The Art of Conversation

By J. P. Mahaffy.

Is there any method by which we can improve our conversation?
Is there any theory which we can apply to our own case, and that of others? Are there not, at least, some practical rules which we ought to know, and which will be of service to us in the performance of this part of our social duties?

These, and a hundred other questions are fully and affirmatively answered in this book. The author has had access to the highest social circles, and speaks from personal observation and experience, and the conclusions he draws, and the many valuable hints and suggestions he gives will commend themselves to every thoughtful reader.
Cloth binding, 50 cents.

Etiquette

By Agnes H. Morton,
B. O.

Some manuals of etiquette treat almost exclusively of "state occasions," while others are made up of sundry rules, often illiterate in style, and of doubtful authority.

Both of these classes of manuals are obviously inadequate to the needs of the great mass "who dwell within the broad zone of the average." For this large class, a book that gives information as to the essential points of correct behavior in social life,—points equally applicable to the rich and to the poor,— is the ideal manual. And such a book is this volume.
Cloth binding, 50 cents.

Hand-Book of Pronunciation

By John H. Bechtel.

This work contains over five thousand carefully selected words of difficult pronunciation alphabetically arranged.

Two forms of pronunciation are given. The first employs as few di-critical marks as possible, and is designed for those to whom such marks are a stumbling block instead of a help.
The second is a close phonetic analysis of the word, in which every vowel is marked, every necessary sign employed, every silent letter omitted, and every accent, primary and secondary, carefully noted.
Cloth binding, 50 cents.

Oratory

By Henry Ward
Beecher.

The attention of all persons interested in the Art of Expression is directed to this new issue of Henry Ward Beecher's unique and masterly exposition of the fundamental principles of true oratory.

It must be conceded that few men ever enjoyed a wider experience, or achieved a higher reputation in the realm of public oratory than Mr. Beecher. What he had to say on this subject was born of experience, and his own inimitable style was at once both statement and illustration of his theme.
Cloth binding, 50 cents.

Correspondence

By Agnes H. Morton,
B. O.

This is the most intelligent and thoroughly literary work on the subject ever offered to the public.

Its object is to assist inexperienced persons to develop their talent for correct and graceful letter writing. This gratifying result it will accomplish not so much by adhering to the numerous forms of letters applicable to all conceivable business and social occasions, as by following the excellent suggestions and directions with which the work abounds for the writing of original letters.
Cloth binding, 50 cents.

Reading as a Fine Art

By Ernest Legouvé, of the Académie Française.

This excellent work is universally recognized as authority upon the subject of public reading, and it is therefore invaluable to Public Readers and Speakers, Instructors in Elocution, public and private school teachers, and to all persons interested in the instruction of pupils in our schools.

This is the cheapest edition of the work that is published. The only other one issued costs more than twice the price of this and it contains no more matter.
Cloth binding, 50 cents.

If you vote so that the streets will be safer for children to walk through as they grow up, you may be sure it pleases God.

"We pay 363,935 teachers $80,000,000 to train our children. (They have no certificate of moral character.) Then we pay 204,913 liquor dealers $1,200,000,000 to ruin them. These last have certificates of good moral character signed by leaders of the two old parties."— American Exchange.

Quotations

By Agnes H. Morton,
B. O.

This is a clever compilation of pithy quotations selected from a great variety of sources, and alphabetically arranged according to the sentiment. An important division of the book is the characteristic lines from well-known authors. In it are hundreds of familiar sayings of widely varying application, accredited to their original sources.
It contains all the popular quotations in current use, together with many rare bits of prose and verse not generally found in similar collections.
Cloth binding, 50 cts.

Little People's Dialogues

For children of ten years. Everything original and written specially for this book by Clara J. Denton.

In many cases a degree of novelty and originality is found in the Dialogues that places them far in advance of the average productions of this kind.

Provision has been made for all occasions, thus adapting the book to the most varied kinds of entertainments and exhibitions.
Paper binding, 25 cts.; boards, 40 cts.

Young Folks' Entertainments

By E. C. and L. J.
Rook. Absolutely new and original.

School Entertainments of the present time generally present a much more varied performance than of old, and the call for variety has been met in this book by the careful preparation of Motion Songs, Charades, Tableaux, Dialogues, Concert Recitations, Motion
Pieces, Drills, etc.

Paper binding, 25 cts.; boards, 40 cts.

Punctuation

By Paul Allardyce.

This volume is the most practical, concise, and comprehensive book on the subject. The rules, which are clearly stated, are followed with numerous practical illustrations, thus furnishing a complete exposition of this much neglected study.

Its value appeals, not alone to the author's correspondent, but to every intelligent person who has occasion to write even the briefest social or business note, and it is therefore universally invaluable and a volume that should be in every writing desk or library.
Cloth binding, 50 cents.

Woman suffrage will bring less woman suffering.

An ounce of Prohibition is worth a ton of license.

A good many talk for home rule in Ireland, but vote for saloon rule in Canada.

"I would be glad if there was not a drop of liquor in the world," is the way some temperance men talk. If they will just drop that wish into the ballot-box it will do some good."—Motive.
