Western Cochin-China.

Father Augustus Abonel, of the vicariate-apostolic of Western Cochin-China, in Asia, says that at the beginning of his mission at Go-Cong in 1891, a band of students came one Sunday to attend prayers. While they were standing at the door of them and invited him into my room. There, I asked him whence he came, his name, that of his father, finally, After a very decided "yes" and a little conversation, I sent him away, as I learned later. Nevertheless, on the very first occasion I visited his The following incident occurred was paid in Annamite money, that is to say, in fine words, nothing more.
