

GENERAL DEBILITY FOLLOWS INFLUENZA

The After Effects Often More Serious Than the Disease Itself. No reasonable precaution to avert an attack of influenza should be spared. The disease itself often proves fatal and its after effects among those who are spared, make the life of the victim one of almost constant misery. Ask almost any of those who have been attacked by this trouble what their present condition of health is and most of them will answer: "Since I had the influenza I have never been fully well." This trouble leaves behind it a persistent weakness of the limbs, shortness of breath, bad digestion, palpitation of the heart and a tired feeling after even slight exertion. This is due to the thin-blooded condition in which the patient is left after the fever and influenza have subsided. This condition will continue until the blood is built up again, and for building up the blood and strengthening the nerves nothing can equal a fair treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The value of this medicine in cases of this kind is shown by the statement of Mr. Edward J. McGuire, Pembroke, Ont., who says: "In the fall of 1918 I was attacked with the influenza—and not in a mild form either. I was confined to my room for three weeks, and although the influenza subsided I did not regain my health. As a matter of fact I seemed to be growing weaker. I had no appetite, was subject to fainting spells and my feet and ankles were badly swollen. The doctor told me that my condition had developed into a serious case of anaemia, and although I was under his care for over two months I was not improving in any way. At this stage one of my friends advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was loth to do so, as I began to think my case hopeless. However, I was finally persuaded to try them, and by the time I had used two boxes there was no doubt they were helping me. I continued taking the pills until I had used a dozen boxes, when I found that every symptom of the trouble had left me and I was again enjoying the best of health. I returned to my work and have ever since been in good health and feel that I owe it entirely to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I think that anyone who is suffering from the after effects of influenza, or any form of anaemia should give this medicine a fair trial." You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville.

OBITUARY

John Clark
The late Mr. John Clark, whose death was noted last week, was one of the early settlers of Warwick Township, having come in 1868 to the farm on which he died. Some of the neighboring farms were partly cleared but up till that time a lot of 22 stood untouched, a natural forest. Mr. Clark was born on the Isle of Man, Sept. 18th, 1830, and came four years later to Canada with his parents, making for themselves a home near Springfield, Ont. In 1859 he married Miss Phoebe Baker of Springfield, who died in 1874, leaving a family of three children, Eleanor (Mrs. Nathan Hagle, Port Huron Mich.); Hugh B., on the homestead, and Phoebe (Mrs. David Ross, Yale, Mich.). In 1883 Mr. Clark married Miss Johanna Bowes of Wisbeach, who predeceased him Feb. 22nd, ten years ago, and who was survived by one daughter, Elizabeth, at home. Mr. Clark had been in failing health for some time and in the early morning hours of Tuesday, Feb 28th, slept quietly away. The funeral took place Thursday afternoon and was largely attended. Burial at Arkona. Rev. W. K. Hager, pastor of Zion Methodist church, of which Mr. Clark had for many years been a member, had charge of the service and directed the thoughts of those present to the latter part of I Thess. 4. The pall-bearers were Messrs. D. Ross, N. Hagle, J. A. Miniely, R. Adams, R. E. McGillicuddy and G. A. Baird.

John D. Noble
After a lingering illness, John D. Noble, died Friday morning at the family home Petrolea. The late Mr. Noble came to Petrolea in 1863 and entered into the oil business. During his active days he was one of the largest oil producers in Canada and was favored in the ownership of large wells. In politics he was a staunch Conservative and for many years represented Christ church, Petrolea, in the Anglican Synod. Deceased is survived by his wife and four sons, Robert, Boston, Mas.; Stafford, Elmira, N. Y.; James, Vancouver, B. C., and Ernest of the Imperial Oil Co., Limited, Sarnia. Miss Jenkins of Sarnia, is a niece.

John Stirrett

The death occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Earl Hall, Grand Rapids, Mich., on Monday, Feb. 27th, of John Stirrett in his 76th year. Deceased was on a visit to his daughter in Grand Rapids, and while there he suffered a paralytic stroke from which he never recovered, and passed away on the above date. Deceased was born in Stathcona, Scotland, in 1844 and came to Canada with his parents in 1847, settling on the 6th line of Plympton. In 1874 he married Charlotte Lavina Spearman, who survives him. After their marriage they lived in Dawn Township, afterwards moving to Sarnia where they lived till about two years ago, when they moved to Corunna. Besides his wife, two daughters, survive him, three brothers and one sister also survive him viz., George, Josiah, William, and Mrs. Neal Dewar.

The funeral service was held on Tuesday afternoon, and was conducted by the Rev. Hall, of Sarnia. Interment was made in Beechwood cemetery, Forest. The pall bearers were Samuel Bailey, Robert Sparling, William Bullfick and James Jamieson.

William Graham

Wm. Graham, who resided for several years on the Leonard farm, 12th line, Bosanquet, died on Sunday last in the General Hospital, Sarnia, aged 51 years. He had been in poor health for some time after moving to Sarnia, but his condition was not regarded as critical until last week, when excessive blood pressure brought on convulsions. Mr. Graham was twice married. His first wife, Lucy Taylor, died in England before he came to this country. His second wife, Sarah Quigley, survives him, and is ill at their home in Sarnia. Five daughters, by the first wife, also survive him, viz.: Alice, in Parkhill; Lucy and Lena, in Forest; Katie in Bosanquet, and Edith in Warwick.

John Dewar

John Dewar, flagman at the G. T. R. Main street crossing at Capac, Mich., was instantly killed Wednesday evening, Feb. 22nd, while about finishing his day's work. After guarding the crossing for a west bound local freight on the north track, and while it was passing, he took a shovel to clean the mud and slushy ice off the plank crossing on the south bound track. While thus shovelling he was facing west, and the day being foggy he did not notice a fast freight east bound coming. Though the engineer blew the whistle in long blasts and put on the brakes, the train could not be stopped in time and Mr. Dewar received the force of the blow in the face, which was stove in. He was thrown 25 feet, and his body was not mangled by the wheels. A coroner was summoned and the verdict was that the passing train and fog were responsible for the accident.

SINGING AT FUNERALS

At Brantford the other day at the inquest on the body of an unknown man, the coroner's jury "expressed regret that only the undertaker and the grave digger were present when he was buried, unhonored and un-sung." Life has its sad lights, generally more than its glad. There seems to be much to cry and little to laugh about. At the same time, that word, un-sung, applies to the way we would like our own obsequies conducted when the time arrives. There is nothing joyous about a funeral, and all of us can recall when the singing meant piling on the agony. In a church, with a proper choir, and with some of the old, old hymns that comforted our fathers in their times of grief, yes; decidedly yes. But in the average home, with a quartette hastily scuffled together and usually only two or three of them hitting the key, un-sung for our's, if you don't mind.
