The loss of Life Very Large Passenger Train Thrown Overboard.

Streets Blocked With Fallen Trees and Debris—Two Hundred Buildings Blown Down.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Aug. 19.—At 5 o'clock this afternoon the most terrible cyclone that was ever experienced in this locality struck this city. It came up the river, and the suddenness of its coming was one of its awful features. The leaves were as black as night, and the winds blew with frightful velocity. Whole rows of trees were blown down. Following this, hundreds of houses were uprooted, and many of them completely destroyed. The damage, will reach hundreds of thousands of dollars. Passenger trains and locomotives at the depot were blown over, and every wire in the city, electric light, telephone and telegraph, is down. The devastation is to be compared with nothing in the memory of the oldest inhabitant. Everybody is rejoicing that no fire has as yet taken place, for the streets are impassable for trees and buildings, and the engines could not be drawn through them at all.

The total death toll so far as is known, is twelve. Four men are accounted to have been killed at the Hazard wire works. A house on Scott street occupied by miners who had just returned from work, fell in, and three of the inmates were killed. The huge stack of the Kyle planing mill fell and killed a man and two horses. A little colored girl was killed by a falling building on South Main street. Two men suffered death by the falling of a portion of Steigmeier's brewery, and a third received the same fate through the falling of a portion of S. S. Brown's brick block on Market street. There are undoubtedly fifteen or sixteen others killed.

Many more people suffered severely, and it will be months before all the damage can be repaired; fully 200 buildings were blown down, and the loss of property is incalculable. Many of the structures were of large size and of great value.

Terrible was the scene in the Hazard wire works. The dead and dying lay on the floor, and their heart-rending cries and groans were heard in the streets. The cyclone struck the rear of the large brick building, about 200 men were employed in the place. The roof and walls were blown in, and lay all about. Bricks and ponderous machinery were scattered all over. When the storm broke the men rushed for the door, and many of them were caught in the ruins. As soon as calm descended the awful sight of the men rushed to the ruins, and carried the injured into a portion of the building which was undamaged and laid them upon the floor, and physicians were summoned.

St. Mary's Catholic church is a total wreck. The Hillman breaker was blown into shreds. "It will take months to repair the damage before the miners will be able to resume work."

The number killed will reach 10. Telegraph wires are down in all directions, and communication is all shut off. Mayor Sumner to-night issued a proclamation calling the Ninth regiment to assemble at the armory to-morrow to aid the police in the supervision of the city. The estimated loss at midnight is half a million dollars, although it may reach a higher figure. The suffering is great, and terrible rain is pouring in torrents at midnight.

A special to the Record from New Bedford, Massachusetts, says the cyclone struck that city, and did more damage there than it did here. The same amount of Wilkesbarre was struck. Farmer Cole's house was demolished and his family killed. The family were imprisoned in the wreck and all badly hurt.

The cyclone struck Harveyville, killing two persons. The Methodist Episcopal church and the adjoining parsonage were blown down, and nearly all the houses in the village and buildings of farmers were ruined. Crops were ruined.

Schenectady, Pa., Aug. 19.—Trainmen on incoming train report that the village of Summerville, thirty miles west of Schenectady, was struck by a cyclone this afternoon, and totally annihilated. Engineer Fisher, in giving an account of his experience, while passing through the storm, said the engine was lifted from the track, the cab blown off and all the windows in the cars were crushed in by the terrible force of the wind. Two of the train hands were seriously injured. A definite account of the storm and damage done by it cannot be obtained, as all the wires west of the city were down.

A Peculiar Request.

One of the early settlers of Osoyoos County, Mich., made a peculiar request when he died a few years ago. For some time before his death his stock was being stolen, either by men or bears, and the old man's mind was affected by his loss. He asked that he be buried standing, on the east side of a tree which grew on a hill overlooking his farm. From this position he hoped to detect the thieves.
