

THE BEST REMEDY

For Women—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Belleville, Ont.—"I was so weak and worn out from a female weakness that I concluded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took several bottles of it, and I gained strength so rapidly that it seemed to make a new woman of me. I can do as good a day's work as I ever did. I sincerely bless the day that I made up my mind to take your medicine for female weakness, and I am exceedingly grateful to you for your kind letters, as I certainly profited by them. I give you permission to publish this any time you wish."—Mrs. ALBERT WICKERT, Belleville, Ontario, Canada.

Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will cure female weakness and so successfully carry women through the Change of Life as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs.

For 30 years it has been curing women from the worst forms of female ills—inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and nervous prostration.

If you want special advice write for it to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. It is free and always helpful.

WATFORD, FEBRUARY 2, 1912.

Genius, Fame, Poverty.

Charles Dickens made $200,000 on one lecturing tour; but his descendants, it is said, are now in want. His eldest son, Alfred Tenyson, whose sudden death was recently recorded, had been travelling through the States delivering lectures in an endeavor to keep the family pot boiling. Tragic incidents of this kind are of daily occurrence, and yet they make as little impression upon us as the rain on the duck's back. One of our newspapers in commenting on the pathetic facts asked the significant question: "What is to become of us when we are old?" There is but one answer: A man must save in his youth if he will have a "nest egg" in the days when his looks are hoary and his earning powers have departed. But that is not all. He must adopt a system of saving which will not fail him in the hour of trial. This system has been provided under the Canadian Government Annuities Act, in regard to which you may obtain literature of your Postmaster, or on application to the Superintendent of Annuities, Ottawa.

Canadian Pulpwood in the United States.

In a pulpwood Forest Press Bulletin shortly to be published by the Dominion Forestry Branch, statistics are given to the amount of pulpwood exported from Canada into the United States during 1910. Nine hundred and forty-three thousand cords of pulpwood (sixty per cent of the total Canadian pulp-log cut) worth six million, two hundred and ten thousand dollars, were shipped across the border in a raw state, without undergoing any form of manufacture. This pulpwood export was cut from the various provinces in the followings amounts and values: 779 cords worth $5,090,000 from the timber limits of Quebec; 90,000 cords worth $647,000 from New Brunswick, and 74,000 cords worth $473,000 from Ontario. It is interesting to note to what extent provincial industry would have been increased if the pulpwood exported to the United States had been converted into pulpwood on Canadian soil. The seven hundred and seventy-nine thousand cords exported from Quebec would have supplied material for a year to fifty-six pulpmills of the average size operating in Quebec. In Ontario, five mills of the average size could have been kept running with the pulp logs exported from this province. The ninety thousand cords shipped from the ports of New Brunswick would have produced the most startling results if the amount had been domestically manufactured into pulp. The amount exported was sufficient to supply with wood twenty-four mills of the average size, with the result that five times the number of mills operating would have been at work if Canadians in New Brunswick had been far-seeing enough to manufacture their own raw products.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

Andrew Carnegie is having difficulty in collecting $28,70, due him as witness fees. Everybody will sympathize with the poor multi-millionaire in his financial difficulties.

"The Detroit," the fast train running between Detroit and New York on the Michigan Central, beat all records for speed recently. It made the run from St. Thomas to Welland, a distance of 100 miles, in 79 minutes, breaking the last fast clip by six minutes.

The Sabbath is a day of rest, and one of the most interesting sights on a Sabbath is to watch the loafers, who haven't done an hour's work all the week, in their efforts to keep the day holy by abstaining from "all manual labor."

The other day we heard a man remark that he could not understand why his boy and other boys, could not apply the stormy weather, bad roads excuse for not attending church to twenty-five mile expeditions to dances and other festivities.

The astonishing growth and prosperity of the Dominion is indicated by the receipts of the Government through the Customs and Inland Revenue Departments. The aggregate Customs dues collected for the first eight months of the current fiscal year amount to $56,336,789.63. The estimated Customs revenue for the fiscal year ending March 31st next, is $85,000,000, a gain of $13,000,000 over the returns of the last fiscal year. The inland revenue receipts for the first eight months ending December 31st, will amount to $14,547,523, as against $12,383,118 for the corresponding eight months of the past year. The revenue collected by this department for the fiscal year ending March 31st 1912, will considerably exceed $19,000,000 as against $17,225,000 for the year previous.

When a girl begins to boss a fellow around it's a pretty good sign she has made up her mind to marry him.

East Middlesex Conservatives have entered a protest against the election of Mr. Robert Sutherland, M.P.P.

"Archimedes," read the pupil, "leaped from his bath, shouting Eureka! Eureka!"

"One moment, James," says the teacher. "What is the meaning of Eureka?"

"Eureka means 'I have found it.'"

"Very well. What had Archimedes found?"

James hesitated a moment, then ventured, hopefully:

"The soap, mum."—Exchange.

BANK OF ENGLAND NOTES.

Always Fresh and Clean, as They Are Issued Only Once.

There is as great a difference between the systems of issuing and redeeming the notes of the Bank of England and of the banks of the United States as there is in the appearance of the notes themselves.

The English note is somewhat longer and much broader than ours, is of rough white paper, with ragged edges, and is printed on one side only, with a few words and with no pictures or designs, while ours are completely covered on both sides with vignette and lathe work.

Our notes are issued again and again until they become so worn that they are no longer serviceable. A Bank of England note is never issued more than once. Every note that comes in is canceled at once, and then it is stored away with other canceled notes to be preserved for a certain period, when it is destroyed by burning.

It takes many clerks to keep the record of notes issued and paid, and so accurately is this work done that the date when any note was issued, the person receiving it, the time when it was paid into the bank and by whom, can be ascertained from the books. If the time was within five years the note itself can be produced.

Many are the stories of attempts to counterfeit these notes, which have always been failures. As the average time between the issue and the payment of the notes is only five or six days the fact that a counterfeit is in circulation is known almost at once, and the system of English bankers and merchants of keeping the numbers of the notes received and paid gives the clew whereby the offender is quickly apprehended.—Exchange.

A TIP ON CHECKS.

Advice by a Woman Who Always Fills Out the Stub First.

The west side woman was paying with a check for some articles she had bought at a department store, and she was carefully filling in the stub of her check book first. "Oh, don't stop for that," urged her shopping companion, who was in a hurry. "You can do that when you get home."

Unmoved, the west side woman finished the stub with special care, then wrote the check, gave it to the salesman and said to her impatient friend: "Before I was married I took care of some of my father's accounts. The first time he ever asked me to fill out a set of blank checks for him so he could sign them he told me: 'One rule you must always observe—write the stub first. Make a vow to yourself, like unto the vow of Jeppthah, that you will never write a check until the stub is filled. If for any reason you should fail later to write the check it would be a simple matter to cancel the stub, but if you write a check and leave the stub blank you open the door to a hundred chances of mistake. No one's memory can be trusted on that subject. Never try to trust yours. Let the law of 'the stub first' be to you as the law of the Medes and the Persians.' I have always found it perfectly easy to follow that rule, and that is one reason I have a bank account today. My husband is never afraid I will make him any trouble with it."—New York Press.

A Safe Proceeding.

Lord Lyons, English minister at Washington during the war between the states and afterward ambassador to France, was a diplomatist to the core. He was exceedingly tactful in action and had the rare art of keeping his own counsel. When Sir Edward Blount called upon him one day at the embassy in Paris he found that a well known journalist had preceded him. The visitor was laying down the law in a loud tone, and when, after his departure, Sir Edward was received he took the liberty of saying: "May I be allowed to ask if it is quite wise to discuss state secrets in such a loud tone? I heard every word that was said, my lord, as I sat in the anteroom."

"Ah!" said Lord Lyons. "But even then you could not hear what I said, for I said nothing."

Ancient Stone Workers.

Egyptian stone workers 4,000 years ago had a surprising knowledge of what are considered modern tools. These pyramid builders operated with solid and tubular drills and straight and circular saws. In handling the tubular drills, which were of superior quality, the skill of the artisan was so remarkable that the cutting marks in granite show no indication of wear of the tool, while a cut of a tenth of an inch was made in the hardest rock at each revolution. A hole through both hard and soft material was bored perfectly smooth and uniform.

BLACK KNIGHT STOVE POLISH

It used to be that the dirtiest and hardest work a woman had to do about the house was, polishing the stove.
"Black Knight" Stove Polish has made it no work and no muss at all.
"Black Knight" is a smooth paste, that is spread easily with a cloth or brush and shines like a black diamond after a few gentle rubs.
It cleans as it polishes—keeps the stoves fresh and bright, with almost as little trouble as polishing one's shoes.

The Dangers of Gasoline.

People do not seem to realize the danger in handling gasoline, as is evidenced by the loss of life and property each year and the serious burns to many who do not lose their lives. The instance is recorded of a Chicago woman, who, wishing to have a quick fire, poured gasoline on the fuel in the stove. Like a flash the gasoline in the can exploded and she was fatally burned. She evidently did not know that gasoline has to be handled more carefully than gunpowder, and that an unseen train of gasoline might lead from the match to the comparatively distant can.

Another case reported is that of a woman who poured a quart of gasoline in a marble basin in the toilet room and placed a silk waist in it. She closed the door and after ten minutes' absence returned and rubbed the silk between her hands. This generated sufficient electricity to make a spark, causing the gasoline to explode. The house was burned and the woman lost her life.

A Misunderstanding.

Horatio P. Connors, the well-known Duluth inventor, was discussing with an amateur his latest invention—a glider.

"No, no," he said, a little impatiently; "you misunderstand me. You fail to grasp my meaning. You have no knowledge, you see, of the technical terms of aeronautics."

Then with a laugh, the inventor added:

"In fact, you misunderstand me as completely as the young lady passenger on a sailing ship who, lying in her bunk early one morning, misunderstood the

mate's shout:

"Hoist the top sheet and spanker!"

A RECOGNIZED REGULATOR.—To bring the digestive organs into symmetrical working is the aim of physicians when they find a patient suffering from stomachic irregularities, and for this purpose they can prescribe nothing better than Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, which will be found a pleasant medicine of surprising virtue in bringing the refractory organs into subjection and restoring them to normal action, in which condition only can they perform their duties properly.

Too Much Imagination.

H. K. Adair, the detective, was talking in Chicago about one of the famous sleuths of fiction.

"He's too imaginative, that chap," said Mr. Adair, with a smile. "He's like the Tribune compositor."

"Horace Greeley, you know, left a big sheet of copy paper on his desk one summer day, and a fly, after a swim in the ink well took a stroll over it."

"An editor noticed the paper lined and smudged and criss-crossed by the fly, and he sent it upstairs. They put it in a veteran compositor's hands. And the veteran, without any difficulty whatever, got a half-column editorial out of it."

Samuel Alex was fined a thousand dollars at Sault Ste. Marie for five violations of the liquor law. He is alleged to have sold a patent medicine for whiskey.
