From THE DAILY COLONIST, Dec. 30.

LOCAL AND PROVINCIAL.

Grand Ball.

There will be a grand ball at Cedar Hill, on New Year's night. The orchestra led by Professor Hookway has been engaged for the occasion.

High Tide.

The highest tide ever recorded at Esquimalt, was that of Monday night, when the water rose 33 feet 3 inches above low water mark.

Presumptive Evidence.

The above drama, together with a farce—"My Wife's Second Floor"—which is to precede it, will be rehearsed, this evening. All taking part are requested to attend, as the date for its production is fast approaching.

Should be Continued.

The fire of yesterday morning has set several of the aldermen thinking of the desirability of continuing Broad street through to the new public market. The extension would be a convenience to very many, and it will no doubt not be lost sight of.

A Confirmation Service.

A very pretty ceremony was conducted by the Lord Bishop of the diocese, last night, at St. Barnabas church, when several young candidates appeared before him for confirmation. A large number of the friends of those confirmed witnessed the service. The Bishop delivered an appropriate address at the close.

The New Market.

Fifteen stalls in the new public market have already been taken up, by fishmongers and others, and George Vienna was the first to commence business. He remained open all day, but no customers appeared. The market is now open for business, but the public do not seem easily to fall in with it, and buyers and sellers do not come out. No doubt they will do so when the process of doing business at the market is better understood.

Christmas Tree.

The Sunday school children of the St. Andrew's Presbyterian church enjoyed their annual Christmas tree and treat, last night, in the schoolroom of the church. A short programme of readings, recitations, dialogues, vocal and instrumental music, was given, after which the audience went up stairs to the schoolroom, where a large Christmas tree, loaded down with presents, was to be seen. The children's prizes were then distributed, and the results of the recent Sabbath school examinations read.

She Still Hangs On.

Much to the general surprise the wrecked San Pedro is still in exactly the same position as she was in before yesterday's storm. The expectations of many seafaring men were that she would go under after the heavy gale that blew all Monday and Tuesday morning, but neither wind or wave have seemingly had any effect on her, and she still rests in the same spot, as evidence of the excellent manner in which she must have been put together, and of the staunch nature of her component parts.

Children's Entertainment.

The Daughters of Rebekah, assisted by lodges one and two, I.O.O.F., gave their annual children's entertainment in the Oddfellows' Hall, Douglas street, last night. The children were entertained for a while with different games, after which a stereopticon exhibition was given by one of the members of the lodge. The scenes were principally comical, which greatly amused the youngsters, who, before going home, were all seated at tables filled with an abundance of nuts, oranges, cakes and other refreshments. Several of the older members present remained to enjoy a short dance, for which the Oddfellows' orchestra supplied the music.

Gone Home.

It was with sad hearts that a very large number of his friends assembled to show their last token of respect to the memory of poor Frank Attwood yesterday. It seemed hardly possible to realize that one who but a few short weeks ago was in the full enjoyment of life and health should be so quickly dead and buried. The funeral took place from the Reformed Episcopal Church, and the service was conducted by Bishop Cridge and Rev. Mr. Dobbs. The Order of Foresters, of which body deceased was a beloved and honored member, conducted the funeral. The pall-bearers were Messrs. McConnan, Stelly, McBride, Truman, Greigg and Abrams. The words of kindly feeling spoken over the grave by the officiating minister found echo in the hearts of every one of his hearers, who with his wife, and children mourn the loss of an estimable friend.

A New Industry.

Mr. W. E. Losee, formerly connected with the E. & N. Railroad, has established in this city the "Queen City Shingle Mill," which turned out its first products yesterday. The mill is the first on Vancouver Island, and will doubtless be a welcome innovation to builders and others who have been compelled, up to the present time, to get their stock for shingling from the Mainland. The mill, which is situated on Porter's wharf, is a large, brick, fire-proof building, containing the latest and best machinery, including boiler, engine, saws, cutoff, knot saws, a shingle saw and packers. The plant is one of the best, if not the best in the province. It was supplied by the Hamilton Manufacturing Co., of Peterboro., Ont. All the timber used is to be shipped in scows from various parts of the coast, and it is estimated that the output can easily reach a capacity of 50,000 per day, and 1,800 cords of shingle bolts per annum.

Church Doings at Mount Tolmie.

The congregation in connection with the Church of England, at Tolmie, held a very pleasant social in the school room, on Monday night. The young people, of whom there were about 60 present, engaged in dancing, the music being kindly provided by Mrs. Webb, (piano), and Mr. Graham, (violin). The supper was under the management of Mr. and Mrs. Watts, and the committee of general management of composed of Mesdames Webb, Russell, Harriss and Watts. The room had already been beautifully decorated for the Christmas service by Mrs. and the Misses Bellamy. The Sunday School treat takes place to-day, when the children, to the number of nearly 40, will have tea, a Christmas tree, and a magic lantern exhibition by Mr. Arden. A choir has been formed in connection with the congregation, under the management of Mr. Watts and Mrs. Webb, and on Christmas Day they rendered a beautiful service, including an anthem. The appeal made to the public by Messrs. Murton and Russell, the church-wardens, is meeting with encouraging success, but 400 appeals, under cover of a stamped envelope, are still unanswered. It is confidently hoped that the friends will kindly answer these. Building operations will be commenced on the new church in February. It is astonishing how rapidly this district is filling up, and how happy the results of the establishment of services, nine months ago, by Rev. M. C Browne.

Banquet and Dance.

The Iolanthe social club, of which Mr. J. R. Kerr is president, Mr. J. C. Ferguson vice-president, and Mr. J. A. Fairborn secretary-treasurer, held their first semi-annual banquet in Harmony hall last evening, and after dinner, danced until the witching hour, to the music provided by the Bantley family orchestra. The substantials and delicacies with which the table was laden, and with which the appetites of the fifty or sixty ladies and gentlemen present were satisfied, were supplied by a committee of the fair members; and the toasts and speeches were short and good. The dance card contained sixteen numbers, including all the latest and prettiest waltzes of the season.

Officers Installed.

At a regular communication of Vancouver and Quadra Lodge, No. 2, A.F. & A.M., B.C.R., held Monday evening, the following officers were installed for the ensuing year by D.D.G.M. Geo. Russell, assisted by P. G. M. A. McKeown and other Grand Lodge officers: E. Phillips, W. M., (re-elected); A. B. Erskine, S. W.; H. Waller, J.W.; J. F. Becker, treasurer, (18th term); R. A. Brown, secretary, (re-elected); Geo. H. Brown, senior deacon; Geo. Glover, junior deacon; Adolph Newman, senior steward; W. R. Chestney, junior steward; Cecil Fletcher, inner guard; W. T. J. Nickells, organist, (re-elected); W. Trickey, tyler, (re-elected). After installation about seventy-five brethren sat down to a sumptuous repast prepared by Bro. Garland, of the Balmoral.

Christ Church Cathedral.

The children of the Cathedral Sunday School had their winter treat on Monday evening. At 6.30 they, with their parents and friends, assembled at the Cathedral, where a short service was held, including an address by the Rev. J. B. Hewetson, and several carols, after which they marched to the school room. The first portion of the evening's amusement was the Fairy Valse, sung and acted by a dozen children decked out as fairies, in the midst of Fairy Land. Little Marjorie Wollaston acted the part of chief fairy, and the scene was extremely pretty. Miss Arden and the Misses Bell were indefatigable in their exertions toward its success. The next item on the programme was the giving of prizes by Mr. T. R. Smith to the choir boys who had been regular attendants at the Friday night services. The Lord Bishop, Miss Arden, Mr. T. R. Smith, Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. Charles Kent, and Mr. Golding were the givers. Tea and bran pies filled up the rest of the evening.

STILL IN JAIL.

Pierre Tessier's Unfortunate Predicament—What Warden John Says.

Pierre Tessier, who was arrested on the 7th of October last, and committed to the Provincial jail on the 9th, is still confined in that institution. It will be remembered that Tessier, who is a Frenchman and who lived for some time on Salt Spring Island, but latterly on San Juan Island, was charged by one Heloise Tremblay, also French, with an attempt to murder her on San Juan.

As soon as Tessier was committed to prison the Tremblays disappeared, and their whereabouts are at present unknown. However, no action in the case has been taken, and Tessier's extradition to the United States, for trial, has not been applied for. Tessier says that he has been a friend to the Tremblay's, and that they owe him eighteen hundred dollars; and in order to escape the payment of their debt this charge against him was laid, on his following them from San Juan to this city.

Warden John says that confinement and worry are beginning to tell on the old man, Tessier being 59 years of age, and that there is no doubt but that it is a case of blackmail of the grossest kind.

Mr. J. P. Walls has recently been retained to effect the release of Tessier from jail, but finds it a round-about job, as he has to apply to the Minister of Justice at Ottawa, the courts here not wishing to create a precedent under the new Extradition Act.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH.

Farewell Social—Presentations to Rev. M. L. Rugg and Wife by the Congregation.

There was a very large gathering in the Calvary Baptist Church, last evening, to bid adieu to the pastor, Rev. M. L. Rugg, who has received a call to Seattle. For the past four years the reverend gentleman has presided over the church, and during that time has been instrumental in advancing its material and spiritual interests. The congregation was then a small one, but to-day it is strong from whatever point it be viewed. The occasion was availed of, last night, for the opening of the enlarged school room, whose capacity has been doubled, and now includes a ladies' parlor and classroom. Here a pleasant social was held—tea, cake, etc., serving to promote friendly intercourse. An adjournment was subsequently had to the church. Mr. W. Marchant was called upon to preside. In taking the chair he spoke of the success of Rev. Mr. Rugg's ministry in Victoria, and expressed the regret with which the members of the congregation parted with him.

Mr. P. Wilson, one of the former deacons of the church, spoke of their earlier efforts and aspirations, and the great success which had attended their exertions, especially under Mr. Rugg's pastorate. So rapidly had the Baptist congregation grown in Victoria, that a second church had been raised—that at Spring Ridge—while the building in which they were that night meeting had been several times enlarged and improved. On behalf of the members of the Emanuel Baptist Church, he presented an address to Mr. Rugg, expressive of their high appreciation of his services.

Mr. Haughton, of Emanuel Church, also complimented Mr. Rugg very highly, stating that the greatest unanimity had always prevailed. Although Mr. Rugg was leaving Victoria he would still be within the convention and the same association.

Mrs. Clarke, on behalf of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church, presented Mrs. Rugg with a beautiful silver tea service and an appropriate address.

Dr. L. Hall, on behalf "of a few admiring friends in the temperance work," presented Rev. Mr Rugg with a gold headed cane, and a brief but touching address, eulogizing the good work done by him in the cause.

The Chairman followed with an address from the congregation, accompanied by a check for $113.75, as a token of esteem and gratitude.

The rev. gentleman very feelingly responded, referring to the kindly feeling which always existed between the congregation and himself.

During the evening, the choir of the church rendered some very fine pieces, and not until well-nigh eleven o'clock did the handshaking cease.

John Hendry, of Westminster, is in town.

ANOTHER ROYAL COMMISSION.

To Enquire into the Conduct of Police Magistrate Belyea in the Fried Abduction Case.

It will be remembered that, during the course of the trial of that nine days' wonder, some months ago,—the Fried abduction case, a charge was thrown out against Mr. A. L. Belyea, the police magistrate, to the effect that he had been guilty of malversion of office in demanding from August May, the father of the girl concerned in the case, a professional fee of $20, for services, which, in his position as police magistrate, he should have rendered for nothing.

A Royal Commission was issued to the Attorney-General to enquire into the circumstances of the charge, some two months ago, but it was not until last week that Mr. Belyea received any notification whatever that a commission had been appointed. Hon. Mr. Justice Crease was appointed commissioner, and the enquiry started at the Supreme Court, yesterday. Mr. Taylor, of Eberts & Taylor, appeared on behalf of Mr. Belyea, who was, of course, present in person.

The affidavit of August May, upon which the charge was based, was produced in court. It was as follows:

1. August May, of Seattle, carpenter, do solemnly and sincerely declare and say as follows:—

1. That I am the father of Hattie May, who is now aged fifteen and one-half years, and who, up to the time of her leaving Seattle, as presently mentioned, lived at Seattle with her mother (my wife) and myself, together with our two other children.

2. That last Monday week my said daughter Hattie left her home aforesaid at Seattle and having ascertained that she had gone to Victoria, and was being harbored at the house of one Fried, of Victoria, a barber, I came to Victoria for the purpose of recovering my child, and arrived here on the morning of Friday, the fourth day of September, instant.

3. That soon after my arrival at Victoria I went to the office of the City Police, and about nine a.m. on the said fourth day of September I laid the particulars of my case before Superintendent Sheppard, who advised me to wait and see the Police Magistrate, which I did; and there and then, viz.: In the Police Magistrate's office, in the City Hall, explained the particulars of my grievance to the Police Magistrate, informing him of my daughter's age and the other circumstances of the case.

4. That after explaining the said case to him, the said police magistrate invited me to accompany him to an office in town, and he then conducted me to the office of Messieurs Belyea & Gregory, solicitors, Government street, where, after perusing some letters which I had handed to him at the magistrate's office, the said magistrate, who I now know to be Mr. Belyea, wrote out some papers, which I signed, and, in answer to a question by me, demanded from me a fee of twenty dollars ($2), which I thought excessive and did not pay, saying that I would see him again. He said that he would see Fried. I told Mr. Belyea I would be willing to pay him $20 if he would guarantee to get my daughter, but this he would not do.

5. I then went to the house of the said Fried and there I saw my daughter, and also Mr. and Mrs. Fried. My daughter, having expressed her willingness to go home with me, accompanied me from the house to Government street, where, upon the pretext of going to Fried's for some article of apparel, she left me at the postoffice, promising to meet me again there in an hour.

6. That after the expiration of an hour, the girl not returning, I went back to Fried's but was refused by Mrs. Fried that the girl was not there. I went a second time and received the same assurance, and I then went to Mr. Belyea, on Government street, and he told me my daughter had been there. He then repeated his demand of twenty dollars, saying that my daughter was not obliged to go with me. He said it would be all right if I would bring him the twenty dollars before 6 o'clock, and he would then see if he could get the girl to go with me, but when I asked for a guarantee he said he could not give it.

7 I then procured an officer whom I met on the street, and took him up to Mrs. Fried's. She asked the officer had a warrant. He said "No, he would like to see the girl (meaning my daughter)." My daughter then came out and said that she had seen a lawyer, who had told her that I could get her back, and that she did not intend to go with me.

And I make this solemn declaration, conscientiously believing the same to be true, and by virtue of the "Oaths Act."

(Signed) AUG. MAY.

Declared before me at the City of Victoria, this fifth day of September, A.D. 1891.

(Signed) THOS. SHOTBOLT, J. P.

As soon as the above affidavit was put in, May gave his evidence in support of it, answering the Attorney-General's questions and swearing that every statement made in the document was correct.

Cross-examined by Mr. Taylor, witness made a statement which it was difficult to understand, swerving from questions put to him and breaking off into a long statement about entirely foreign subjects in such a way as to several times cause the official stenographer to protest that he was scarcely able to take his evidence.

After lunch the cross-examination was resumed by Mr. Taylor.

August May—Mr. Belyea asked me for $20. It was not his partner. He told me that my daughter needn't go with me unless she liked. I won't swear that he told me that. Won't swear what he told me. He said afterwards "May be you can get your daughter back and may be you cannot. I can't tell."

Mr. Davie—It's the same thing.

Mr. Taylor—Do you think so?

Witness resuming—In the police station Mr. Belyea said to me "I believe from what I have heard of Fried, that he keeps a good house—a respectable house. "I told him that I did not know what my daughter was doing at Fried's house. I didn't tell Mr. Belyea that she was working at Fried's. I didn't want to have my daughter arrested on the morning I came over here. I was told by several people that Mr. Davie was the only man in the country who would see right done by me and by everybody else, so I went to him. I didn't say anything to the Chief of Police about arresting Fried. All I wanted was some paper that would enable me to recover my girl. I don't know whether the Chief of Police told Mr. Belyea that Fried took the girl from Seattle. I told the police so. The first time I saw Fried he told my daughter to go with me, and that he would go and see Mr. Taylor. He never refused, after that, to let her come to me. I will swear that the affidavit read, and signed by me, contains what I said to Mr. Davie in his office. I was muddled on that day, thinking of my daughter, and that I was away from home. I signed the paper. I know what it said. I think I do.

Mr. Belyea here stated that the typewritten copy of May's affidavit as produced by Mr. Davie, was not the document read over to him (Mr. Belyea) in the Attorney-General's office.

Mr. Davie—It is the same.

Mr. Belyea—It is not the same. The document was not typewritten.

August May, re-examined by Mr. Davie—I understood the affidavit when I signed it in your office. Mr. Shotbolt read it over to me. The document was read to Mr. Belyea before I signed my name.

John Langley, Sergeant of Provincial Police, deposed—I gave evidence at the police court at the time of the investigation into the Fried abduction case by Mr. Belyea. A warrant was put into my hands for the arrest of Mr. and Mrs. Fried. The warrant was signed by Mr. Shotbolt. I arrested Mr. Fried on the 9th of September late in the afternoon. Mrs. Fried was arrested by Officer McNeil. Hattie May was discovered in a house opposite Fried's, and restored to her mother.

The Court—Can you produce t who copied the affidavit on the t Is he capable of taking his oath correctness of the copy?

Mr. Davie—Yes, certainly; but man who copied the declaration is in the province. Really it does no in view of other evidence that I ha sent to your Honor. On the 7th o ber a copy of this declaration was Mr. Belyea, and next day he ackn the receipt of it, but said that, still being sub judice, he preferred ing any reply to the statements in it until the matter was officiall his hands. Then, on the 9th of S he made a full reply.

The following reply, in the fo affidavit, was then read:

I, Arthur Louis Belyea, of the C toria, in the Province of British Col rister-at-law and police magistrate city, do solemnly and sincerely decl lows:

1. That on Friday morning las Police Sheppard told me a man f wished to see me. On going into m the City Hall, I found there a man his name as August May, of Se chief of police came in immedia wards, also Sergeant of Police Walk

2. That the said August May state had come over to Victoria for his d and related the following circumstances

3. That on the Monday week previo daughter, Hattie May, aged between 15 years, had left home without his knowle consent, and for some days he did not where she was. Finally a letter was re from her, stating that she was in V working with a Mrs. Fried at $15 per m This letter and another from Hattie M handed to me, which I read. I questioned as to when and how the girl left home, and informed me that he had been told that she cam to Victoria in company with Mrs. Marr, who was a relative of Mrs. Fried. I further asked him if he had seen the Frieds or his daughter since coming to Victoria, and he replied he had not. I asked if he knew what the girl was doing, he said he believed she was working there as stated in the letters. He wanted me to issue a warrant to arrest the girl, so he could get her home again, I questioned both the chief and sergeant of police as to what was the reputation of the Frieds, and what kind of a house they kept, to which they replied that so far as they knew the Frieds were respectable people, and kept a respectable house. Under these circumstances I told May that I had no authority to issue a warrant to arrest his girl, and could do nothing for him as police magistrate, but advised him to proceed by habeas corpus against Fried. I told him I would, as a lawyer, undertake this for him and asked him to go to my office, namely the office of Belyea & Gregory.

4. He went with me to said office, and after consultation with my partner, Mr. Gregory, as to the best course to pursue, I told him that I would make up the necessary papers, then send for Fried to meet him, May, when he, May, was to demand his daughter, and if Fried refused, I would at once make application to a judge for habeas corpus, and compel Fried to produce the girl in court. He agreed to this and remained in my office while the necessary papers were prepared. In the meantime I had sent a clerk to ask Fried to come to my office, for the purpose above stated.

My object in preparing the papers, before calling upon Fried for the girl was, in case he refused or failed to give her up, to lose no time in obtaining and serving the order to bring the girl into court, so that Fried would have little opportunity to put the girl out of his control.

The clerk sent to Fried returned shortly after twelve o'clock and said Fried had gone to lunch but would be at my office at two o'clock, I told this to May, who agreed to be on hand at two o'clock. As he was going out he turned to me and asked what it would cost him. I told him our usual charge in such cases was $20. He did not reply but went out.

5. About two o'clock I returned to my office. May was not there but Fried was. I at once demanded of Fried that he give the girl up to her father. He said he had engaged Eberts and Taylor. I said, "Then you refuse to give her up?" He replied "She is with her father now," or words to that effect. He then attempted to get an opinion from myself or Mr. Gregory as to what he ought to do, and was told to go and consult Eberts and Taylor; we would say nothing to him, as we were acting for May, the father. He then left the office.

6. I believed, then, that the father had possession of the girl, and expected to hear nothing more about it.

7. About an hour later May, the father, came into the office and asked me to get his daughter for him. I said to him, have you not got your daughter now? He replied, she had gone away again and was at Fried's house. I then asked him to make the affidavit which was already signed by him. He then said he would pay nothing unless we would give him a written guarantee that we would get his daughter for him. I said to him, "We cannot do that, we will do our best for you but cannot guarantee that the Judge will give you your daughter, although we believe he will. After some further conversation about the guarantee he left the office and did not return.

I have read what purports to be a copy of a declaration made by August May on September the 5th inst. The particulars and circumstances of the case, related by him to me, as alleged in the third paragraph of said declaration, were substantially the particulars and circumstances set out in the third paragraph of this, my declaration, and no others. It is not true then stated that Fried or any other person was harboring the girl. He did not accuse Fried or intimate that Fried had taken the girl away from Seattle, or Fried or any other person was responsible for her staying away. He represented only that the girl was hired, as stated in her letters, at Frieds, at $15 per month, and that he wanted only to get her into his possession and control again.

9. It is not true, as stated in the sixth paragraph of the said declaration, that I told May his daughter had been at my office, nor in truth or fact had his daughter ever been in my said office, nor, as I verily believe, in any of the offices occupied by Belyea & Gregory.

10. It is n t true that I demanded $20 from said May, either at the City Hall or at my office on Government street.

11. It is not true, but absolutely false, that I said to August May that his daughter was not obliged to go with him, as alleged in said paragraph 6, nor is it true that I promised him, May, it would be all right if he brought me the $20 before six o'clock, as further alleged in said paragraph six.

12. That said August May understood perfectly well that I and my partner were acting as his legal advisers in the matter, and not otherwise. I am informed, and verily believe, that, after leaving our office, he consulted Messrs. Bodwell & Irving, who advised him to proceed in the said manner as I and my partner had advised. And I make this declaration, conscientiously believing the same to be true and by virtue of the "Act respecting extra-judicial oaths."

Solemnly declared at the City of Victoria, this 9th day of September, A.D. 1891, before me,

N. SHAKESPEARE, J.P.

Mr. Davie—I would like to get into the witness box myself at this stage, and say what I know about this business.

The Court—On oath?

Mr. Davie—Certainly.

The Court—Of course Mr. Belyea may have the same privilege if he wishes it.

Mr. Davie, before giving his evidence, proposed to put in the depositions taken at the police court in the Fried case.

Mr. Taylor objected. The depositions had nothing whatever to do with the present enquiry.

The court sustained Mr. Taylor's objection.

The enquiry was then adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning, when Hon. Mr. Davie will take the stand.
