London Press Urge Forbearance.

Common Grounds of Settlement
May Yet be Found--Indiscreet
Speeches Cause Comment--Viceroy of India Makes Statement.

PRESS URGES FORBEARANCE.
LONDON, Sept. 5.
With the exception of the Morning Post, which said "it is impossible to make terms with a rattlesnake," the London newspapers to-day made a united plea for forbearance in the latest phase of the Irish situation, which has developed from the reply of Eamonn De Valera to Premier Lloyd George's plan for settlement of the controversy, in the hope that a common ground might yet be found.

TURKISH REPORTS.
CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 5.
The Turkish Nationalists right wing, and also the left, are successfully fighting, despite the strenuous efforts of the Greek forces to break their resistance, and the fall of Angora is not likely to occur as soon as had been anticipated. Battles have been raging with undiminished violence for more than twelve days.

MALABAR A STORM CENTRE.
SIMLA, Sept. 5.
Lord Reading, Viceroy of India, during the course of a speech at a joint sitting of the Council of State, and the Legislative Assembly on Saturday last, said it would be wrong to assume that the rising of Moplahs in Malabar District was sympathetic of the whole of India, as that district has always been a storm centre.

THE PRIZE RING.
RINGSIDE, Jersey City, Sept. 5.
Brian Downey, of Cleveland, and Johnnie Wilson, of Boston, fought twelve tame and uninteresting rounds in their bout here this afternoon to settle their dispute over the world's middleweight championship. Under New Jersey law no official decision was permitted, but Wilson retained his championship belt, the fight going the limit. However, it was the opinion of a majority of newspaper men and fight experts at the ringside that Downey won on points.

FOOLISH FIREBRANDS.
BELFAST, Sept. 5.
Interest in the speech at Armagh yesterday of Michael Collins, "Sinn Fein Minister of Finance and Commander-in-Chief of the Irish Republican Army," has been completely swamped in Belfast by a declaration at the same meeting of Owen D. O'Duffy, Sinn Fein Chief Liaison Officer for Belfast, speaking concerning the attitude of Ulsterites towards Southern Ireland. O'Duffy said Sinn Fein would have to put on the screws. Sinn Fein would have to tighten that screw, he declared, and, if necessary, would have to use lead against the Ulsterites.

NON-COMMITTAL.
DUBLIN, Sept. 5.
The attention of Sinn Fein publicity department to-day was called to the address at Armagh, yesterday, of Owen O'Duffy, Chief Sinn Fein Liaison Officer for Ulster. It was asked whether O'Duffy's speech had the approval of Dail Eireann. Eamonn De Valera, Irish Republican Leader, and other Sinn Fein chiefs were consulted, after which the following statement was made public: Dail Eireann does not propose to use coercion against the North East Ulster any more than it proposes to submit to coercion itself. O'Duffy's statement refers to defiance of the national minority at Belfast, who last week were wantonly shot down by organized and directed Orange gangs, which were permitted to act for two days without interference from either local or British authorities.

GOVERNMENT SUSTAINED.
LONDON, Sept. 5.
Final results of the general elections in the Province of Victoria, Australia, show that generally speaking the majorities of the Government candidates were increased. The present state of the parties is, Government, 33; Labor, 31; Farmers, 12. The election was almost entirely fought on the Government's intention to abolish the wheat pool.

WOMEN COUNCILLORS ARRESTED.
LONDON, Sept. 5.
Five women Councillors of Poplar were arrested to-day to the accompaniment of stirring scenes. Their arrest had been postponed out of consideration for their sex, and the hope that the trouble arising between the Borough Council and the London County Council respecting taxes would be adjusted. But the women themselves invited the sheriff to arrest them and appointed the hour of three o'clock in the afternoon for the ceremony at the Town Hall, assuring the Sheriff that at that hour there was no danger of disorders. Accordingly im-ense crowds, mostly women, gathered inside and outside the Town Hall. The Councilors were headed by Susan Lawrence and Mrs. Edgar Lansbury, who delivered farewell speeches both in the hall and from the balcony to bolsterous crowds of demonstrators and sympathizers.

LEAGUE ASSEMBLY MEETS AGAIN.
GENEVA, Sept. 5.
The second Assembly of the League of Nations began its sessions to-day in an atmosphere of optimism, and with as much enthusiasm as might reasonably be expected from so sober a body. It was demonstrated at the outset that the popular branch of the League was meeting entirely free from a pre-arranged programme. H. Vannekranebeck, Dutch Minister of Foreign Affairs, was elected to the Presidency.

LABOUR DEFEATED.
LONDON, Sept. 5.
Labor candidates were heavily defeated in the Municipal bye-elections in Lillingston, where the scale of assistance demanded by the unemployed was the deciding issue in the campaign.

The Origin of Cricket.

Cricket, as we know it now, really commenced with the meeting of Sir Horace Mann, the Duke of Dorset, and Lord Tankerville, at the "Star and Garter," Pall Mall, in 1744, when rules and regulations for the game were drawn up. From that time the big schools began to play the game seriously, Eton and Westminster being the principal ones at first, and in 1771, Yorkshire offered to play Nottingham, or vice-versa, in friendly encounters. Football, as it is played to-day had its origin at three of our greatest schools. The oldest game is Rugby, which was first played at the school of that name. "Tom Brown" found it in full swing when he arrived at Rugby about 1835, or so. The Old Rugbeians and old boys of Blackheath School founded the first Rugby club of note, Blackheath, in 1838, and Richmond Rugby Club was started in the following year. It was not till 1871, however, that these and some other clubs combined to form the English Rugby Union.

Football was played at Westminster and Charterhouse Schools, as well as Rugby, before 1840. But the playgrounds of those London schools were very limited; that of Charterhouse was but a small enclosure, whilst Westminster played on the small green in Dean's Yard. Hence tackling, scrimmaging, and other points of the Rugby style of play were very unsuitable and dangerous in their nature. So they adopted rules which kept the game down to a dribbling one as its chief principle, and thus arose the Soccer game as it is now played, almost identically the same as that of Westminster and Charterhouse seventy years ago.

It was in 1880 that Sheffield probably from some "Old Boys" of these two great schools who had gone to reside or work about these—began to take up the Soccer game vigorously. Then in 1881 the "Crystal Palace" and "Civil Service" formed clubs in London, and in 1883 the Football Association came into existence, and Soccer football, or "Association," to give it its older name, was fairly set going.

Fives were originated as a game at Eton, from the practice of boys playing at knocking a soft ball against the wall of the chapel between two buttresses near the steps. The peculiar result obtained from break and spin when the ball lighted on this or that step, etc., led to certain rules being formed for the game, and so the sport developed into a well-known and properly organized game, especially after the other public schools, such as Harrow and Winchester, took it up seriously. Its origin was about the year 1846, and it shows how ball games arise, for there is an inherent human tendency to throw balls, and the growth of rules is but a matter of time.

Heads, I Win; Tails, You Lose.

The attitude of certain workers at the present time suggests the predicament in which was placed an exponent of the great American game of poker. His wife, who disapproved of gambling, insisted on taking all his winnings, the husband, of course, had to foot his own losses.

On such a basis, poker comes high. So, on the basis which certain unthinking labor men demand, does the production of any goods into which labor enters as a major factor. In the days of brisk business was emphasized the idea that the workers were vitally interested in the business—that they should participate—that at least a goodly part of the profits were theirs. Need of establishing reserves was denied. Reserves were merely a pretext to set aside certain sums which later on would be divided among the owners. Now that business has slowed down; that a falling in the value of raw materials has caused an actual loss, which in many cases will make 1921 an unprofitable year, there is heard less talk of participation in the business. This class of worker has wanted to take the winnings. He now wants the owners of the invested capital to accept the losses.

It is perhaps not surprising that this should be the attitude. The workers as a whole have not been made to see clearly. The fault for their failure to understand doubtless rests in part on the employers themselves—certainly on certain papers which, with circulation in view, have remembered that the people dearly love to hate, and have talked of the down-trodden workers. Many labor leaders of course see the true situation—realize the limitation of employers—but these labor leaders can't get too far in front of their following, or they won't have any following. Perhaps the world troubles of to-day will in the long run be good for all, bringing a truer understanding. For the present the spectacle of the workers who wanted a lion's share of the winnings, demanding that the employer assume all the losses, must simply be regarded as one of the interesting spectacles of an interesting age.—The Financial Post.

Good Health for Good Results

Keep Efficient by Keeping Well
This Letter Will Tell You How

Plunkett, Sask.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness. I had pains in the back and bearing-down pains in the abdomen and was in a general run-down condition. I could not sleep, rest or work and was quite unfit to do even slight household tasks. A friend told me about your Vegetable Compound and I in my turn truly recommend it, as my severe symptoms vanished and I am better in every way. I do my own work, look after my children and see to chickens, a cow and my garden. I also recommend it for young girls who are weak and rundown as my 16 year old daughter has taken it and is quite her own gay self again."—Mrs. FRED. WILEY, Plunkett, Sask.

This letter is but one of a great number received every year from women, young and old, and from almost every walk of life. These letters testify to the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Wiley suffered mentally as well as physically, because her home and her children demanded the care and attention which she was unable to give because of her wretched health. Finally she tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and in this letter tells what it did for her.

The Vegetable Compound contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and can be taken in safety by any woman. Your livelihood depends on your health. So try
