ed, with feelings of gratitude, that sister Lodges, and individual members of Lodges, had given valuable presents of furniture and jewelry, the intrants of Heart's Content Lodge had presented a splendid organ, and the Charter members generous donations of money. A sympathetic reference was made to the illness of P.M. McLeod of Lodge Tasker, who had made a most interesting match, which, though a bit one-sided in the first half, reached the brilliant point towards the finish when the lads put on the equalizer and made it a draw. 12th LEAGUE MATCH—C.L.B. VS. C.C.—RESULT: A DRAW, 3 GOALS EACH—PLAYED ON LEWELLYN GROUNDS JULY 29th, 1922.

A small attendance greeted these teams last evening, but those who did attend saw a most interesting match, which, though a bit one-sided in the first half, reached the brilliant point towards the finish when the lads put on the equalizer and made it a draw. The teams were:—

C.L.B.—Goal, Husey; backs, Garland, Moffatt; half backs, Peters, Warren, Richards; forwards, A. Chislett, W. Barrett, R. Goodridge, A. Long, J. Long.

C.C.—Goal, Cahill; backs, A. Donnelly, Evans; half backs, Cullen, Donnelly, Murphy; forwards, Brophy, Donnelly, Power, Squires, Rowd.

The lads won the toss, and strange to say selected to play up hill, with a dazzling sun in front, a mistake we think (see On-Looker's guide, page 2). The Cadets right from the start began to press and kept the ball well down on Husey, having several tries for the net, until Power, getting on the ball, well down the field had very little trouble in beating him. Garland making a fatal error. This stirred up the Brigade a little and they took a turn at pressing, which was short-lived for the Cadets soon retaliated. This was followed by two free kicks for hands against the lads, the Cadets having the best of the changes. Just before half-time Power got another chance and scored. The teams crossed, Cadets 2; C.L.B. 0. The second half opened a bit looser on both sides, the Cadets pressing some what, though playing a bit. Then a rush was made for the other end, where Goodridge missed a nice chance—shooting past. The Cadets with a nice bit of passing play brought the ball up the field, and Rowd centering in brilliant fashion, Ferg Donnelly landed the ball safely in the net. Score 2 for the Cadets. Masters now looked rosy for the Cadets, their most sanguine supporters never anticipating such scoring against the runners-up of last season, and the Brigade seemed hopelessly beaten. Even play followed for a few minutes. Then a rush by the Brigade towards Cahill was foiled by the splendid defence of the Cadets backs. Play raged dangerously near their goal for some minutes and then Joe Long had the satisfaction of beating Cahill for the first time. The Brigade seemed to be roused now, and gained a corner soon after which was well cleared by the Cadets who brought the ball up again and Rowd had a try which went past. The Brigade was now having the best of the game, and soon a second goal was registered. Joe Long again doing the deedful. Only seven minutes of time remained and the match for this period was most interesting. The lads playing with some of their old dash, in a few minutes netted the equalizer through Art Long. This was greeted with cheers by the spectators, who admired the plucky play of what seemed, 15 minutes before, a beaten team. The C.L.B. had another corner and one or two tries before time was called in this very interesting and unexpected draw game.

NOTES ON THE GAME.

It was undoubtedly one of the most interesting matches for the season. The Cadets profited by their "friendly" night before with the boys' Brigade, and played a much better game than in their previous efforts. Power is proving a capital centre. The entire forward line played well and made a capital showing. The Donnellys were reliable both in attack and defence and invaluable to the team. Evans is always good, but we have seen him in better trim.

We were somewhat disappointed with the Brigade, especially in the first half, and don't think the alterations in their line of play judicious. Husey would have been better on the field than in goal. The forwards could be better placed or have some practice together. This fact was very evident in the closing moments of the game, when they seemed to get to know just where they were. All did their best, however, and are to be congratulated, as a team, on the surprising finish they made. By the way, we just learned last night that besides not having a practice ground, the Brigade don't possess a ball. If such is the case, it is, to say the least of it, a very unsatisfactory state of affairs for last year's silver medalists, and should at once be rectified.

Ships Make Use of Cheese With Effect.

Probably the strangest and most curious use to which cheese was ever put occurred in a naval battle between Brazil and Uruguay in the mid-19th century, records the Intelligencer. The Uruguay ship, commanded by Capt. Coe, in the midst of the battle, became exhausted of shot. A lieutenant reported the facts to Coe.

"Powder all gone!" asked Coe. "No, sir; lots of that yet." "We had a darned hard cheese—a round Dutch one—for dessert at dinner to-day; do you remember it?" said Coe.

"I ought to; I broke the carving knife in trying to cut it, sir." "Are there any more aboard?" "About two dozen. We took them from a drawer." "Will they go in the 18-pounder?" "By thunder, commodore, but that's the ideal I'll try 'em."

And in a few minutes the bombardment from Coe's ship recommenced, and the enemy found more shot flying over their heads. At last one shot struck the mainmast, scattering the bits of cheese far and wide. Then another came. Then four or five more slapped against the sails. The enemy commander, unable to decide what was happening, and thinking that a new kind of bomb was being used on him, became terrified and ordered his boat to back away. Little did he know that he was retreating from a barrage of Dutch cheese.—Kansas City Star.
