The bearers at the grave were all old friends of the deceased Capt. Charles McBride, Capt. Wm. Rawding, Dr. W. T. Cook and C. H. Beardsley, a former partner in business.

Death of Susan F. Starratt

The death of Susan F., widow of the late Col. Wm. Starratt occurred Wednesday at the advanced age of 82 years and nine months. The deceased was an enthusiastic member of the Baptist church and will be much missed in the community in which she resided. She is survived by one son, Robie of New York, and one daughter, Mrs. George Pearson, Paradise, with whom she resided. Mr. Daniel Freeman, also of Paradise is a brother. The funeral, which was very largely attended, took place Friday afternoon, the service being conducted by Rev. Haddon Balcom. The floral tributes were beautiful, showing the high esteem in which she was held by her relatives and friends, and the various religious and social societies of which she was a highly valued member. The MONITOR extends its sympathy to the bereaved

Accident at Dalhousie

An accident occurred at Dalhousie West on Tuesday evening when Mrs. James DeVany was thrown from her wagon and severely shaken up, but no bones were broken. She was attended by Dr. Braine from town and is hoped will recover without any bad effects. The accident was caused by a shaft bolt breaking and the horse running

Inspector of Schools. Where To Go Next Wednesday

Wednesday afternoon is a half holiday among the merchants and clerks of Bridgetown. Sometimes they ask "Where is the best place to enjoy THIS afternoon?" We can answer for Aug 20th, for on that date the ladies of Clementsport are holding a garden party on the rectory grounds, proceed for church purposes. The roads are good and Clementsport is certainly a beautiful place to spend a half holiday a whole holiday or a whole summer We trust that the attendance will be large next Wednesday afernoon and
