STUDHOLME BACK BY LARGE MARGIN

Sir James Whitney has gone back to power with a majority big enough for all "practical purposes," in fact, a lot of his friends believe it is still too large, but a great many of them did not have the heart to help reduce it.

The prime minister will have a majority of 60, whereas, in the last house the Conservative majority was 68 including the Speaker.

At midnight, with the returns practically complete from every part of Ontario, the standing of the parties was:

CONSERVATIVES 53
LABORITE 1

The Conservatives made 7 gains, including North Renfrew, which went by acclamation. The Liberals made 11 gains.

Some of the Conservative members of the last parliament who went down to defeat were: Phil Bowyer in East Kent, where local considerations entered largely into the fight; Charlie Calder in South Ontario; A. Aubin in Sturgeon Falls, who was opposed by a very strong and popular man, Mageau, and where patronage did Mr. Aubin more harm than good; and Col. Craig in East Wellington, a valuable man.

The Liberal Fallen.
On the other hand the Liberals lost such stalwarts as Jas. McEwing, who was one of the strongest characters on the left hand side of the house; Daniel Reed, South Wentworth, and Valentine Stock of South Perth. The last named will long be remembered as the Liberal who was carried from Tavistock by special train at night, when Beattie Ness kept the house in session by a ruse which completely convinced Sir George Ross that he was in the minority, when as a matter of fact he had a majority, and could have carried the house at any time during the night. The session was brought to a close on the arrival of the Valentine Stock special with Valentine Stock aboard, and the government of the day was saved.

The bilingual question did not help the Conservatives much. In the French counties they lost Gleggarry (formerly Scotch), Prescott and Sturgeon Falls, while on the other hand the Conservatives won in the French counties, Stormont and East Ottawa; the latter could be accounted for by the candidature of L. J. Kehoe, an Irish Roman Catholic, from whom the French expected very little consideration on the question of the bilingual schools.

Can't Beat Studholme.
The election of Allan Studholme, the Labor representative from East Hamilton, did not surprise those who knew the situation. Mr. Studholme has been a faithful tribune of the people, thorough in his views and independent. He was of course sometimes a thorn in the flesh to the government, and Premier Whitney made a special trip to Hamilton for the purpose of bringing about his defeat. Studholme comes back with a largely increased majority, showing that not only the labor men stood by their old representative, but many Conservatives as well cast aside party considerations. Mr. Studholme is a loquacious old gentleman, and was somewhat of a nuisance during his earlier political career, but he is breaking into the game nicely, and his presence in the legislature is not going to injure, but on the contrary, will benefit, the people.

Local interest also ran to Gleggarry, where Lieut.-Col. D. M. Robertson of the 48th Highlanders took up the fight on behalf of the Conservative party in opposition to Hugh Munro, a big contractor. This seat was a gain for the Liberals.

Few Changes Likely.
At dissolution eleven seats in the house were vacant, by reason of the resignation of eight members to run for the federal house. It was because of the necessity of holding by-elections in so many ridings that the Whitney government announced that it would dissolve the house, the general election by effluxion of time being due before another year. Two of these seats were held by Conservatives, North Wentworth and Centre Bruce, which have returned Liberals.

Owing to some of the northern sections being almost inaccessible returns were unavailable last night, and it is

Magnificent Endorsation Says Premier Whitney

Sir James Whitney, when asked last night to give an opinion on the election result, was in prime good humor. There was a reason. His brief statement was as follows:

"At this moment, it is difficult for me to choose proper language in which to express the heartfelt appreciation of my colleagues and myself, and our thanks for this magnificent endorsement by the people of Ontario of the course pursued by us. The endorsement is phenomenal indeed. It will certainly encourage the government to continue its best efforts for the advancement and prosperity of the people of the province, who have again given us such signal evidence of their confidence."

Big C. P. R. Elevators At Owen Sound Prey to Flames

Loss Will Be Over $1,000,000—887,000 Bushels of Grain Destroyed—Government Lighthouse and Auxiliary Train Burned
—Big Steamships Had a Narrow Escape.

OWEN SOUND, Dec. 11.—(Special).—One of the most devastating fires that has ever visited the port of Owen Sound, took place this evening, resulting in the total destruction of the two big C. P. R. elevators with their contents, consisting of 887,000 bushels of grain, the balance being principally oats and barley. The loss will run over $1,000,000.

The fire, which broke out at 8.45 o'clock, and at midnight was still blazing furiously, is believed to have been caused by the dropping of a cigar or cigarette butt on the dock close to the elevating leg of No. 1, the southern of the two elevators. The capacity of this elevator is 250,000 bushels, and that of No. 2, the northern elevator, 800,000 bushels. It was discovered shortly after by Harbor Master Maclean and Wm. Hartford, who promptly turned in an alarm.

Flames Spread Quickly.
Like a lightning flash the flames sprang up the main elevating leg, which furnished a great target for their progress, and quickly spread over the entire building.

Then by means of the grain-conveyor they spread to the other elevator, 100 feet to the north, which was soon enveloped in flames. At midnight this elevator was still burning fiercely.

An auxiliary train, which was standing on a nearby track, also fell a prey to the flames before it could be got out to safety. Four cars were burned. Two of the big C. P. R. steamers, the Keewatin and the Athabasca, which were tied up close to the elevators, had a narrow escape. The Keewatin was able, however, to get away under her own steam, but the Athabasca had to be pulled along the dock by lines.

Lighthouse Burned.
The government lighthouse also fell before the flames.

At midnight No. 3 C. P. R. freight-shed, which runs along the south side of No. 2 elevator, was still in danger, as was also the immense coal pile which the C. P. R. had stacked on the dock between it and the elevator. So far, however, all the C. P. R. freight-sheds had escaped.

The local fire brigade worked valiantly, but in the face of impossible odds were powerless to prevent the spread of the flames.

Engineer George Sainsbury of the C. P. R. had a narrow escape. He was in the power-house adjoining No. 1 elevator, endeavoring to keep the pumps going until the last moment, and just managed to get out before the roof fell in. Two firemen also had close calls.

The steamers Matthews, Keewatin and Crowe are still lying near the burning buildings, but will be able to get away under their own steam if threatened.

The grain destroyed was owned principally by the Quaker Oats Co. of Peterboro, Jos. Richardson & Son of Toronto, Jas. Carruthers & Co. of Toronto and Mr. Thomas of Toronto.

Strike Breaker Was Murdered

Street Cleaner Was Struck on Head
With Cobblestone in New York.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—(Can. Press).—Another murder growing out of the recent strike of street cleaners occurred late to-day, when William Sweet, driver of a street cleaning car, was hit on the head with a cobblestone thrown from the roof of an east side tenement and instantly killed.

Sweet was bending over a pile of rubbish, shovel in hand, preparing to load his cart, when, without warning, the piece of granite came down from the roof of a five-story building and struck him at the base of the brain, crushing his skull and breaking his neck.

The police, who are still sent out in some sections to guard the street cleaners, rushed to the roof, but could not find the man who threw the stone. Later, however, they arrested a man, who is being held as a suspect, in the belief that he knows something about the murder.

TAXI RUNS INTO MAN DRIVER IS ARRESTED

William Stewart Lies in Hospital and May Die—Frank Hasel
in Police Station.

William Stewart, 146 Jarvis-street, 60 years of age, lies in St. Michael's Hospital with a fracture at the base of the skull.

Frank Hasel, 24 years, 112 Coxwell-avenue, a chauffeur for Taxicabs Limited, is held at the Court-street police station charged with criminal negligence.

Stewart was crossing the roadway at Jarvis and King, when he stepped back to avoid a street car at 10.15 last night. The taxi was running east and struck him.

The chauffeur stopped and was helping the old man into the cab to take him to the hospital when Detective Taylor, who was on his way home, came along. He went to the hospital, where he learned that Stewart's recovery is doubtful. He then arrested the chauffeur.

Hasel says that he did not see the old man until he was directly in front of his machine.

FAT STOCK SHOW BEST SEEN IN CITY

Abundance of Splendid Cattle, Sheep and Swine on View at Union Stock Yards—Large Attendance Expected Today—The Judges and the Awards.

The second annual Toronto Fat Stock Show commenced yesterday at the Union Stock Yards, West Toronto, and will be continued again to-day. Big strides have been made since a year ago, and also the exhibition is as yet only in its infancy in point of numbers, it has already passed its competitors.

General Manager Ashcraft was pleased with everything yesterday except the weather. He is hopeful, however, that this will improve to-day, and that a large attendance will witness the splendid free exhibits.

"We have gone some this year," Mr. Ashcraft told The World, "but we are not easily satisfied and you may expect a yearly improvement. To widen the public interest we have added a poultry exhibit, and this has been favorably accepted."

Splendid Exhibits.
But the great appeal yesterday came from the magnificent specimens of cattle. Huge steers and heifers weighing in some cases almost a ton delighted breeders, farmers and drovers, and were a source of interest to the many novices who took occasion to see part of the successful labors of the real Ontario farmer. The docility of the animals would almost indicate that they had been farm pets, while their gleaming coats indicated the stable care which had been bestowed upon them.

One very fine animal had already passed the scrutiny of American judges at the Chicago show, and in this wide competition he had secured fourth place. He was much admired by home critics yesterday and was justly entitled to the award bestowed.

The competition was exceedingly keen in the single classes, but scarcely more so than in the car lots of butchers and exporters.

Sheep and Swine.
In the sheep and swine the entries were well proportioned, and the judges had no trouble in classifying the exhibits.

ANOTHER BIG DEAL.

The two stores immediately west of The Mail building, namely, 18 and 20 West King-street, have been leased for a period of years, at a rental of $7000 per year and taxes, with option of buying within two years at $200,000. A well-known lawyer, who buys a lot of real estate, is the purchaser. It is not known whether it is in connection with a large bank at The Mail corner or whether it is an independent proposition.

Toronto yesterday refused to break thru the hidebound Conservatism, with which she has clothed herself from infancy, and elected every candidate of the Whitney government to the legislature.

The election was remarkable only for one thing—its lack of interest, its apathy. Not one of the political organizers, who are in closer touch with conditions than anyone else, expected for one moment to get out a normal vote, because the indifference of the electorate was very marked from the beginning and until the close of the campaign. But when the dull, drizzling rain set in in the afternoon, to cap-sheaf the whole affair, it was known the vote would be extremely light.

Foy's election in North Toronto was the event which excited most of the interest last night. During the day the Liberal workers in the north and felt varying sensations of hope and doubt creeping up and down their spines, but after 5 o'clock, when the first returns began to come in, the feeling of doubt for a victory was much in the ascendant. The earliest returns gave the majorities to Hon. Mr. Foy, and this kept up till Mr. Oliver's chances became practically hopeless.

LONDON, Dec. 11.—(Can. Press).—David Lloyd George's national insurance bill passed its second reading in the house of lords to-day without division. Lord Lansdowne said that the choice lay between the bill with all its defects and two or three years' distracting controversy between the two houses and he had come to the conclusion that acceptance of the bill was the wiser course.
