Sign of the Large Padlock.

There was a man who was considered the king of highway robbers. I do not know whether he had read the story where the proverb 'Gill Blis was put to the test when he was left alone to do a deed on the road, while the bandits looked on from the distance to ascertain the amount of pluck which the prophetic would exhibit, but if not, the crowning feat of the hero of the piece was more remarkable. He determined to show his prowess by robbing a stage-coach, and he succeeded. At nightfall he placed a number of sticks through the bushes by the wayside, and intended to represent the bushes concealed behind. As the diligences approached a voice was heard, as if haranguing a mob of men. 'Ready!—oh, ready!—no firing if there be no resistance—no bloodshed! An armed man stepped forth from behind the bushes, stood before the horses, and cried out, 'Avez vous, conducteur! un verre de vin?'

BOLD ROBBERIES.

don't stuff them with pastry, nor stave them on chippy bread; don't send them to infant schools at three, or fancy balls at ten, nor teach them the Commandments earlier than they can remember Mother Goose. Let them have Christmas and fairy stories; grand old romances rather than the Bible; fables; Little Bo-peep, not the English reader; Gray's 'Hornet,' not the American 'Hornet.' Give them their own tales, and when they want them, not before.—[Atlantic Monthly.]

Dr. McLeod on the Sabbath.

The rumour of Glasgow trains being stopped on Sunday has stirred up the feelings of the strict Sabbathists of Scotland, and meetings of the clergy are held all over the country to denounce it. A few of the body, however, take the opposite ground, among them the Rev. Dr. Norman McLeod, the able editor of 'Good Words.' In support of his views he recently delivered before the Presbytery of Glasgow a speech which the Scotchman characterizes as 'noble and remarkable.' From this address, which fills eight columns of the local papers, we take this extract to indicate its general tenor.—We are all thoroughly agreed that there is to be a Lord's Day. I am not least agreed with you, and I do not think that there has been anything said so far as I can catch, either in the address or what has been said, regarding the Lord's Day, in which I do not only agree, but in many respects, and in another part, go farther than you would. The point upon which we differ is in the manner of observing it, and not in the fact of its being observed at all. I think you are taking a liberal view of the subject, and I think you are right to take a liberal view. I do not think that the Sabbath is to be observed in any other way than in the manner which you propose. I do not think that the Sabbath is to be observed in any other way than in the manner which you propose. I do not think that the Sabbath is to be observed in any other way than in the manner which you propose.

Escape from Welland Jail.

A correspondent sends us an account of the escape of five prisoners from the Welland county jail on Saturday night, between six and seven o'clock, by means of a hole cut up for the purpose. The escape was effected by the prisoners breaking through the walls of the jail and then by some means they reached the high town, and the next morning they were seen at the Welland station. The prisoners occupied cells on the second story, and were supposed to be secure. As soon as they were missed the sheriff of the county immediately looked out measures to have them recaptured, constables being stationed before midnight at Fort Erie, Chippawa, and four by the Falls, and the Suspension Bridge, to intercept the fugitives if they should attempt to cross the river. The sheriff also put out a reward for their capture. A reward has been offered for their capture. A reward has been offered for their capture. A reward has been offered for their capture.

Fashions for January.

The fashion magazines, in their remarks upon the mode, assert that ladies' dresses are more and more to the Prince's Regal, and short in front, and form a long, sweeping train at the back. The body is plain, and the skirt is covered with lace, and is fastened at the side with a row of buttons. The sleeves are long, and are covered with lace, and are fastened at the wrist with a row of buttons. The hats are also of a new style, and are covered with lace, and are fastened at the top with a row of buttons.

United States.

Highly Important from the States. CANADIAN CATTLE STOPPED AT FORT ERIE. We were informed yesterday, (2nd) by telegraph, that the collector of Customs at Buffalo had ordered the stoppage at once of all exports of live stock from Canada to the United States, within his district. This closes the traffic at Fort Erie, where many animals are transferred from the Buffalo and Lake Huron Railroads to the Black Rock ferry boats. We made enquiries at the Suspension Bridge at a late hour last evening, and learned that no orders had yet been given, and that the stoppage was not expected to be enforced. It was expected, however, that it would be a day before it would be allowed to pass the animals actually in transit. We wait the full developments of this important movement on the part of Mr. Sewall, before making further comment.—[Globe.]

THE HAYTON TROUBLES.

The manner in which the British were involved in the Hayton quarrel was as follows:—Mr. Dutton, the British Consul at the Cape, had taken to his house a few Hayton refugees, and Salvo, the rebel chief, had Mr. Dutton to give up these people, which was refused, whereupon his house was entered by the rebels, and he was taken to the Cape, and shot by Salvo on the sea shore. The rebels then commenced to wreck their property, and taking everything they could lay their hands on. To finish the fun, they wound up by pulling down the Cape, and spitting and stamping on the Cape. Salvo then went on board the 'Hull,' and related to the Captain what had happened. The Captain then went to the Cape, and found that the rebels had already done as well, and that the Cape was a complete ruin. The rebels then went on board the 'Hull,' and related to the Captain what had happened. The Captain then went to the Cape, and found that the rebels had already done as well, and that the Cape was a complete ruin.
