[A GRAPHIC CALENDAR WITH A NORTHERN VIEW

OF CANADIAN POLITICIANS, POLITICAL PROBLEMS, PROVINCES, PARLIAMENT, PRIDE AND PREJUDICES]

CANADA

has a mysterious abundance of political parties and political cartoonists. Why should one rather small group of people produce not only the Liberals, the Progressive Conservatives, the Social Crediters, the New Democrats and the recently triumphant Parti Québécois but also Messrs. Aislin, Chambers, La Palme, Macpherson, Norris, Girerd, Peterson, Franklin and Uluschak. Perhaps it is something in the cool, crisp, stinging air.

In this Christmas issue of CANADA TODAY/D'AUJOURD'HUI, we review the often scathing work of Canadian cartoonists from J. W. Bengough on and, in the process, examine some of Canada's past and recent political controversies, compromises and painful resolutions.
