Four of which are actually built and six more to be erected in 1891 without one cent of cost to any ratepayer. No town in Can-ada can boast of the same advantages, and we predict that the future of Mimico is as-sured and that in a few years she will be not only the largest and wealthiest of. Toronto's suburbs, but the largest suburb of any city in this Dominion.

There is no such word as fail in their vocabulary, and having lecided to make Mimico a large city they have now demonstrated without question their ability to do so. Investors who hold back must be content with second profits. The man who buys to-day will double his money over and over again if he makes a judicious selection. The firm of McCuaig & Mainwaring, No. 18 Victoria street, Toronto, and No. 147 St. Uames-street, Montreal, have the best land in Mimico for sale, close to the station and to the factories and can sell at low prices, as for a bungler, it is very certain, would do more harm than good.

There is really little to say anent Mr. H. M. Stanley's visit to Toronto. The dish served up is getting somewhat stale, and but for the desire to see a gentleman who has done great things as an explorer and listen to the living voice as he recounts his wonderful adven-tures, and perhaps even more, to set eyes on Mrs. Dorothy Tennant-Stanley, there was no visit to the Queen City.

risit to the Queen City. Mr. Stanley, however, it may be remarked, is rapidly acquiring a passion for roasting somebody. He is not done basting the late Major Barttelot's brother before he begins upon Emin Pasha. But really, if the Pasha was not worth the trouble of relieving, might have occurred to Mr. Stanley that he can hardly be worth the roasting.

City Government at Cost. Editor World: We would be pleased to have the city work has turned out, from a financial point of view. Certain parties, experts or not, have absorbed Mr. Coats worth's position, and it might be as well for the chairmen of the different committees to explain, if possible, to the satisfaction of the ratepayers if it has resulted in a gain or a loss. If statements in one of the dify papers are correct, there certainly has been serious moddling, and it shows in one particular case (that of Mr. Coatsworth's department) that the new and improved method has cost the cost when the Commissioner had full charge, and the work is no better done. Certain par-ties, we are aware, claim that by the inev management a great saving has been effected and we therefore presume to ask the chair-men where it comes in and where it goes to. P. & B.
