occupied. In better times for real estate, this property ought to bring a handsome sum for the creditors, provided it is procurable for their benefit. The heavy shipments made of late to England are now alleged as the immediate cause of his suspension. Possibly reclamations are being made which he is not in a position to meet. It is a well-known circumstance among hardware and leather men, that the competition among belting makers has almost precluded profit for a year past. The tariff which was supposed to govern the prices of retail men had been cut into until it was no longer a guide, and the trade discounts ranged all the way from 30 to 5 per cent. "off list." Doubtless overproduction was to blame in this as in other lines.

OIL MATTERS IN PETROLIA.

(From our own Correspondent.)

PETROLIA, July 10, 1876.

The London Association have just concluded their arrangements, and are ready for a new year's combination. They have also determined to go thoroughly into the export trade. They have already some 250,000 barrels of crude oil on hand, and have made all their arrangements with a New York firm for shipping. This will be quite a new era in oil matters here, and will be the means of keeping up the price of crude so that in time the requirements for oil associations or rings will cease, and oil will be ruled by the home market and New York quotations. There is nothing to note here, the shipments for the last week being very small, not exceeding 1,700 barrels. Business here is not brisk, but steady, and great hopes are entertained of the success of the export enterprise.
