

birds, animals and fish, alphabetically arranged, and giving references to the different statutes and orders-in-council now in force. It is a thoroughly standard and reliable work, having been issued under the authority of the Ontario fish and game commissioners, and should be in the hands of every sportsman and fisherman. It will be sent post free for price, 25c., on application to Mr. Geo. Rennardson, 74 Church street, or the Canada Law Journal Co., Toronto

BOOKS THAT SELL IN MONTREAL.

The books which are having the best sale in Montreal are as follows: "Quo Vadis," by H. Sienkiewicz; "The Christian," Hall Caine; "In Kedar's Tents," Seton Merriman; "Daniel," Blackmore.

MONTREAL BOOK NOTES.

The Montreal News Co. expects to have ready next week a 75c. paper edition of "The Beth Book," the latest production from the pen of Sarah Grand, author of "The Heavenly Twins." From advance notices of this book, it should have a ready sale. A cloth edition to retail at $1.50 is also in course of preparation, and should be much in demand as a Christmas gift.

Among the many excellent 50c. books offered for sale by the Montreal News Co. are: "Quo Vadis;" Miss Alexander's new book "Barbara;" "When the World was younger," Miss M. E. Braddon; "Miss Providence," by Dorothea Gerard. S. R. Crockett's latest, "Lochinvar," is in a special paper edition and retails at 75c.

Kirby's "Golden Dog," instead of having a diminished sale, is in even greater demand. Although two editions were got out in the summer by the Montreal News Co., both are exhausted, and another will be ready immediately.

"The Choir Invisible," by James Lane Allen, will be placed on the market next week in a 75c. paper edition by the Montreal News Co. Of the $1.50 American edition 50,000 copies have been sold. It is bound to sell here, too.

W. T. STEAD'S PUBLICATIONS.

A Canadian agency (A. H. Gibbard, 262 Yonge street, Toronto) has been established for the publications of that enterprising journalist, Mr. W. T. Stead, of the English Review of Reviews. Several series of popular publications have been issued by him. The "Penny Poets" are cheap, rough paper-covered books, with selections from the chief English poets. "Books for the Bairns" are nursery tales profusely illustrated, and also in paper cover. There are also two handsome volumes bound in scarlet cloth, and decorated in gold, with many illustrations. One is the life of the Queen, being a collection of the papers which Mr. Stead wrote for his "Review" last year in commemoration of the Jubilee. Her Majesty is pictured as Queen, editor, head of the church, as domestic exemplar and as an influential factor in the rule of the British Empire. The book is a splendid life of the Queen. The other bound volume is a series of 150 full page portraits of British notabilities, with their autographs and specimens of their handwriting. Accompanying them are brief biographies. A most useful volume
