A Shoe That Conforms to the Natural Lines of the Foot and Allows the Toes, Bones and Ligaments "Free Play"

A Shoe That One May Wear With Satisfaction and the best of foot comfort from the very first

This shoe is anatomically correct, made on natural lines, with no extra weight. The flexible outer sole is built close up to the arch. The inner sole is cut away, and ordinary lacing makes the shank hug the foot so that the shoe fits like a gleve and supports the foot.

After scientific study into cause and effect the Packard boot manufacturers produced the "Archup Shoe," which has proved a boon to people with foot troubles.

It's a boot with glazed kangaroo uppers and oak tanned soles. Sizes 7 to 11. Widths A to D. Price, $13.00.

Note the Features From Nature's Standpoint Marked 1, 2 and 3

1---Shows extension heel which gives extra support to this part of the foot.

2---Shows the height of the shank with the slope from the inside of the shank to the outside.

3---Shows the innersole cut away and lifted up to fit snugly into the arch of the foot.

Remove the Carbon With Live Steam

When live steam meets red-hot carbon the oxygen is freed from the hydrogen and attacks the carbon.

In other words, incandescent carbon decomposes steam into hydrogen and carbon monoxide.

That's the principle of Hart Bell Carbon Remover.

Attach it to your dash or under the hood, and use it occasionally at your convenience.

The moment you open its water valve, while your motor is running, your cylinders fill with live steam. Instantly the action described above takes place in your cylinders. In a very few minutes the carbon, in the form of carbon-monoxide gas, has disappeared through the exhaust. That's all. No trouble, No expense beyond the trifling first cost. Motor clean and running perfectly all the time.

PRICES: On the dash, $10.00. Under the hood, $9.00.

"As the official trade representative in Canada and Newfoundland of the Indian government, the senior comissioner at Montreal is also authorized to act in regard to disputes relative to shipments from India.

"The remuneration of experts ap-pointed by the commissioners is a matter for the parties to the dispute. No fee will be charged for his services. "Mr. F. W. Field, the British trade commissioner at Toronto, is empowered to act in disputes arising out of shipments to points in Ontario, and Mr. L. B. Beale, the British trade commissioner at Winnipeg, is empowered to act similarly with regard to shipments to points in western Can-ada."

Capt. J. Harris, who represents Brit-ish firms in shoe polishes, declared there were some 300 more men in Toronto eligible for membership, and suggested that each trade section canass its representatives and get them to become members of the association. They were all out to get fresh agencies not fresh agents.

It was decided to begin today and finish in one month's time a campaign for new members, as suggested by

The executive council of the association is composed as follows: John Wilson, president, textiles; G. A. Marshall, vice-president, steel; C. W. Beal, pottery; John Harris, shoe polishes; James Haywood, groceries; H. V. Andrews, wools; E. V. Pannell, aluminum; Arthur C. King, secretary. The executive council of the associ-
