ISLAND DEVELOPMENT.

The growth of interest in the development of Vancouver Island is very gratifying. The people seem to be becoming thoroughly alive to this exceedingly important matter, and we predict that a public sentiment will be aroused that cannot be resisted. The question is not a mere passing one. It has a bearing upon the whole future of the Island. It is a question of the future of the Island, and it will mean that the people, who have for years hoped against hope, that the Island would become what it is fated by nature to become, will have their anticipations realized, and receive the legitimate reward of their industry and investments.

The movement, which has been so auspiciously inaugurated, must be kept up. It is absolutely non-political. It should find expression, however, in such a way that the politicians will not dare disregard it. It is the duty of the people of the Island to strengthen the hands of their representatives in asking for the adoption of a policy which will enable the Island to come into its own. There is no hostility in the movement to other localities. It is the people of the Island wish to make common cause with every other part of the Island. They will not sanction any dog-in-the-manger policy. They will only ask that they shall have fair play.

The people of the Island have reached the conclusion that the psychological moment has come for action, and they may be trusted not to allow it to go unimproved. They expect, and they have a right to expect, that their efforts will meet with sympathetic support from the people of the Mainland.

While we have in mind just now chiefly what the provincial government may be in a position to do, we are not unmindful of the fact that the Dominion government may also do much. We ask Mr. Ralph Smith not to permit the present occasion to pass by without making known upon the floor of the House of Commons the ideas of the people of the Island and giving their expression to the House of Commons. We ask Mr. Bernard not to allow the session to pass without addressing the House of Commons on the subject of the Island. Let us sink politics out of sight while we work together for the general good.

THE PRICE OF COAL.

Everyone, except those who mine it and possibly those who sell it, think the price of coal for local consumption is too high; but there is room for a very wide difference of opinion as to whether the provincial government is the proper body to appoint a commission to investigate the cost of coal, and the possible existence of a combine to keep up prices. It is easy to talk about such matters, but the appointment might be of little value. Under the British North America Act the right to deal with Trade and Commerce is vested in the Dominion Parliament. It is true that in respect to the liquor traffic and certain other matters it has been held that for revenue, for police purposes and for the control of the coast, the local legislatures may constitutionally enact measures which must of necessity interfere with trade and commerce, just as the Dominion Parliament must, often in the exercise of its powers, encroach upon property and civil rights, which are expressly left in the jurisdiction of the local legislatures. This overlapping of jurisdiction cannot be avoided; but it is open to very grave question if the local legislatures could justify an inquiry of the nature proposed by Mr. Oliver's resolution. If the subject is not within the jurisdiction of the provinces, it would follow that the commission would have no power to compel the attendance of witnesses or to insist upon their giving testimony under oath. If a commission of doubtful jurisdiction were appointed to examine into an important private business, we may rest assured that those whose affairs were about to be examined would raise the question of jurisdiction at once, and the inquiry would bring up in the courts, unless the commission voluntarily went out of business. On the other hand, there is no doubt about the jurisdiction of the Dominion Parliament in the premises, and Mr. Oliver's amendment, which was adopted, provides for a reference of the question to the Dominion government. It is true that a similar recommendation was sent to Ottawa last session by the provincial house, and has been pigeon-holed up to date. Perhaps a better fate will attend the new request of the House. If not, the provincial government cannot be blamed.

HAD HEARD OF VICTORIA.

When the Vancouver delegation was before Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and that gentleman was replying to their request for the improvement of their harbor in the course of which they said that they look for a great future for their home town, Sir Wilfrid Laurier remarked that he "had heard of Victoria" in that connection. This is much the best thing that has been said about Victoria at Ottawa for a long time. Sir Wilfrid certainly could not have heard of Victoria as a possible seat of national magnitude from any speech that has been made in the House of Commons during the last ten years, for our representatives never seem to find it convenient to say anything along that line.

We suggest that this is a good time to let other people than the Minister hear of Victoria as a potential commercial depot. Let us make an active campaign. Let us not be afraid to talk. It is necessary to talk long and often in order to secure recognition of the true value of a city. Let us no longer make the mistake of supposing that everybody knows as much of this city as the people residing here do. When Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, or Mr. Mann, or Mr. Hays or any other railway man, comes to see us, do not let us content ourselves with paying them compliments and sitting like little birds with open mouths, waiting for such crumbs of comfort as they may be willing to let fall. Let us be prepared to tell them what we think they ought to do. Every one, who knows the history of the Empress Hotel, knows that the Canadian Pacific Railway company were only induced after much persuasion to build it. The officers of that road did not believe the hotel was necessary or that it would pay. Now they are going to enlarge it. Here we have an object lesson worth laying to heart. We know our own case better than any one else can possibly know it. Let us not be ashamed of presenting it. Let us make it so that every person nearly as old as that he "had heard of Victoria."

THE HERRING FISHERY.

The Council of the Board of Trade had the privilege yesterday of a general talk with Mr. Taylor, of the Fisheries Department, and among the things of which he spoke was the herring fishing. It is very clear from what Mr. Taylor said that British Columbia is not getting anything like the greatest possible value out of the herring, which swarm in the inland coast waters. Last year over 20,000 tons of these fish were shipped from Nanaimo to Japan, and the amount realized for them in that city was $600,000. Most of this money was paid out in Nanaimo, and the industry is therefore a very valuable asset to that city, but it might be made much more valuable. Speaking of the experiment tried by the Dominion government in bringing out Scotch fishermen and women to put up the herring or which trial shipments were made, Mr. Taylor expressed the opinion that in order to make the salting of herring for use in this country profitable, a method similar to that adopted in Newfoundland, Labrador and Nova Scotia will have to be followed. The herring put up by the Scotch fishermen are intended for domestic consumption and for use shortly after they are caught. Therefore they are only slightly salted, whereas the herring taken on the Atlantic coast being intended to be kept indefinitely, are put in a stronger salt. Mr. Taylor left the impression on the minds of those who heard him that he is of the opinion that a profitable industry of great expansion, awaits those who take up the packing of herring for distant markets. Such a line of business would employ more labor and give a better margin of profit to the community as a whole than is derived from the shipments now made to Japan.

The supply of herring is very great. Apparently the great catches taken during recent years has not in any way reduced the magnitude of the run. The reproductive power of the herring is astounding. Mr. Taylor spoke of seeing the spawn lying six inches and more deep among the seaweed in the harbor. The herring are used in the fishery industry, but even then fishermen are allowed to catch herring for bait, which is sold to the halibut fishery. The privilege of selling this bait extends to supplying United States fishermen. While it is desirable to limit the supply of bait to Canadian halibut fishermen during the close season, it is an open question. Probably the United States fishermen could not buy their bait at Nanaimo, would get it somewhere else, and in that case the Nanaimo fishermen might lose the part of their business.

SUPPLYING OAK BAY

The Colonist has been asked if it is not necessary to submit the question of supplying Oak Bay with water to the people of this city before the mayor and aldermen have a right to make an agreement with the Council of that municipality. We thought we had made this point plain a few days ago, but perhaps, as was then remarked, it is not in connection with other matters, and the sections of the law of 1873 being upon it were summed up, so that any person can see for himself just what the powers of the Water Commissioner and the City Council are. The second section of the Act of that year reads as follows:

"That the Corporation of the City of Victoria, by and through the agency of a Commissioner, and his successors, to be appointed as hereinafter provided, may and shall have power to design, construct, build, purchase, hold and generally maintain, manage and construct water works, and all buildings, machinery, pipes, and appliances therewith connected, or necessary thereto in the city of Victoria and parts adjacent as hereinafter provided."

The words "in the City of Victoria and parts adjacent" clearly qualify the whole section, and under it the Water Commissioner has the right to provide for the water supply of parts adjacent to Victoria, as will further appear from section 27 of the Act, which will quote below in order to enable the Corporation through its Commissioner to exercise the extensive powers conferred by that section. Just quoted, the Commissioner is authorized by section 6 of the Act "to enter into and upon the land of any person or persons, bodies politic or corporate, in the City of Victoria or within twenty miles of the said city, and to survey, set out, and ascertain such parts thereof as they may require for the purpose of the said water works, and also to divert and appropriate any springs, streams, lakes or bodies of water, which they shall judge suitable and proper," and the section goes on to state how the value of any property shall be ascertained, and how the Corporation may exercise through its Water Commissioner, and having granted the city a first right to all the water within a radius of twenty miles, the legislation realized that it was necessary to provide how persons and corporations outside of the city limits should obtain water from the city, and it passed sections 26 and 27, which read as follows:

"26. The Water Commissioner, subject to the approval of the Corporation, may contract with individuals on behalf of the Corporation, for the extension of pipes in suburbs, or partially built portions of the City, by allowing a deduction from the price charged for the water to such extent as the Commissioner shall see fit, on the cost of the said pipes, which shall be laid by the parties under the direction of the Commissioner and subject to his approval, or the Commissioner may lay the pipes, charging the said parties, in addition to the usual water rate, a special rate, which shall be such as to extend thereof as shall then be due, and all be paid at the same time and collected in the same manner as the water rates."

"27. The Water Commissioner, subject to the approval of the Corporation, may exercise all other powers necessary to the carrying out of his duties, and may make such contracts or persons as well within the District of Victoria, Lake Saanich or other districts, as within the City of Victoria; and he may also, from time to time, make and carry out any agreement which he may deem expedient for the supply of water to any railway or manufacturing; provided that the said agreement shall be entered into under this clause, without the consent and approval of the Corporation, and the City Council."

There does not appear to be anything in the Act of 1873 or in any other Act relating to the water supply any provision contemplating the assent of the ratemakers or the citizens of the city to the conditions precedent to anything that the Water Commissioner is empowered to do thereunder without the approval of the City Council. We suggest a query: Does the word "corporation" in section 27 mean a municipal corporation?

We are not now discussing the policy of any proposed arrangement between the City of Victoria and Oak Bay, which is quite apart from the legal powers of the City Council; and as far as the city is concerned is vested entirely in that body.

THE ORIENTAL QUESTION.

The series of articles printed in the Colonist on the Oriental question has attracted considerable attention. Some of our contemporaries have reproduced them in full; others have made a herring, but none of them. Among the latter we find the following in the St. John Sun:

"The present day movement westward of the Oriental swarms into which the germ of Occidental unrest has been sown, is a movement of migratory instinct, forces upon Western North America a problem almost identical with those which have troubled the Orient since the dawn of time. The white men do not come with a sword and force their civilization upon us; they bring with them their own racial traits and habits of thought and action, and in the process of time, they become a vital part of our life. They are not superior to us, but they are different. They are not a threat to our civilization, but they are a challenge to our intelligence. They are not a danger to our race, but they are a danger to our peace. They are not a danger to our life, but they are a danger to our soul. They are not a danger to our body, but they are a danger to our mind. They are not a danger to our flesh, but they are a danger to our spirit. They are not a danger to our present, but they are a danger to our future. They are not a danger to our world, but they are a danger to our soul. They are not a danger to our life, but they are a danger to our death. They are not a danger to our body, but they are a danger to our mind. They are not a danger to our flesh, but they are a danger to our spirit. They are not a danger to our present, but they are a danger to our future. They are not a danger to our world, but they are a danger to our soul. They are not a danger to our life, but they are a danger to our death. They are not a danger to our body, but they are a danger to our mind. They are not a danger to our flesh, but they are a danger to our spirit. They are not a danger to our present, but they are a danger to our future. They are not a danger to our world, but they are a danger to our soul. They are not a danger to our life, but they are a danger to our death. They are not a danger to our body, but they are a danger to our mind. They are not a danger to our flesh, but they are a danger to our spirit. They are not a danger to our present, but they are a danger to our future. They are not a danger to our world, but they are a danger to our soul. They are not a danger to our life, but they are a danger to our death. They are not a danger to our body, but they are a danger to our mind. They are not a danger to our flesh, but they are a danger to our spirit. They are not a danger to our present, but they are a danger to our future. They are not a danger to our world, but they are a danger to our soul. They are not a danger to our life, but they are a danger to our death. They are not a danger to our body, but they are a danger to our mind.
