

Hamilton Has Visit From Ida

LEAFS IN HAMILTON FAILED MISERABLY

The Fans Are the Best in the Country—Apologies to the Police.

By Ida L. Webster.

Well, the Toronto ball club may be able to wallop all the other clubs in the league when the said clubs are playing on their home bases, but it is not so much that they cannot turn the trick in Hamilton, Ontario. Yesterday was proof sufficient of that fact, and the leading Leafs are lucky that they got away with their uniforms, because for a few minutes it looked as the Donovans gang would rip them loose, but fortunately for the kid who attended to the scoreboard Justin Leifs here today, when they started trouble in the first inning and scored five runs, enough to make matters easy from then on, for, although the visitors got one in the eighth, at no time did they show any signs of being serious opposition.

The Hamiltons hammered Justin all over the lot in the opening frame, four hits, three of them for extra bases, along with two errors, resulting in five runs. After that Justin settled down and managed to keep the hits well scattered, and the he was in danger a couple of times after that, particularly in the fifth inning, when scarlet hits got Carroll and Page on, and Eckstein sacrificed them along. Garmah's long fly to Anderson resulted in a double-play, however, after a nice throw to the plate, and the Hams' chance to score another was nipped by the narrowest of margins.

It took but three pitched balls to get Justin in trouble. Ray landed on the first ball he pitched for three bases, and Carroll landed on the next, and "Lear" booted it. Page was the next up, and on the first ball pitched hit for two bases. Furler made a throw to the plate in the attempt to nail Eckstein, and Carroll scored. Barnhardt struck out, but Westey grounded to Justin, who cut Page off at the plate. Alchele bounced one off Justin's shin that went for a hit, and Hopper, with a mighty blow to deep centre, cleared the bases and landed safely on third. Shee struck out, making the entire Hamilton team to beat during the innings.

Justin was responsible for Toronto's lone tally. In the eighth, Mogan sent a hot one to Carroll, which the latter fumbled, and Wagner followed with a hit to right, which Barnhardt juggled long enough to allow Mogan to reach third. Calahan popped out to Page, and Lear grounded to Eckstein, Wagner being off on the second. Mogan scoring, Furler singled to right, sending Lear to third, but a spectacular one-hand catch by Barnhardt of Furler's long fly to left ended the only rally that the visitors had.

Justin got himself in a rather tight corner in the fourth inning, and again in the fifth, by walking two in a row, but he was managed to pull thru without any disastrous results. Furler was the batting hero of the day, with three hits in the pinch. Score: Toronto, 5; Hamilton, 0. 0 1 0 0 1 0—5 10 2 Philadelphia, 0 0 1 0 0 1 0—3 10 2 New York, 0 1 2 0 0 0 0—3 6 0 Batteries—Coveleski and O'Neill; Caldwell and Walters.

At Washington—Opportune hits, combined with Detroit's errors and Cunningham's wildness, enabled Washington to defeat Detroit, 5 to 2. Score: R. H. E. Washington, 5 0 0 2 0 4 0—5 3 3 Detroit, 2 0 0 0 0 0 0—2 10 3 Batteries—Cunningham and Richardson; Matterson, Ayers and Ainsmith.

At Boston—Jack Quinn held Boston to six hits, three of them coming in the first inning, when the home team scored two runs, and Chicago took the second game of the series, 5 to 2. It was the last game of the day, with three hits in the pinch. Score: R. H. E. Chicago, 5 0 0 0 0 2 0—5 10 1 Boston, 2 0 0 0 0 0 0—2 4 3 Batteries—Quinn and Schalk; Mays and Schang.
