

Proceedings on Adjournment Motion

plan. Changes with regard to security regulations are being made at a number of ports. In so far as the port of Vancouver is concerned, the information I have received is that recruiting of the new force is not yet completed. Every opportunity will be given to members of the existing force to see if they can qualify. If my hon. friend is correct that the qualifications as laid down are such as to prohibit the former members from engaging in these positions I shall be more than pleased to see if there is some other arrangement we can make, some way we can ensure that their employment is continued is some form, or perhaps that alternative jobs are found for them.

● (10:20 p.m.)

I am sufficiently sympathetic, Mr. Speaker, to the needs of war veterans and of men who have punched in a great many years of service to assure my hon. friend that I will do all I can. I hope I can give him a reasonably satisfactory answer within a comparatively short time.

Motion agreed to and the house adjourned at 10:23 p.m.
