Dungannon.

The Whistlers' Club, of this week, Judge T. A. Hamlin received a telegram from Dungannon, Ont., conveying to him the sad news of the death of his brother Daniel, at the above named place. The deceased spent last summer in Woodstock, returning to his home in the fall. During his stay here he made many warm friends, who join with the relatives in mourning his demise.

Miss Legear, of Ripley, is visiting friends in this vicinity.

Miss Minnie Elford left on Saturday last, on a visit to friends in the north.

Rev. Mr. Rupert, of Clinton, will preach educational sermons in the Methodist Church—here on Sabbath next, morning and evening.

On Saturday last Ed. Acheson met with a bad accident. He and his wife were engaged driving in a team, when just as they got to the barn door the wagon struck a stick, which caused it to upset, throwing Mr. Acheson off. In his descent he got one leg fast in the spokes of the wheel, which resulted in breaking that limb. He is doing as well as could be expected.

Mrs. J. Young and daughter and Miss Knight are at present visiting friends in Buffalo.

Mrs. Riddiffe and Mrs. Ramsay took in the excursion to Niagara Falls last week.

Alex. McKenzie and family have left this village, and gone to Galt, where Mr. McKenzie has obtained a permanent situation.

John Oulis is going to change his flouring mill to the new process. The work will be commenced in a short time. We understand a Michigan firm has the work in hand.

R. Campbell and wife, of Barrie, are the guests of Mr. Heddle.

Rev. John Markham was absent part of the week, attending the S. S. convention, Clinton.

John Stewart is on the alert to secure a second of the best fall apples for the Winnipeg market.

Like the election roster, our village "ped" has an "airy strut" since his success a passing 100 per cent of the candidates he sent up to the recent entrance examination.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Gledhill and Master George Gledhill returned by boat to their home in Detroit last Sunday after two weeks' perambulation in the fresh air of our scenic village.

Your correspondent on changing to meet some ladies a few days since, knew something unusual had happened, by the flushed faces, so indicative of quick action of the heart. Upon inquiry he learned that J. R. Steep, a former teacher here, had just arrived in the neighborhood. He upon John R. causing such a flutter among the fair sex, but you always were that way. We thought those "New-Englanders" might take some of that quality out of you, but then, "can a leopard change its spots?" However we give you a royal welcome back again, and wish you much success in your change from the "laws" to the stethoscope.

Mr. D. Stirling and daughter spent a pleasant time with friends at Porter's Hill last week.

RESIGNED.—Our popular teacher, R. E. Brown, has notified the trustees of S. S. No. 5, that he will retire from charge of the school at the end of the present term. He has taught Leeburn school for four years, and has taught in the public schools of the county for nineteen years. As a teacher he has been faithful and successful, and as a man he has been ever ready to assist in promoting church and temperance work.

George Kehoe has returned after a two months' visit to friends in Detroit, and while on the way home spent a few days with friends near Exeter. He one day met the clerical wheelmen, and as they were thirsty they asked George where they could get a drink. He brought them to an adjoining farm house, and the goodwife brought water for the bicyclists. Mr. Kehoe, however, bought a jar of buttermilk, and the delighted tourists thanked him in all the languages, dead and alive. George returned thanks in Irish, to suit the refreshment, and when the shrill whistle of the leader of the wheelmen was blown, and the strangers again started on their way, many a grateful look was cast towards the man from Leeburn.
