DESIGNATION OF OFFICERS' MESSES.—An Admiralty Circular, dated the 17th ult., has just been issued, directing that, in future, in all rates of her Majesty's ships, the lieutenants' mess shall be designated as the "Ward-room mess," and that of the subordinate officers the "Gun-mess."

High-pressure Boilers.—It having been found that the practice of emptying high-pressure boilers by blowing them out causes them to become leaky, owing to the unequal contraction occasioned by the cold air passing through the tubes, the Admiralty have directed that this practice be avoided in future, and that, even with low-pressure boilers, whenever the service will admit thereof, the water be allowed to remain till it becomes cool before the boilers are emptied. Captains and commanding officers of steam-ships and vessels are to take care that the improper practice of continuing the use of water to gearags up to the time of stopping the engines, instead of employing oil exclusively for a short time previously thereto, be discontinued; considerable injury having been caused, in several instances, to the machinery thereby.

DISEASE IN CAVALRY HORSES.—A letter from Poona (Bombay establishment) informed us that a very extraordinary disease has attacked the horses of the 14th Light Dragoons. It resembles the cholera in all respects. Many of the animals are violently purged in the first instance; others are seized with cramp and die without being purged.
