

WE DO NOT FIND CONSTANCY ENOUGH!—But what work can sustain itself equally throughout and not need being reanimated. In the accomplishment of our own duties, do we not feel that we require to be reanimated, zeal is cooling! Let us revive it, and indeed means are not wanting. One time it is a LOTTERY, at another it is a FEAST, while at another it is a DRAWING for baptismal names.

Let us own that when there is question of a work that saves each year more than THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND CHILDREN, there is no plausible motive, in these pretended difficulties, capable of stopping us.
