civil commotions and wars in the Caucasus have long since annihilated and dispersed her relatives.

LONGITUDE.—Tom, my my son, what is longitude? "A clothes line, daddy." Prove it my son.' 'Because it reaches from poll to poll.'

"Do you believe in second love, Misther Macquade?" "Do I belive in second love! Humpe, if a man buys a pound of sugar, isn't it sweet? and when it's gone, don't he want another pound? and isn't that pound sweet, too! Troth Murphy, I believe in second love."

"O dear," blubered out an urchin who had just been suffering from the application of the birch—"O, my! they tell me about forty rods make a furlong, but I can tell a bigger story than that. Let 'em get such a pingny lickin' as I've had, and they'll find out that one rod makes a ache."

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF LOSS OF HEALTH, DISORDERED STOMACH, INDIGESTION AND DETERMINATION OF BLOOD TO THE HEAD.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. John Lloyd, of Erw wen, near Harlech, Merionethshire.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

SIR,—I avail myself of the first opportunity of informing you, that for a very long period, I was afflicted with a dangerous giddiness and frequent swimmings in the head, attended by loss of appetite, disordered stomach, and generally impaired health. Every means had failed to give me any permanent relief, and at length it became so alarming, that I was really afraid of going about without an attendant. In this melancholy condition, I waited personally upon Mr. Hughes, Chemist, Harlech, for the purpose of consulting him as to what I had better do; he kindly recommended your Pills, I tried them without delay, and after taking them for a short time I am happy to bear testimony to their wonderful efficacy. I am now restored to perfect health, and enabled to resume my usual duties. You are at liberty to publish this letter in any way you may think proper.

I am, Sir, your obedient Servant

MIRACULOUS CURE OF DROPSY.

Extract of a Letter from Edward Rowley, Esq., of India Walk, Tobago, dated April 8th, 1852.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

DEAR SIR.—I deem it a duty I owe to you and the public at large to inform you of a most miraculous recovery from that dreadful disease, DROPSY, and which, under God, was effected by your invaluable Pills. I was tapped five times within eight months, and skilfully treated by two medical practitioners, but could not get cured, until I had recourse to your remedy, and notwithstanding all I had undergone, this miraculous medicine cured me in the course of six weeks. (Signed) EDWARD ROWLEY.

A DANGEROUS LIVER COMPLAINT AND SPASM IN THE STOMACH EFFECTUALLY CURED.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Bostock, Druggist, of Ashton under Lyne, dated July 31, 1852.

To Professor HOLLOWAY,

DEAR SIR.—I have much pleasure in handing to you a testimonial of the efficacy of your Medicines. A person in this neighbourhood, with whom I am well acquainted, was affected for a long time with violent spasmodic pains in the stomach and liver, arising from frequent colds, smells of paint, and the effects of a stooping position, which he was obliged to assume to his business. The spasms were of an alarming character, and frequently left him in a weak and debilitated condition. At length he heard of the salutary effects of your invaluable Pills, and was induced to give them a trial. The first dose gave him considerable relief, and by following them up in accordance with your directions, they have acted so wonderfully in cleansing the liver and stomach, and strengthening the digestive organs, that he has been restored to the enjoyment of good health.

I remain, dear Sir, yours faithfully,
(Signed) WILLIAM BOSTOCK.

Further she desires me to say, that she has witnessed their extraordinary virtues in these complaints incidental to children, particularly in cases of Measles and Scarlatina, having effected positive cures of these diseases with no other remedy.
