Something Needed.

THE Church needs more honest faith in the Bible: to realize that whole peoples are dying Christless; that every human soul needs Christ, and that he died for every human soul; that, without Him, men are lost, and what it means to be lost, more faith in God and more faith in hell—in the reality of the exposure of men. Theodore Parker, when a lad, heard a powerful sermon on eternal punishment; but he saw that nobody seemed to feel impressed by it, and he said within himself, "Even Christians don't believe this, and why should I?" That may have been the turning-point in that boy's life.

Heaven on the Shelf.

John Elliott was once calling on a merchant, he saw in his counting-room ledgers and account-books on the table, while some religious and devotional works were laid up on the shelf, and remarked to his friend: "Sir, here is earth on the table, and heaven on the shelf. Pray do not think so much of the table as to altogether forget the shelf"

We are too prone to put heaven on the shelf, and so busy ourselves with this world that we forget the next. But the things that are seen are temporal, and how soon they must all pass away. A little while and every earthly delight and possession will have passed for ever beyond our reach, and there will be nothing left for us except the unseen and the eternal.

Let us, then, occupy ourselves most with the things that are enduring. Let us lay up our treasures where they cannot be destroyed, and let us seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, knowing that all needed things will be added unto us.

What do I Want?

WANT a friend that sticketh closer than a brother; I want an almighty arm upon which I can lean in the hour of darkness and peril; I want an infallible guide who will lead me safely through the snares of this world, within the gates of the eternal city; I want an inspirer and comforter and father who never sleeps and never forgets and never forsakes; I want one who can take away the terrors of death and give the joys of heaven. All these wants are met in Him who doeth all things well, and who so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son that whosoever believeth in Him might not perish but have everlasting life.

CHRIST not only bought us, He redeemed us. Buying, is buying something that belongs to somebody else; redeeming, is buying something that belongs to himself.
