The United Kingdom's supply of wheat and wheat flour and foreign wheat imported and home wheat delivered in the 289 days ended May 26, 1888, has been equal to 180,040,888 bushels of wheat, comprising 93,964,496 bushels of foreign wheat and flour imported and 86,085,392 bushels of home grown wheat. The supply in the 289 days ended May 26, 1888, has been at the rate of 227,242,008 bushels annually. The estimated minimum consumption of the kingdom is about 208,000,000 bushels. On this basis there will be required to purchase in and ship from all foreign countries from May 26, 1888, to August 31, 1888, about 36,667,000 bushels, keeping stocks nominal at about 16,000,000 bushels, but these stocks may be reduced, as they have been once in the last ten years, to 8,000,000 bushels. This would diminish the quantity to be purchased in this connection to about 28,667,000 bushels additional purchases.

In a recent Government publication a summary is given of reports from 97 different districts of Italy. In 59 of these districts agriculturists are in good circumstances. Prices both of corn and cattle have depreciated, but the crops have been abundant. In the remaining 29 districts the farmers have been greatly impoverished by indifferent cultivation as well as by fungoid attacks. The districts in which agriculturists are the most prosperous are those in which the metayer system of land tenure prevails. Under this system the cultivator makes his engagement directly with the landowner, and pays not a fixed rent, either in money or kind, but a certain proportion of the produce, after deducting what is necessary to keep up the stock. The proportion thus paid to the landowner is usually one-half of the produce, but it varies in several parts of Italy. Wheat is extensively cultivated, and the average yield, taking the mountain, hill and plain districts together, is about 13 bushels per acre.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING
EPPS'S COCOA.
BREAKFAST.
"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctor's bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft, by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.
Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in packets, by grocers, labelled thus:
